$10,000 Loss Estimated In Westfield Fire

Blaze In Remodeled House Leaves 5 Without Home

The blaze razed the two-story frame of the Everett Eastham family, with a loss estimated by firemen at $10,000.

A Glenmoor firemen was injured fighting the flames that broke out at 2:30 in the basement while the couple and their three sons were away.

The home had been remodeled this summer for $4,000 with new siding, new roofing and a new furnace. The family lost all its possessions except the clothing they wore.

The fire started in the basement ceiling near the new oil furnace and raced quickly out of control. The home was enveloped in flames by the time a neighbor spotted smoke and notified Glenmoor firemen.

Eastham was at work at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland, an 8 - year - old son, Ernie, was in school, and the mother, Esther, and two other sons, Eddie, 7, and Bobby, 21, were visiting nearby when the fire broke out.

Chief Robert Jones of Glenmoor said the cause has not been determined, but an investigation will begin tonight to pinpoint the origin of the flames.

Thirty-five firemen from Glenmoor, and others from the LaCroft volunteer fire department in Liverpool Township West, were at the scene. A shortage of water hampered their efforts to contain the flames.

Griffen was treated at City Hospital at 4:50 for the cuts, apparently received on a window or

Abducted Girl, 8, Returned Home Safely

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP)—A girl, kidnaped by a motorist late Tuesday afternoon, was returned to her home this morning, apparently unharmed.

Marjorie Schubert, 8, was let out of the car a few blocks from her home and started walking. Friends saw her and picked her up.

Her mother, Mrs. John Schubert, said Marjorie was frightened and hungry but said she was unhurt.

Police, who had searched through the night, headed for the Schubert home to talk to Marjorie in the hope of finding her abductor.

Clay Miners' Strike Parley Proves Futile

No progress was reported in negotiations Tuesday between the H. K. Porter Co. and representatives of the United Brick and Clayworkers Union on the 30-day-old strike by miners at the Pleasant Valley clay mine on Route 45 near Wellsville.

The session had been called by G. W. Woomer, federal conciliator from the Pittsburgh office of the Federal Mediation Board, who said another session would not be held for at least two weeks unless either side desires to call a meeting.

Meanwhile, progress toward an agreement was reported in negotiations held last night between H. K. Porter and Local 428, also of the United Brick and Clayworkers, which is serving the clerks and laboratory and draftsmen employes.

Crew Returns Signal To W. 8th, Lisbon Sts.

A city crew started work this morning on re-installation of a traffic signal on W. 8th St. at the foot of Lisbon St.

The light was removed approximately two months ago when the foot of Lisbon St. was closed because of the freeway construction work, resulting in a detour via former Chestnut St. and W. 9th St.

Traffic returned to normal about two weeks ago. The city installed two utility poles to support the guy wires. Lights formerly used at the intersection will be installed again, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said.

Southwest's Digging Out Of Big Snow

El Paso Describes It Worst In 30 Years; 6 Claimed

By The Associated Press

Parts of the Southwest began digging out of its first big snowstorm of the season today. It was labeled as the worst in 30 years at El Paso, Tex.

The storm was responsible for the death of one man in New Mexico and five in Texas.

Air and auto travel were disrupted, schools were closed, several small towns were isolated and deer hunters were stranded by the storm, which dumped as much as 30 inches of snow in some places.

Airports were closed at Santa Fe and Clovis, N.M., stranding a number of travelers.

Eastern New Mexico and west Texas were the hardest hit areas. Thirty inches fell at Ruidoso in southeastern New Mexico. A drizzling rain which turned to ice covered most of the west Texas plains.

El Paso schools and Texas Western College were closed after the city was hit by seven inches of snow which piled up in drifts four and five feet deep. At least eight New Mexico school systems —Corona, Carrizozo, Capitan, Hondo, Ruidoso, Elida, Causey and Truth or Consequences — also closed.

New Mexico state police closed two roads Tuesday night, isolating Carrizozo. They reopened one which permitted travel into Truth or Consequences, isolated Tuesday.

Appears In As President

Macapagal Piles Up Lead In Philippines' Election

MANILA (AP)—Vice President Diosdado Macapagal piled up an apparently insurmountable lead today in the Philippine presidential election and exultantly proclaimed, "We made it!"

With more than 60 per cent of the estimated seven million votes counted, unofficial returns gave Macapagal 2,695,110 to 2,031,667 for President Carlos P. Garcia.

Macapagal told newsmen, "The lead is such that any attempt to alter the results will fail." But he said that he would not issue a victory statement until Garcia concedes "in accordance with the usual practice."

Garcia, studying returns at his home on Bohol Island in the south central Philippines, sent word he was not conceding yet. But it seemed all but impossible for him to overtake Macapagal's lead.

Macapagal needed to take only about 800,000 more votes to win a majority and his lead was still widening.

With about 32,000 of the country's 41,000 precincts reported, Macapagal had 57 per cent of the votes to Garcia's 43 per cent.

The president's strongholds in the southern islands were generally giving him majorities but not nearly heavy enough to stem the Macapagal tide, which had been rising steadily since the first returns.

South Korea Aid Pledged By Kennedy

President Promises Help Including Troops In Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — South Korea's Gen. Chung Hee Park has President Kennedy's promise of U.S. aid "including the use of armed forces if there is a renewal of armed attack."

Kennedy assured Park that the United States would continue to extend all possible economic aid and cooperation for the further development of the nation for which U.S. troops fought a decade ago.

The pledge was also official approval for Park's military regime, which overthrew the U.S.-supported government six months ago.

The approval came Tuesday in a joint communique after Kennedy and Park held two meetings lasting about three hours.

The 44-year-old Korean leader was to confer today with three of Kennedy's Cabinet members — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

For the first time the President publicly declared "gratification at the many indications of progress" being made by Park's junta after it seized power last May 16 and ousted an elected government.

In addition, Kennedy pledged the U.S. government to "extend all possible economic aid and cooperation to the Republic of Korea in order to further long-range economic development."

Korean sources said that working groups of Korean and U.S. officials would consider detailed plans later.

Motorist, 33, Dies In Crash

Car Rams Disabled Truck Near Salem

SALEM — A 33-year-old landscape foreman was killed instantly Tuesday night when his car smashed into the rear of a disabled truck on Route 165 about four miles north.

Glenn Calvin of South Range Rd. in Mahoning County died from head injuries and a fractured spine when his car rammed the truck operated by Fred A. Marple, 27, of Salem R. D. 5.

A graduate of Greenford High School, Mr. Calvin was employed at the Terrace Gardens of Boardman. The Ohio Highway Patrol said flares had been placed behind and in front of the truck, which was stopped about a mile east of Route 62 in Mahoning County.

Mr. Calvin is survived by his widow, the former Marjorie Kyser of Washingtonville, and a son, Gregory Scott Calvin, 2, and his parents.

Reduced Draft Call Issued For December

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reduced draft call has been issued for December.

The Defense Department announced Tuesday that 16,000 men would be inducted for Army service next month. The total compares with 20,000 called in November, 20,000 in October and 25,000 in September.

The first half of next month's quota will report to induction stations by Dec. 8. The other half will report by Dec. 15.

Money Bills Introduced

Ohio Legislature Airs 2 Measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The two main problems facing Ohio's lawmakers were introduced Tuesday as the legislature reconvened. How they will be solved and how long it will take, however, is another question.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, introduced a $1,022,588,220 appropriation bill for the second year of the present biennium. The measure, however, is $715,803 less than the total vetoed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle near the close of the regular session of the General Assembly which ended Aug. 2.

At the same time, the Senate received a $39.7 million capital improvements bill which is not unfamiliar. The measure is essentially the same as the one the Republicans defeated late in the regular session and the Democrats crushed in a special session in September.

Hearings were started immediately

The House hopes to be able to exchange the bills with the Senate Thursday and some optimists see an end of the session by the end of the week.

More realistic observers, however, predict a more lengthy session.

If the capital improvements bill gets stuck in the Senate for lack of the needed 20 votes, the entire recessed session seems likely to collapse. In that event, it probably would be impossible to pass a general appropriations bill in the Senate, no matter what the House vote might be.

Although the appropriations measure is smaller than the vetoed version, Fisher said it provided an additional $700,000 for state universities.

When DiSalle put his unprecedented vetoes on all the second year appropriations last August, he contended the funds were inadequate. Republicans, however, said they trimmed the budget to fit anticipated revenues rather than boost taxes about $150 million.

DiSalle declined to say whether he would again veto the proposed appropriation. "I'm not going to say anything about it until the bill gets down here," he said.

Over in the Senate, Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas, said Democrats would push for additions to the bill but would not press for things that could not be financed.

DiSalle indicated he had virtually no hope of increased appropriations at this time. Noting that the measure was printed in advance, he said, "The decision was made by four or five people." He did not identify them.

Second Big California Brush Fire All But Out

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The second big brush fire in Southern California in a week is all but out.

Fire crews said only an occasional hot spot flares up in upper Kagel Canyon, where wind-whipped flames charred 2,365 acres and destroyed 10 structures.

The blaze was about 20 miles north of Los Angeles. Last week a fire in Bel-Air, Brentwood and Topanga Canyon areas destroyed 465 homes and blackened 14,000 acres.

Security Unit To Urge More Wheat To Tito

Declares, However, Marshal Didn't Help His Cause In Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Security Council likely will recommend that the United States continue selling surplus wheat to Communist Yugoslavia, informants said today.

But, they said, Marshal Tito didn't help his own case.

At Skoplje on Monday, he criticized what he called American "reactionaries and capitalists" and accused them of hindering the sale of wheat to his drought-ridden country for political purposes.

Tito's speech did not surprise Yugoslav specialists here. The Yugoslav president, they said, is not the man who could bear in silence the increased U.S. criticism of various U.S.-Yugoslav dealings, such as the sale to Belgrade of obsolete jets and atomic reactors.

President Kennedy has ordered a review of the U.S. aid program to Yugoslavia in the wake of the Belgrade conference of nonaligned countries last September.

Makes Plea In Cleveland

Labor Chief Asks Parents Keep Children In School

CLEVELAND (AP) — An all-out offensive to bring home to parents the importance of keeping their children in school was urged by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg here Tuesday.

He made the plea at a new conference prior to addressing a White House Regional Conference Tuesday night. He said it was a national disgrace that one out of every four youths was leaving school.

"We should bring home to parents, the children and everybody the need to stay in school," the secretary said.

"Children should be told their future opportunities are much less if they don't go to high school, if they don't go to junior college, and in plain job terms if they don't go to college."

Goldberg estimated that 7.5 million children would drop of school in the United States in the next 10 years.

The method of paying for health care of the aged was argued at the conference Tuesday afternoon.

Ivan A. Nestingen, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, favored linking such care to social security. Blue Cross and Cleveland Academy of Medicine critics argued for private health plans.

Arguing against paying for health care for the aged through social security, Dr. John D. Osmond Jr., president of the Academy of Medicine, said:

"That is not insurance. It is enforced compulsory taxation. It taxes those now working to pay for hospital, drug and nursing for the aged who are now retired."

Spectators Barred To Guard Clues

Officers Uncertain As To Victim's Age; May Be Teen-ager

The body of a woman, or possibly a teen-age girl, was found off the old Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. in the Beaver Creek vicinity early this afternoon.

There was no immediate identification.

Sheriff's deputies barred spectators from the scene, apparently in a move to preserve any clues in the vicinity, indicating the officers may suspect foul play.

A 18 - year - old East Liverpool girl was reported missing about 10 days ago, but whether there was any connection with the discovery of the body could not be ascertained.

The scene is an isolated section and deputies and other authorities parked their cruisers at the edge of the road and made their way by foot through the dense brush and brambles to the death scene.

The body was found along the right-of-way for an old coal mine operation leading off the old section of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., which was bypassed several years ago.

It leads for about three miles up Beaver Creek, terminating below what is known as Fisher's Point.

An East Liverpool funeral home was called to remove the body after the scene had been examined closely.

Leftist Leads Mutineers In Defying U.N.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga, the leftist heir of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, has emerged into open and forceful defiance of the United Nations and the central Congo government, diplomatic informants said today.

Gizenga, said the sources, is directing the mutiny of more than 2,000 Congolese troops against the central government authority in Kindu, the Kivu provincial town north of the secessionist province of Katanga.

Other mutineers were reported to have created serious disorders in the north Katanga city of Albertville.

A U.N. spokesman said it intends to put down lawlessness in the two towns by force if necessary.

Diplomatic sources said the leftwing politician set himself up in Kindu last Saturday, leaving his former stronghold at Stanleyville in Oriental Province to onetime allies who now adhere to the Leopoldville government.

Gizenga, who once accepted the post of vice premier in Premier Cyrille Adoula's central government here, made his defiance open and apparently final Tuesday when he forced two of his former allies, Gen. Victor Lundula and Christophe Gbenye, out of Kindu in fear of their lives.

Mutinous soldiers at Kindu refused to hand over 13 Italian airmen they had arrested and beaten Saturday.

Lundula and Gbenye had gone to Kindu to get the Italians freed.

"The situation continues to cause grave concern," the U.N. spokesman said.

'From the north Katanga town of Albertville, the United Nations reported about 100 Congolese troops entered the city and within seven hours Tuesday created an "impossible" situation.

Neither the U.N. nor diplomatic analysts was willing so far to assign a specific cause to the mutiny.

Officers Uncertain As To Victim's Age; May Be Teen-ager

The body of a woman, or possibly a teen-age girl, was found off the old Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. in the Beaver Creek vicinity early this afternoon.

There was no immediate identification.

Sheriff's deputies barred spectators from the scene, apparently in a move to preserve any clues in the vicinity, indicating the officers may suspect foul play.

A 18 - year - old East Liverpool girl was reported missing about 10 days ago, but whether there was any connection with the discovery of the body could not be ascertained.

The scene is an isolated section and deputies and other authorities parked their cruisers at the edge of the road and made their way by foot through the dense brush and brambles to the death scene.

The body was found along the right-of-way for an old coal mine operation leading off the old section of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., which was bypassed several years ago.

It leads for about three miles up Beaver Creek, terminating below what is known as Fisher's Point.

An East Liverpool funeral home was called to remove the body after the scene had been examined closely.

Leftist Leads Mutineers In Defying U.N.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga, the leftist heir of former Premier Patrice Lumumba, has emerged into open and forceful defiance of the United Nations and the central Congo government, diplomatic informants said today.

Gizenga, said the sources, is directing the mutiny of more than 2,000 Congolese troops against the central government authority in Kindu, the Kivu provincial town north of the secessionist province of Katanga.

Other mutineers were reported to have created serious disorders in the north Katanga city of Albertville.

A U.N. spokesman said it intends to put down lawlessness in the two towns by force if necessary.

Diplomatic sources said the leftwing politician set himself up in Kindu last Saturday, leaving his former stronghold at Stanleyville in Oriental Province to onetime allies who now adhere to the Leopoldville government.

Gizenga, who once accepted the post of vice premier in Premier Cyrille Adoula's central government here, made his defiance open and apparently final Tuesday when he forced two of his former allies, Gen. Victor Lundula and Christophe Gbenye, out of Kindu in fear of their lives.

Mutinous soldiers at Kindu refused to hand over 13 Italian airmen they had arrested and beaten Saturday.

Lundula and Gbenye had gone to Kindu to get the Italians freed.

"The situation continues to cause grave concern," the U.N. spokesman said.

'From the north Katanga town of Albertville, the United Nations reported about 100 Congolese troops entered the city and within seven hours Tuesday created an "impossible" situation.

Neither the U.N. nor diplomatic analysts was willing so far to assign a specific cause to the mutiny.

Man Hurts Legs In Fall Through Warehouse Roof

A 45-year-old Oakmont man, hurt in a fall through a warehouse roof, was admitted Tuesday afternoon to City Hospital where a greenhouse employe, burned at work, and a Chester boy injured on a towel rack were treated yesterday.

Norman L. Neal of Oakmont is in "fairly good" condition today with fractures of the legs and heels suffered in a 12-foot fall through the roof of the Pearl China Co. warehouse on Market St. yesterday about 3 p. m.

Neal and a companion were doing repair work on the roof, removing old tarpaper, when some rafters apparently gave way and he fell through. He underwent surgery last night.

Roy Sproull, 26, of 1916 Harvey Ave., employe of the Riverview Greenhouses, suffered first and second degree burns of the face and neck when flames from a boiler flared out as he tossed in papers with a paint can.

David Dugan, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dugan, 588 Virginia Ave., Chester, received a cut of the head on a towel rack.

It will be presented Thursday evening at Aliquippa High School, Friday evening at New Brighton High School and Saturday evening at the Quaker Valley Senior High School at Leetsdale. Performances begin at 8.

Leslie B. Roach, president of the society's Midland board, said the society will present "The Turk in Italy," Wednesday, Jan. 31, and "Pinafore," Tuesday, April 10, in the four cities.

Tickets are by subscription and interested persons may contact Mrs. Nicholas Gruber at MI. 3-3109.

Homing Pigeon Lost Since Last August

It carried an empty message pouch dated Aug. 6, 1961, but no other clue to its identity.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Do you have suggestions on teen-age skin and its blemishes?

A. Teen-agers with skin problems are smarter if they seek a doctor's advice and help. Most teen-agers will find that increased and more thorough soap and water cleansings, followed by a medicated soap of some kind, will control most of their problems. It is important to avoid irritating the skin and creating serious infections.

Q. How can I add more "body" to an organdy dress I am washing out?

A. If a tablespoonful of sugar is added to a gallon of water when rinsing the organdy dress, it will give it more body without making it too stiff.

Q. How can I prevent raisins from sticking and clogging in my meat chopper?

A. You can prevent this annoyance if you'll heat your chopper in boiling water before running your raisins through it.

Chamber Slates Open House For E. 5th St. Office

The Chamber of Commerce will hold "open house" next Wednesday afternoon from 1 to 5 to allow members to inspect its new suite of offices on the second floor of the Holloway Building on E. 5th St.

The arrangements were made Tuesday afternoon when the Board of Trustees held its first meeting in the new offices, which the Chamber occupied Nov. 1. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

The Chamber offices formerly were in the Weaver Building on W. 6th St. near Jackson St.

The board discussed a county-wide meeting on regional planning, scheduled Nov. 29 at the Beaver Local Public School. The session will be sponsored jointly by the Chamber and the County Agricultural Council.

Various committee reports were presented. Reports also were given by a delegation which represented the Chamber at the annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber Nov. 1-2 at Columbus. The delegates were Alvin T. Babb, president, Atty. Francis H. Lang, Paul Bloor and E. R. Chandler, secretary - manager.

Wellsville Group Maps Plans For Benefit Projects

Mrs. Jean Broderick, Mrs. Mary Carroll and Mrs. Louise Lawton introduced fund-raising projects at a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night in the Elks Lodge.

Mrs. Bette Jackson reported on a silent bake sale and said she will take orders for fruit cakes up to Dec. 1.

The club voted to omit its annual $1 gift exchange and instead will use the money to purchase gifts for the aged. The gifts will be distributed in Wellsville rest homes by Mrs. Marjorie Dysert and Mrs. Dorothy McCreary, president.

Mrs. Janet Carroll and Miss Grace Woodward were received as new members. Reports were heard from Mrs. Goldie Steele, secretary, and Mrs. Martha McCuen, treasurer, who also won the monthly prize.

Eighteen were present. Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, program chairman, displayed jewelry. A buffet luncheon was served. The tables were deocrated in a Thanksgiving theme. Mrs. Floreine Broderick was hostess.

The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 12. Hostesses will be Mrs. Helen Welch, Mrs. Evelyn Nightingale, Mrs. Jean Tipton, Mrs. Mary Carroll, Mrs. Louise Lawton and Mrs. Jean Broderick.

Appeal Of Midland Tax Being Held Today

An appeal, scheduled next week on Midland's $10-a-year occupation tax on resident and non-resident employes, was moved up to today in Superior Court at Pittsburgh.

Atty. R. Clifton Hood of Beaver Falls is representing the five non-residents opposing the tax, John Guernsey and Mike Feraci, both of Brighton Township, James C. Britton of West Mayfield, John G. Flasco of Ohio Township, and Gerald Houck of Beaver.

In June, Beaver County Judge Robert E. McCreary ruled that Act. 481, "the tax-anything law," gave the borough the right to impose such a tax on non-residents as well as residents of Midland employed in the borough.

Appeal Of Midland Tax Being Held Today

An appeal, scheduled next week on Midland's $10-a-year occupation tax on resident and non-resident employes, was moved up to today in Superior Court at Pittsburgh.

Atty. R. Clifton Hood of Beaver Falls is representing the five non-residents opposing the tax, John Guernsey and Mike Feraci, both of Brighton Township, James C. Britton of West Mayfield, John G. Flasco of Ohio Township, and Gerald Houck of Beaver.

In June, Beaver County Judge Robert E. McCreary ruled that Act. 481, "the tax-anything law," gave the borough the right to impose such a tax on non-residents as well as residents of Midland employed in the borough.

They Earn Their Martyrdom

When the murder of Patrice Lumumba was announced last Feb. 12 by the government of Kantanga Province in the Republic of Congo, no imagination was needed to see martyrdom coming for the former premier of the republic. He was a candidate for martyrdom.

His martyrdom has been spelled out by a United Nations investigative report that he was not killed by undisciplined tribesmen, as reported last February, but by Belgian mercenaries. It is further reported as probable that his death was witnessed by certain high officials of Kantanga Province.

This sums up what was alleged by the Soviet Union and the Communist bloc at the time — that Lumumba was disposed of because his energy as one of the first leaders to emerge in the Congo after its independence from Belgium on June 30, 1960, had run strongly in the direction of Moscow.

AS TO THE energy of the man there is no question. As to his alliance with the Communists there is the same vexing question that has been raised in every emergent nation in Africa: what proof exists? Perhaps it is enough to say that Lumumba appeared to have more energy than purpose and was taken in by people who used him for a more nefarious purpose than the evolution of Congolese independence.

That was the late Dag Hammarskjold's broad view. He mistrusted Lumumba.

Hammarskjold, himself, was to give his life in pursuit of a proper political settlement in the Congo — and it still has not been reached.

Communists will make much of the report that Lumumba was killed as an exercise in direct - action politics—also a Communist specialty — but they will be careful to overlook the one wholly objective fact about this mercurial Congolese.

In a time of chaos he ran far ahead of his time and his contemporaries. He outdistanced his contemporaries. He stole the show with the cooperation of an undisciplined press that reported chaos in the Congo as if it were reporting a proxy fight in American business, a Hollywood scandal, or a political contest in the United States.

Lumumba was the easy focus of attention because he talked best, moved most and got into the most trouble. He couldn't stand the attention; he made himself ridiculous and drove his contemporaries to distraction.

HIS DEATH could have been foretold under these circumstances. It was an anticlimax when it happened, and it is no surprise to learn it probably didn't happen spontaneously, as had been reported.

It will take human blood to build a Republic of Congo. Lumumba had spilled his share of it before his own life was claimed.

Those who wanted him to be a martyr are satisfied. Those who wanted him out of the way are satisfied, too.

That has been the way with most martyrs. They earn their martyrdom, whether it be by good works or bad ones.

Any Other Choice?

It should come as no surprise that the Columbiana County commissioners are considering resubmitting to the voters the operating levy and the County Home levy which were defeated at the Nov. 7 general election.

When the commissioners were elected, they were entrusted with the proper operation of various county functions which come under their jurisdiction. Adequate money is necessary to do this.

Without the levies, the commissioners have presented figures which show that curtailment probably will result. Unless unexpected fund relief appears, there seems little choice but to turn to the voters again.

We Can Be Patient

The National Aeronautics and Space Agency sounds as if it's trying to let us down easy with an announcement that it will take a miracle to get an American astronaut into space this year because a gas leak was found in the Mercury space capsule being readied for the trial run.

This run was to have carried a chimpanzee in an orbit 100 to 150 miles above the earth at a speed of 17,400 miles an hour. After three trips around the earth, the chimp would have been feathered into the South Atlantic by parachute and recovered. Provided all this were recorded on film and witnessed by enough people to give it authenticity, it would be a more spectacular accomplishment than the purported flight of the Russian Gagarin last April 12, or the Russian Titov on Aug. 6-7.

The reports of their flights shared a flaw that looms larger all the time. Though no one has any reason to doubt that the capsules in which they are said to have gone around the earth did exactly what Russia said the capsules did, many have reason to doubt that Gagarin or Titov were in the capsules.

No pictures have been made available. There were no witnesses to their departure or their return. There is no objective evidence anywhere that these men did what they were said to have done.

The only authenticated flights in space so far have been made by two Americans named Shepard and Grissom. A chimpanzee named Ham shares their experience, inasmuch as he was the first American with a personality who ever rose to an altitude of 150 miles, traveled at a speed of nearly 6,000 miles an hour and came back smiling (last Jan. 31).

NASA is doing better than it is willing to say it is. We can be patient until 1962 to lob a human being around the earth three times.

A Step Forward

Another step forward education - wise is represented by the Wellsville Board of Education's decision to purchase a "language laboratory" for use in the Latin and Spanish classes at the high school.

School systems can't afford to stand still in the complex educational programs of today. While the "Three R's" remain basic, worthwhile new methods of instruction should be added to the curriculum when possible.

It is only through such decisions that district schools can hope to keep step.

What About The Little Joes?

Some of the things about the de-Stalinization of Russia are hard to understand, some not so hard. It was right here in the United States that Hoover Dam once was unnamed, in a fit of Democratic pique, then later restored to a state of political grace.

But when these things happen in the United States, they are spotty and inconclusive. In Russia, where the political man-gods that the people are told to worship cannot afford a sense of humor, they are grimly and grittily thorough.

The Russians are ordered to change the names of cities and streets in cities. They can be made to shift corpses around to symbolize the falling of former heroes and the forthcoming elevation of new ones.

In one generation a Russian can be hung up by the thumbs for failing to join a personality cult, and in the next generation hung up for joining a personality cult. But one thing about the Russian shifting of man-gods is not being reported.

What about Russian babies? Do they name them after the personality-cult leaders of the moment, and if so what do they do later with all the little Georgis and Josephs? Call them little Nikitas?

In this country we think nothing of our holdover Grover Cleveland Smiths, Theodore Roosevelt Murphys, Woodrow Wilson Millers, Herbert Hoover Greens and Franklin D. Roosevelt Joneses. That's the way the ball bounces in politics, we chuckle, but we get the idea somehow that to be Joe Stalin Ivanofulich in Russia would be like carrying a tombstone on your back to your own grave.

Up And Over

Monday's report that three campaign divisions have exceeded their quotas must have been encouraging to drive leaders and should serve as a spur to the other divisions to push ahead in an effort to do likewise.

The last hurdle is always the most difficult one in a fund drive. We're sure there are six deserving agencies waiting anxiously to see if the divisions still due to submit final reports can get over the top as did the first three.

If you haven't yet contributed, you could help supply the push that possibly could mean the difference between total victory or another failure to achieve the goal.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

From pavement pounding to entertainment world riches and from "Officer do your duty" to "Oh, wonder-boy, please let me have your autograph" is an Olympic jump, but a New York cop has made it.

Here is a case where a cop heard a call "I want a policeman," asked "Who's calling?" and got the answer, "Hollywood and the Persian Room at the Plaza." The cop is Saverio Sarid who got take home pay of $95 a week helping suppress crime. He gets five weeks at the Plaza at $1,000 per week. And Warner Brothers corporation has signed him as a Mario Lanza with a badge.

In a period when policemen get hit by bricks, flower pots, broken bottles and beer cans tossed from rooftops, he will have to dodge nothing but applause, money and income tax errors. From now on all hurry calls for him may come from producers, night-club managers, agents and recording companies.

Sarid spent four years on the force but knew he had an unusual voice and plugged away at vocal lessons after hours. His beat took in the Hotel Plaza. As he trudged past it on cold nights he would have locked up as a madman anybody who predicted "Some day you will be paid $1,000 a week here for singing inside in the warmth instead of walking outside in the cold."

People now ask him "How could you spend four years on the police force with such a voice unrecognized?" He can reply, "Did you ever try to get a desk sergeant to audition you?"

"Across town" said the taxi fare —
(He had a week or two to spare);
A searching party's been sent out;
It's also lost, there's little doubt.

Of Mice And Men

Curran Hits Goldberg Tactics

By Victor Riesel

In Tokyo the other day Arthur Goldberg discovered he was the best known of Kennedy's Cabinet. No one has enjoyed the uncritical coverage Mr. Goldberg has, nor has any government official gone so long without being scorched by an unfriendly blast. That is, until today. Now for the first time, he has been attacked bitterly pungently and not by the National Association of Manufacturers, but by a union and its leaders.

Victor Riesel

Goldberg has been denounced by Big Joe Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, once part of the old CIO, which retained Goldberg the lawyer as general counsel.

Curran's language has grown smoother since the seafaring days when he was called "Fo'c'sle Joe." But not softer.

Curran, the first of the nation's labor leaders to score the labor secretary, said the Cabinet member should "hold off worrying about the opera until he has straightened out some of the anti-labor characters that are still hanging around his department."

FURTHERMORE. Curran coupled Bob Kennedy's Department of Justice with the Department of Labor and then charged them with having ethical standards "as low as those of any ambulance chasing lawyer."

But this was the lighter side of the attack by AFL-CIO Vice President Curran. He also flailed both departments with charges they used "police state methods and some of the characters we had to deal with would be a lot happier in a police state, make no mistake about that."

Here Curran and his union referred to government officials who had investigated his union as a result of charges brought late last year by the Labor Department against the union's election procedures.

On Oct. 3, 1960 the Labor Department under the Eisenhower administration accused the National Maritime Union (NMU) with failure to provide a secret ballot; illegal disqualification of candidates; electioneering at the polls; use of union funds to promote certain candidates and failure to provide equal treatment to candidates in the union newspaper, the "Pilot."

AFTER GOLDBERG replaced James Mitchell as labor secretary, the investigation continued. The probers went down into the old vaults of the Amalgamated Bank (owned by the men's clothing union) where the NMU ballots are kept.

These were carefully examined. And as Curran put it, "We gave their investigators every cooperation. We opened all records of our elections to them. Anybody in the union they wanted to question was available to them. We took them down into the vaults . . . where our old ballots are stored after they are counted by the Honest Ballot Association. . . . Every one of our officials was investigated right back into infancy. . . . These are police state methods. . . ."

Finally the government decided to drop the case after the union agreed that it will not prepare ballots by number and not permit electioneering at polling places.

Then the government said: "The Union and its executive officers acted at all times during the 1960 election in good faith and said election was not fraudulently conducted."

THE UNION conceded that the numbering of ballots made it possible to identify the voters. That ended the case but began what may become one of the biggest running stories of the next few years — affecting the relationship between Goldberg (and therefore the administration) and many union chiefs.

His Labor Department now has the vital statistical reports of some 52,000 unions in its files. These now are constantly checked out.

Goldberg has gone into court to void a score of union elections. At the moment he has before him appeals from rank and file members for action against unions as big as and including the million - member United Steelworkers of America.

Leaders of these unions feel as strongly about these moves as does Joe Curran. There is not doubt he voiced their sentiments when he said:

"The change of administration while this was going on did not make any noticeable change in the tactics or the standards. New Frontiers or Old Frontiers, government agencies don't admit mistakes easily — especially where unions are concerned.

"Labor has a right to expect better of this administration. . . . The kind of hounding that is being imposed on unions by both departments (Justice and Labor) goes far beyond even what the Landrum-Griffin law requires. It is time labor did something to stop it. . ."

What labor does will be the big story.

Letters To The Editor

Last week I had an unusual experience for me. For years I had to be on the job on Sundays pretty often, and for one reason and another I have not attended church much since a child.

Several times that I did go I thought the people acted cold and unfriendly, and the sermons seemed over my head. There was never much desire to return.

Sunday I chose a little church on the corner that I had not paid much attention to. Few were there, but the singing sounded as though the people meant every word and had something to be thankful for. Two little girls sang a duet. They were not professionals — but it sort of got you inside. An elderly man must have been their grandpa, the way he beamed, and when they missed a note he winked at them.

Several people greeted me with a warm welcome. One gave me a quarterly and told me which class I belonged to. No one seemed to notice that the sole of my shoe was kind of thin and my shirt collar worn.

There was a discussion in our class about memorizing scripture and about parents not showing much interest in the youth activities in the church. Someone told about the Russians gathering up the children in the other countries and sending them to Moscow and places in Russia where they are drilled on communism for a year or so. I have a niece who is 12 years old and it would ruin her if she were suddenly taken from her parents and put through an ordeal like that. But I guess those people can't keep them from taking the children.

I was moved by the prayer a young women gave. She thanked God for a lot of things we take for granted. Than she asked for help to love and understand one another. Than she asked for help to forgive those who do not believe in God and hurt others because of hearts set on wrong things in life.

The preacher mentioned that religion is something like polio shots. When the polio vaccine was scarce and hard to get, everyone was desperate to get it. When it was plentiful the government had to pass a law so the children would get them. He said religion is plentiful for all now, but someday the opportunity will be gone, like a door closed from the inside. Something else that he said made sense: You don't get much out of church if you only go three or four times a year.

I'll keep going now and see if it will grow on me—maybe it may someday even show on me like it does on those others.

I just never gave it much thought before, and did not realize the part the church has in the world.

GEORGE BRANDON

Both you and your partner in crime, columnist David Lawrence, are welcome to your swan song anent the recent election. The air has a familiar tune, too.

This selfsame weeping wail has been employed dozens of times by both major political parties, and no doubt will be heard again and again by our sons and our grandsons when you, David Lawrence and this writer will have gone to realms of rest beyond the stars—or will you travel in that direction?

It is the same old story in the same old way, but this time, either by the grace of God or the machinations of the devil, we won and you lost. This time we are exultant and you are sad. This time we occupy the palace; you are beyond the gates, pouring forth your maledictions at the tricks of Fate.

Businessmen Worry

By David Lawrence

Labor Friction Hurts Economy's Future

What do businessmen talk about when they get together nowadays? Mostly about the short-range future but lately a few of them have begun to have serious doubts about the long-range outlook for America.

David Lawrence

Some of them privately express fears that an autocratic exercise by government of the power to control wages and prices is inevitable — and businessmen dread this. If it happens for a prolonged period, they foresee the national growth impaired and a gradual deterioration of the whole system of free enterprise.

Everyone knows, of course, that the railroads are in trouble—due to mishandling by government regulatory bodies and a narrowing of their opportunities to compete with other forms of transportation. Now the steel industry is beginning to be worried lest it go the way of the railroads, with diminished earnings and an impairment of the competitive spirit as a consequence of excessive regulation by the government.

Current discussions cannot be oversimplified merely by referring to the Kennedy administration as "anti - business." Actually, there is a growing sympathy for the President and a fear that he may find himself helpless for the present to cure the real illness that afflicts the American economic system today —labor's unrestrained power to force prices upward. Perhaps the whole question can best be tackled only by an informed public opinion.

"Labor unions are here to stay," said the president of a large industrial company to this writer the other day, "and the sooner we in business accept that fact, the more progress we will make toward a solution of the real problem. That problem is the failure of many labor leaders to see beyond their own political fortunes inside a big union and their inability or unwillingness to deal with the issues in a statesmanlike way."

This is but another way of saying that many labor union leaders are not facing up to their responsibility in a long - range sense, and are doing the very things that will cause unemployment to grow and recessions to recur.

ONLY THIS WEEK a United Press International dispatch from Cleveland reports a development which has more significance as to what's coming in America next year — possibly another recession in the autumn of 1962 — than any other single economic factor. It reads as follows:

"The nation's steel producers, looking ahead to June 30, 1962, when labor contracts expire, already have begun stockpiling, 'Steel' magazine said today.

"Inventories will be about 20 million tons — more than a three months' supply — by the time the pacts expire. The buildup, which will about double present inventories, will be less than 1959."

The magazine said the buildup already is underway. It noted inventories were about 400,000 tons higher at the end of October than at the start of the month.

This is exactly what happened early in 1959 just before the 115-day steel strike that began on July 15 and ran until Nov. 7, when it was ended by a Taft-Hartley injunction. A convulsion of the whole economy — called a "recession" — followed and as yet there has not been a complete recovery.

Why is it that everybody waits until just a few days before a contract expires before trying to bring about a settlement? Why shouldn't the steel problem be tackled now, instead of next June?

One answer is that labor depends on a process of extortion. It waits until the danger of a strike is close at hand, and then holds the threat of a big financial loss above the heads of the companies.

THESE COMPANIES today are not owned by just a few men. They are the property of millions of stockholders, and, if the latter find they cannot get a fair return on their money, they will sell their stocks and promptly invest in something else, leaving many a company unable to obtain funds to put in the new plant and equipment that is necessary for higher efficiency of production. Yet this is the very program that could help these same companies to absorb the higher wage costs that come out of the periodic strikes or threats of strikes.

Meanwhile, Europeans have made more progress lately on the labor - management front than Americans have. Labor union leaders overseas sit down with management constantly — and not just when strikes are imminent. They study the issues and weigh them carefully, especially economic factors. There's a continuous exchange of views and a sense of responsibility to the public interest.

SOONER OR LATER, when the rank and file in American labor unions begin to realize what's at stake, they will insist on more responsible leadership. They will sidetrack the purely political, self-centered type of labor leader for the man of broad vision who can get along with management without surrendering any of the truly vital interests of the laboring man.

The recent milk strike in New York, which was costly, is being ascribed to the extreme measures advocated by rival politicians inside the union who put their own ambitions above the public welfare and the long-range interest of their own fellow members.

There's been a lot of lip service paid to what is often called the "common interest of labor and management." But neither political - minded government—dependent on labor union contributions during campaigns — nor an indifferent labor union membership has risen to the task of actually bringing about the cooperation so necessary between labor and management if America's system of voluntarism isn't to be replaced by a species of governmental coercion.

In the end, this could surely lead to a state controlled economy and to state owned industries, as in Communist Russia.

It's A Scandal

By Truman Twill

I'm glad Sylvia Porter, the syndicated lady writer with the extra oomph, has tied down the whistle on the teen-age marriage scandal. Maybe people will take Miss Porter seriously.

I never mentioned the matter because I figured no one would pay attention to me. Correction: I mentioned it twice, neither time for publication.

When our first-born son was showing signs of going off his rocker over the other sex when he was in high school and one other time when he was talking foolishness in college, I mentioned it.

I told him if he had any fuzzy notions about playing house I wanted to clear up a few things.

First, his mother and I were absolutely and adamantly opposed to the idea of his playing house until he knew which end of him was up and, second, we had no intention whatsoever of adding any more dependents, educational or otherwise, to our family. He would be on his own, period and paragraph.

He was informed if he did anything so nutsy as to get married, or as to let himself become involved to the point where marriage would be involuntary, he could kiss his chances at a first-class life goodbye.

He would face the prospect of grubbing out a scratch-as-scratch-can existence as an unskilled worker, with all the shine rubbed off romance before he was old enough to cast his first vote to boot.

He was told that not getting married until the logical time to get hooked up permanently was a personal demonstration of discipline and that kids who showed contempt for discipline were cutting off their noses to spite their faces.

Sylvia Porter pins this down with information from the Population Reference Bureau. Teen-age marriages are increasing. Most kids drop out of school after they blunder into premature marriages. They kiss off their chance to live first-class.

They scuttle with one headstrong, irresponsible act their right to collect a fair share of the civilization they live in. The way it has shaped up, civilization demands a price. No one gets anywhere with a strong back and a weak mind, not even in football. It takes education to learn know the score—and there's more to it than dollar signs.

Self-made men and diamonds in the rough have had their day in the United States. Guys and dolls who drop out of school because they can't wait to play house are dropping out of the running. That's the size of it.

HIS DEATH could have been foretold under these circumstances. It was an anticlimax when it happened, and it is no surprise to learn it probably didn't happen spontaneously, as had been reported.

It will take human blood to build a Republic of Congo. Lumumba had spilled his share of it before his own life was claimed.

Those who wanted him to be a martyr are satisfied. Those who wanted him out of the way are satisfied, too.

That has been the way with most martyrs. They earn their martyrdom, whether it be by good works or bad ones.

Any Other Choice?

It should come as no surprise that the Columbiana County commissioners are considering resubmitting to the voters the operating levy and the County Home levy which were defeated at the Nov. 7 general election.

When the commissioners were elected, they were entrusted with the proper operation of various county functions which come under their jurisdiction. Adequate money is necessary to do this.

Without the levies, the commissioners have presented figures which show that curtailment probably will result. Unless unexpected fund relief appears, there seems little choice but to turn to the voters again.

We Can Be Patient

The National Aeronautics and Space Agency sounds as if it's trying to let us down easy with an announcement that it will take a miracle to get an American astronaut into space this year because a gas leak was found in the Mercury space capsule being readied for the trial run.

This run was to have carried a chimpanzee in an orbit 100 to 150 miles above the earth at a speed of 17,400 miles an hour. After three trips around the earth, the chimp would have been feathered into the South Atlantic by parachute and recovered. Provided all this were recorded on film and witnessed by enough people to give it authenticity, it would be a more spectacular accomplishment than the purported flight of the Russian Gagarin last April 12, or the Russian Titov on Aug. 6-7.

The reports of their flights shared a flaw that looms larger all the time. Though no one has any reason to doubt that the capsules in which they are said to have gone around the earth did exactly what Russia said the capsules did, many have reason to doubt that Gagarin or Titov were in the capsules.

No pictures have been made available. There were no witnesses to their departure or their return. There is no objective evidence anywhere that these men did what they were said to have done.

The only authenticated flights in space so far have been made by two Americans named Shepard and Grissom. A chimpanzee named Ham shares their experience, inasmuch as he was the first American with a personality who ever rose to an altitude of 150 miles, traveled at a speed of nearly 6,000 miles an hour and came back smiling (last Jan. 31).

NASA is doing better than it is willing to say it is. We can be patient until 1962 to lob a human being around the earth three times.

A Step Forward

Another step forward education - wise is represented by the Wellsville Board of Education's decision to purchase a "language laboratory" for use in the Latin and Spanish classes at the high school.

School systems can't afford to stand still in the complex educational programs of today. While the "Three R's" remain basic, worthwhile new methods of instruction should be added to the curriculum when possible.

It is only through such decisions that district schools can hope to keep step.

What About The Little Joes?

Some of the things about the de-Stalinization of Russia are hard to understand, some not so hard. It was right here in the United States that Hoover Dam once was unnamed, in a fit of Democratic pique, then later restored to a state of political grace.

But when these things happen in the United States, they are spotty and inconclusive. In Russia, where the political man-gods that the people are told to worship cannot afford a sense of humor, they are grimly and grittily thorough.

The Russians are ordered to change the names of cities and streets in cities. They can be made to shift corpses around to symbolize the falling of former heroes and the forthcoming elevation of new ones.

In one generation a Russian can be hung up by the thumbs for failing to join a personality cult, and in the next generation hung up for joining a personality cult. But one thing about the Russian shifting of man-gods is not being reported.

What about Russian babies? Do they name them after the personality-cult leaders of the moment, and if so what do they do later with all the little Georgis and Josephs? Call them little Nikitas?

In this country we think nothing of our holdover Grover Cleveland Smiths, Theodore Roosevelt Murphys, Woodrow Wilson Millers, Herbert Hoover Greens and Franklin D. Roosevelt Joneses. That's the way the ball bounces in politics, we chuckle, but we get the idea somehow that to be Joe Stalin Ivanofulich in Russia would be like carrying a tombstone on your back to your own grave.

Up And Over

The Community Fund continues to move toward its goal of $77,600.

Monday's report that three campaign divisions have exceeded their quotas must have been encouraging to drive leaders and should serve as a spur to the other divisions to push ahead in an effort to do likewise.

The last hurdle is always the most difficult one in a fund drive. We're sure there are six deserving agencies waiting anxiously to see if the divisions still due to submit final reports can get over the top as did the first three.

If you haven't yet contributed, you could help supply the push that possibly could mean the difference between total victory or another failure to achieve the goal.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

From pavement pounding to entertainment world riches and from "Officer do your duty" to "Oh, wonder-boy, please let me have your autograph" is an Olympic jump, but a New York cop has made it.

Here is a case where a cop heard a call "I want a policeman," asked "Who's calling?" and got the answer, "Hollywood and the Persian Room at the Plaza." The cop is Saverio Sarid who got take home pay of $95 a week helping suppress crime. He gets five weeks at the Plaza at $1,000 per week. And Warner Brothers corporation has signed him as a Mario Lanza with a badge.

In a period when policemen get hit by bricks, flower pots, broken bottles and beer cans tossed from rooftops, he will have to dodge nothing but applause, money and income tax errors. From now on all hurry calls for him may come from producers, night-club managers, agents and recording companies.

Sarid spent four years on the force but knew he had an unusual voice and plugged away at vocal lessons after hours. His beat took in the Hotel Plaza. As he trudged past it on cold nights he would have locked up as a madman anybody who predicted "Some day you will be paid $1,000 a week here for singing inside in the warmth instead of walking outside in the cold."

People now ask him "How could you spend four years on the police force with such a voice unrecognized?" He can reply, "Did you ever try to get a desk sergeant to audition you?"

"Across town" said the taxi fare —
(He had a week or two to spare);
A searching party's been sent out;
It's also lost, there's little doubt.

Of Mice And Men

Curran Hits Goldberg Tactics

By Victor Riesel

In Tokyo the other day Arthur Goldberg discovered he was the best known of Kennedy's Cabinet. No one has enjoyed the uncritical coverage Mr. Goldberg has, nor has any government official gone so long without being scorched by an unfriendly blast. That is, until today. Now for the first time, he has been attacked bitterly pungently and not by the National Association of Manufacturers, but by a union and its leaders.

Victor Riesel

Goldberg has been denounced by Big Joe Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, once part of the old CIO, which retained Goldberg the lawyer as general counsel.

Curran's language has grown smoother since the seafaring days when he was called "Fo'c'sle Joe." But not softer.

Curran, the first of the nation's labor leaders to score the labor secretary, said the Cabinet member should "hold off worrying about the opera until he has straightened out some of the anti-labor characters that are still hanging around his department."

FURTHERMORE, Curran coupled Bob Kennedy's Department of Justice with the Department of Labor and then charged them with having ethical standards "as low as those of any ambulance chasing lawyer."

But this was the lighter side of the attack by AFL-CIO Vice President Curran. He also flailed both departments with charges they used "police state methods and some of the characters we had to deal with would be a lot happier in a police state, make no mistake about that."

Here Curran and his union referred to government officials who had investigated his union as a result of charges brought late last year by the Labor Department against the union's election procedures.

On Oct. 3, 1960 the Labor Department under the Eisenhower administration accused the National Maritime Union (NMU) with failure to provide a secret ballot; illegal disqualification of candidates; electioneering at the polls; use of union funds to promote certain candidates and failure to provide equal treatment to candidates in the union newspaper, the "Pilot."

AFTER GOLDBERG replaced James Mitchell as labor secretary, the investigation continued. The probers went down into the old vaults of the Amalgamated Bank (owned by the men's clothing union) where the NMU ballots are kept.

These were carefully examined. And as Curran put it, "We gave their investigators every cooperation. We opened all records of our elections to them. Anybody in the union they wanted to question was available to them. We took them down into the vaults . . . where our old ballots are stored after they are counted by the Honest Ballot Association. . . . Every one of our officials was investigated right back into infancy. . . . These are police state methods. . . ."

Finally the government decided to drop the case after the union agreed that it will not prepare ballots by number and not permit electioneering at polling places.

Then the government said: "The Union and its executive officers acted at all times during the 1960 election in good faith and said election was not fraudulently conducted."

THE UNION conceded that the numbering of ballots made it possible to identify the voters. That ended the case but began what may become one of the biggest running stories of the next few years — affecting the relationship between Goldberg (and therefore the administration) and many union chiefs.

His Labor Department now has the vital statistical reports of some 52,000 unions in its files. These now are constantly checked out.

Goldberg has gone into court to void a score of union elections. At the moment he has before him appeals from rank and file members for action against unions as big as and including the million - member United Steelworkers of America.

Leaders of these unions feel as strongly about these moves as does Joe Curran. There is not doubt he voiced their sentiments when he said:

"The change of administration while this was going on did not make any noticeable change in the tactics or the standards. New Frontiers or Old Frontiers, government agencies don't admit mistakes easily — especially where unions are concerned.

"Labor has a right to expect better of this administration. . . . The kind of hounding that is being imposed on unions by both departments (Justice and Labor) goes far beyond even what the Landrum-Griffin law requires. It is time labor did something to stop it. . ."

What labor does will be the big story.

Letters To The Editor

Last week I had an unusual experience for me. For years I had to be on the job on Sundays pretty often, and for one reason and another I have not attended church much since a child.

Several times that I did go I thought the people acted cold and unfriendly, and the sermons seemed over my head. There was never much desire to return.

Sunday I chose a little church on the corner that I had not paid much attention to. Few were there, but the singing sounded as though the people meant every word and had something to be thankful for. Two little girls sang a duet. They were not professionals — but it sort of got you inside. An elderly man must have been their grandpa, the way he beamed, and when they missed a note he winked at them.

Several people greeted me with a warm welcome. One gave me a quarterly and told me which class I belonged to. No one seemed to notice that the sole of my shoe was kind of thin and my shirt collar worn.

There was a discussion in our class about memorizing scripture and about parents not showing much interest in the youth activities in the church. Someone told about the Russians gathering up the children in the other countries and sending them to Moscow and places in Russia where they are drilled on communism for a year or so. I have a niece who is 12 years old and it would ruin her if she were suddenly taken from her parents and put through an ordeal like that. But I guess those people can't keep them from taking the children.

I was moved by the prayer a young women gave. She thanked God for a lot of things we take for granted. Than she asked for help to love and understand one another. Than she asked for help to forgive those who do not believe in God and hurt others because of hearts set on wrong things in life.

The preacher mentioned that religion is something like polio shots. When the polio vaccine was scarce and hard to get, everyone was desperate to get it. When it was plentiful the government had to pass a law so the children would get them. He said religion is plentiful for all now, but someday the opportunity will be gone, like a door closed from the inside. Something else that he said made sense: You don't get much out of church if you only go three or four times a year.

I'll keep going now and see if it will grow on me—maybe it may someday even show on me like it does on those others.

I just never gave it much thought before, and did not realize the part the church has in the world.

GEORGE BRANDON

Both you and your partner in crime, columnist David Lawrence, are welcome to your swan song anent the recent election. The air has a familiar tune, too.

This selfsame weeping wail has been employed dozens of times by both major political parties, and no doubt will be heard again and again by our sons and our grandsons when you, David Lawrence and this writer will have gone to realms of rest beyond the stars—or will you travel in that direction?

It is the same old story in the same old way, but this time, either by the grace of God or the machinations of the devil, we won and you lost. This time we are exultant and you are sad. This time we occupy the palace; you are beyond the gates, pouring forth your maledictions at the tricks of Fate.

Businessmen Worry

By David Lawrence

Labor Friction Hurts Economy's Future

What do businessmen talk about when they get together nowadays? Mostly about the short-range future but lately a few of them have begun to have serious doubts about the long-range outlook for America.

David Lawrence

Some of them privately express fears that an autocratic exercise by government of the power to control wages and prices is inevitable — and businessmen dread this. If it happens for a prolonged period, they foresee the national growth impaired and a gradual deterioration of the whole system of free enterprise.

Everyone knows, of course, that the railroads are in trouble—due to mishandling by government regulatory bodies and a narrowing of their opportunities to compete with other forms of transportation. Now the steel industry is beginning to be worried lest it go the way of the railroads, with diminished earnings and an impairment of the competitive spirit as a consequence of excessive regulation by the government.

Current discussions cannot be oversimplified merely by referring to the Kennedy administration as "anti - business." Actually, there is a growing sympathy for the President and a fear that he may find himself helpless for the present to cure the real illness that afflicts the American economic system today —labor's unrestrained power to force prices upward. Perhaps the whole question can best be tackled only by an informed public opinion.

"Labor unions are here to stay," said the president of a large industrial company to this writer the other day, "and the sooner we in business accept that fact, the more progress we will make toward a solution of the real problem. That problem is the failure of many labor leaders to see beyond their own political fortunes inside a big union and their inability or unwillingness to deal with the issues in a statesmanlike way."

This is but another way of saying that many labor union leaders are not facing up to their responsibility in a long - range sense, and are doing the very things that will cause unemployment to grow and recessions to recur.

ONLY THIS WEEK a United Press International dispatch from Cleveland reports a development which has more significance as to what's coming in America next year — possibly another recession in the autumn of 1962 — than any other single economic factor. It reads as follows:

"The nation's steel producers, looking ahead to June 30, 1962, when labor contracts expire, already have begun stockpiling, 'Steel' magazine said today.

"Inventories will be about 20 million tons — more than a three months' supply — by the time the pacts expire. The buildup, which will about double present inventories, will be less than 1959."

The magazine said the buildup already is underway. It noted inventories were about 400,000 tons higher at the end of October than at the start of the month.

This is exactly what happened early in 1959 just before the 115-day steel strike that began on July 15 and ran until Nov. 7, when it was ended by a Taft-Hartley injunction. A convulsion of the whole economy — called a "recession" — followed and as yet there has not been a complete recovery.

Why is it that everybody waits until just a few days before a contract expires before trying to bring about a settlement? Why shouldn't the steel problem be tackled now, instead of next June?

One answer is that labor depends on a process of extortion. It waits until the danger of a strike is close at hand, and then holds the threat of a big financial loss above the heads of the companies.

THESE COMPANIES today are not owned by just a few men. They are the property of millions of stockholders, and, if the latter find they cannot get a fair return on their money, they will sell their stocks and promptly invest in something else, leaving many a company unable to obtain funds to put in the new plant and equipment that is necessary for higher efficiency of production. Yet this is the very program that could help these same companies to absorb the higher wage costs that come out of the periodic strikes or threats of strikes.

Meanwhile, Europeans have made more progress lately on the labor - management front than Americans have. Labor union leaders overseas sit down with management constantly — and not just when strikes are imminent. They study the issues and weigh them carefully, especially economic factors. There's a continuous exchange of views and a sense of responsibility to the public interest.

SOONER OR LATER, when the rank and file in American labor unions begin to realize what's at stake, they will insist on more responsible leadership. They will sidetrack the purely political, self-centered type of labor leader for the man of broad vision who can get along with management without surrendering any of the truly vital interests of the laboring man.

The recent milk strike in New York, which was costly, is being ascribed to the extreme measures advocated by rival politicians inside the union who put their own ambitions above the public welfare and the long-range interest of their own fellow members.

There's been a lot of lip service paid to what is often called the "common interest of labor and management." But neither political - minded government—dependent on labor union contributions during campaigns — nor an indifferent labor union membership has risen to the task of actually bringing about the cooperation so necessary between labor and management if America's system of voluntarism isn't to be replaced by a species of governmental coercion.

In the end, this could surely lead to a state controlled economy and to state owned industries, as in Communist Russia.

It's A Scandal

By Truman Twill

I'm glad Sylvia Porter, the syndicated lady writer with the extra oomph, has tied down the whistle on the teen-age marriage scandal. Maybe people will take Miss Porter seriously.

I never mentioned the matter because I figured no one would pay attention to me. Correction: I mentioned it twice, neither time for publication.

When our first-born son was showing signs of going off his rocker over the other sex when he was in high school and one other time when he was talking foolishness in college, I mentioned it.

I told him if he had any fuzzy notions about playing house I wanted to clear up a few things.

First, his mother and I were absolutely and adamantly opposed to the idea of his playing house until he knew which end of him was up and, second, we had no intention whatsoever of adding any more dependents, educational or otherwise, to our family. He would be on his own, period and paragraph.

He was informed if he did anything so nutsy as to get married, or as to let himself become involved to the point where marriage would be involuntary, he could kiss his chances at a first-class life goodbye.

He would face the prospect of grubbing out a scratch-as-scratch-can existence as an unskilled worker, with all the shine rubbed off romance before he was old enough to cast his first vote to boot.

He was told that not getting married until the logical time to get hooked up permanently was a personal demonstration of discipline and that kids who showed contempt for discipline were cutting off their noses to spite their faces.

Sylvia Porter pins this down with information from the Population Reference Bureau. Teen-age marriages are increasing. Most kids drop out of school after they blunder into premature marriages. They kiss off their chance to live first-class.

They scuttle with one headstrong, irresponsible act their right to collect a fair share of the civilization they live in. The way it has shaped up, civilization demands a price. No one gets anywhere with a strong back and a weak mind, not even in football. It takes education to learn know the score—and there's more to it than dollar signs.

Self-made men and diamonds in the rough have had their day in the United States. Guys and dolls who drop out of school because they can't wait to play house are dropping out of the running. That's the size of it.

U.N. Vote Nears As Indonesia War Hysteria Mounts

JAKARTA (AP)—War hysteria is mounting in Indonesia as the United Nations approaches a vote on a Dutch proposal to give West New Guinea self-determination.

Led by President Sukarno, who declared that Indonesia would get West New Guinea with or without the approval of the United Nations, top government leaders have called on the people to prepare for war.

The Dutch, which retained the western half of the big island after Indonesia won independence, contend that its mostly primitive Papuan population is ethnically separate from the Indonesians and entitled to determine its own future. The Dutch want the United Nations to administer the territory until the people are ready for a plebiscite.

Australia governs the eastern half of New Guinea. So far the Indonesians have made no claim to it.

Ohio Launches Third 'Drive For A Safe Holiday'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The third annual "Drive for a Safe Holiday" campaign is under way, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported today.

The department said automobile and auto parts dealers throughout the nation are participating in the effort to help reduce traffic accidents during the forthcoming holiday season. They're writing customers and employes tips like these:

Plan a safe drive, allowing plenty of time and making frequent rest stops.

Use seat belts.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

He was born in Georgetown June 1, 1889, to Frank Dawson and Viola Smith Dawson. He retired several years ago. He was a member of the South Side Sportsmen's Club.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Dawson at home; two daughters, Mrs. Rose Byers of Danville, Ohio, and Mrs. Nellie Sowers of Donora; three sons, William Dawson of Louisville, Ohio, Paul Dawson of East Liverpool and Harry Dawson of New Brighton; two brothers, Fred Dawson of Georgetown and Frank Dawson of Vanport, and 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home in Hookstown by James K. Smith, student pastor of the Hookstown and Mill Creek United Presbyterian Churches. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery near Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight and Thursday from 2 to 4 and 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Rites Set For Soldier Killed In Germany

Funeral services for Sgt. Major Wyatt, husband of Mrs. Betty Ann Wyatt, 311 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in Wellsville by the Rev. William B. Carson.

Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery in Wellsville, where members of the VFW Post 9285 will conduct military services.

Sgt. Wyatt was killed Nov. 5 in an auto accident in Germany, where he was stationed with the Army.

Friends may call at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville Thursday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Jane R. Neal

Mrs. Jane R. Neal, 316 Jefferson St., widow of William R. Neal, died Monday at 11:30 a. m. at her home after a brief illness. She was 86.

Mrs. Neal was born in East Liverpool to John R. Davidson and Zillah McKinnon Davidson. She was a member of the Calvary Methodist Church.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. William Tallman of Kent; a son, Harold S. Neal of Los Angeles, and a granddaughter and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. Carl Beighley. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

U.N. Vote Nears As Indonesia War Hysteria Mounts

JAKARTA (AP)—War hysteria is mounting in Indonesia as the United Nations approaches a vote on a Dutch proposal to give West New Guinea self-determination.

Led by President Sukarno, who declared that Indonesia would get West New Guinea with or without the approval of the United Nations, top government leaders have called on the people to prepare for war.

The Dutch, which retained the western half of the big island after Indonesia won independence, contend that its mostly primitive Papuan population is ethnically separate from the Indonesians and entitled to determine its own future. The Dutch want the United Nations to administer the territory until the people are ready for a plebiscite.

Australia governs the eastern half of New Guinea. So far the Indonesians have made no claim to it.

Canned peaches and apricots, cooked prunes and dried apricots, may be given a spicy sugar-and-vinegar marinade. This 'pickled" fruit is delicious with ham, smoked tongue, turkey or chicken.

Ohio Launches Third 'Drive For A Safe Holiday'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The third annual "Drive for a Safe Holiday" campaign is under way, the Ohio Department of Highway Safety reported today.

The department said automobile and auto parts dealers throughout the nation are participating in the effort to help reduce traffic accidents during the forthcoming holiday season. They're writing customers and employes tips like these:

Plan a safe drive, allowing plenty of time and making frequent rest stops.

Be alert to holiday hazards, watching road, weather and traffic conditions and remembering the dangers of drinking and excessive speed.

Use seat belts.

Soldier On Furlough

SALINEVILLE — Pvt. Tom Wilson, husband of Mrs. Rosalie Wilson of High St., is spending a furlough at home, following completion of basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He will report for duty to Ft. Houston in Texas.

Quake Jars California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fairly heavy earthquake rolled through Southern California Tuesday night jolting a number of cities. There were no reports of damage.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Civil War Roundtable Guest Speaks On Generals' Abilities

The ability of generals can not be adjudged by their successes, Dr. Jay Luvaas of Allegheny College told the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night.

Speaking about the Civil War as a stage in the evolution of military science, he pointed out the conflict was the first to utilize the resources of the industrial revolution, the first waged by democratic states and showed noteworthy departures from customary military tactics.

He said that many famous generals of the Civil War failed to take advantage of the new concepts developed. Gen. Robert Lee, he pointed out, did not order the entrenchments at Fredericksburg —it was Gen. James Longstreet and one of his commanders.

Gen. J.E.B. Stuart, famous dashing cavalry leader, continued his wild, mounted horse charges long after Gen. Bedford Forrest and Gen. John Morgan proved the value of dismounted fighting, Dr. Luvaas said.

He discussed the effectiveness of the general staff organization of the Prussia armies, and said both armies failed to utilize efficient staff work. Gen. George McClellan, noted Union army organizer, rejected the general staff plan, and Gen. Lee was troubled by lack of co-ordination after the death of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, who had an instinctive ability in meeting such needs.

About 38 attended the meeting at the annex of the Potters Savings & Loan Co.

County Draft Board Sends 41 For Exams

LISBON — Columbiana County Draft Board 16 sent 41 men for pre-induction physicals today and Tuesday.

Eight left late Tuesday and 33 went by bus this morning, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of the board.

The county's estimated draft call for December is 20, with 49 more going for physicals. No dates for induction or physicals for December have been received.

Educator Says Future Teachers Must Be Superior

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Tomorrow's teacher must be a truly superior person with a solid foundation of knowledge and intellectual toughness, a Nebraska educator said today.

"The future calls for more and better teachers and the challenge lies squarely on our doorstep," Dean W. K. Beggs of the University of Nebraska told the American Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities.

The time is long overdue, he said, to "throw out the assortment of course patterns we are now using and start afresh" in teacher education.

"Obviously, we must start with superior material," Beggs said in a prepared address. "The professional training will be built upon a solid foundation of knowledge and intellectual toughness."

The problem of teacher education, Beggs said, is compounded by three cultural eruptions: the population explosion, the skyrocketing volume of knowledge and the freedom explosion in the emerging nations.

When you want a Chinese-type sauce to serve along with hot mustard as an accompaniment for egg roll, mix chutney and plum preserves, with a suspicion of vinegar and sugar. Dice any large pieces of fruit in the chutney and use those as well as some of the chutney sauce.

Chicken pieces that have been marinated should be lifted out of the marinade and patted dry before they are browned in butter or oil (or a mixture of the two) in a skillet.

But Few Expect Boom

Most Signs Indicate Good Business Next 6 Weeks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Both business and consumers feel better today as 1961 goes into the home stretch. The last half of this fourth quarter could see a switch from hesitation to a forward movement.

Few expect anything like a boom—in spite of all the outburst of confidence in the stock market. But most signs point to good business in the last six weeks of the year.

Auto dealers report a pickup in sales and hope for even better as production snarls disappear. Most of the auto industry has its labor problems behind it. That usually optimistic industry is back to talking in big numbers again.

Oilmen report better demand for their products than a few weeks back. The gain over a year ago is running better than 5 per cent.

Industrial output is expected to rise. The September bobble will then be charged off to auto strikes and hurricane damage.

Increased production should mean more jobs or longer work weeks or both. The latest employment figures put them at a record for the time of the year. Unemployment totals stay sticky—and in some doubt. Critics of the government's method of estimating the number of jobless think the figure is too high. Some labor leaders have replied that the figures don't take in all those that are out of work or can find only part time jobs.

But merchants in the areas where employment is high and where personal incomes have been rising are counting heavily on a reported change in consumer attitudes helping sales.

They contend that not only are retail sales themselves up, but the rate of saving appears to be dropping after a rise during the worrisome months of the recession and during the uncertain period of the recovery.

Government figures estimating that farm income this year will be a billion dollars higher than last year also hearten both the merchants serving them and the makers of farm equipment and supplies.

Many other manufacturers are looking for increased government spending to jack up their sales in the weeks and months ahead. The news from Washington continues to forecast more spending, if anything, than first projected.

Business itself has been increasing its spending. This shows in the higher inventory totals. Uusually this reflects a rise in confidence along with hard orders requiring more materials.

Strike

representative, represented Local 427, the claymines, along with other officers in yesterday's session at the Travelers Hotel. The negotiations started at 11 a. m. and ended at 2:30 p. m.

Bauer said the union cut its demands but the company refused to consider them. He said there was absolutely no progress.

The main issue hinges on wages and some working conditions.

James Gatehouse, international representative and a clayworkers vice president, sat in on the session for the clerks and other office workers at Wellsville. He said they are making progress toward an agreement and that another meeting will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Wellsville.

Both locals are new. The mineworkers joined the union after the mine was opened. The strike at the mine forced the closing of one brick plant and curtailed operations at another.

Post Left Vacant In Band Parents

His resignation is effective at the next meeting, Dec. 11, when a successor will be elected. Ferrall was elected to the Board of Education last week.

In other business, the group voted to purchase a new base clarinet and a used French horn for the band.

Tickets for the first annual awards dinner Dec. 2 are available from Miss Sue McCauley, treasurer. It will be at the First Christian Church. All reservations and money are due by Nov. 22.

Ted Koenig, band director, announced the annual Christmas concert will be Dec. 15. Twenty-five attended.

Judge's Ruling Due In Obscene Book Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Contending unconstitutionality of the law under which he was arrested, attorneys for David King, newsdealer here, have asked common pleas court to dismiss a charge of possessing an obscene book.

The attorneys told the court that the state law under which King was charged has been questioned by the Ohio Supreme Court. Judge Frank Gusweiler was to rule on the motion today.

Memorial Rites Held By K. Of C.

Fr. Richard Buchmann of St. Ann Catholic Church was guest speaker at the annual commemorative exercises for deceased members of the Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, and Carroll Council 509 of East Liverpool Tuesday evening in the East Liverpool K. of C. Home.

His topic was "The Order and Its Dead."

Eulogies were given for the late Dominic Dash by Fred Baldasare of Wellsville, and the late William J. Bamer by James McGown of East Liverpool.

Fr. Joseph Bennett, an assistant at St. Aloysius Church, and chaplain of the East Liverpool council, opened and closed the meeting with prayer.

Election Postponed By Chester Mothers

Scheduled election of officers at a meeting of the Colt Football and Basketball Mothers was postponed Tuesday night at a meeting at the Chester High School.

Mrs. Violet Strosnider, president, said election and insfallation of officers will be held at the next meeting Jan. 9. The election was postponed because of small attendance.

Mrs. Lorna McKnight reported on the annual father-son banquet held Saturday.

Fire

The alarm was turned in to Glenmoor firemen at 2:45 by Mrs. Evelyn Fitzsimmons, a neighbor, who noticed the smoke arising from the home.

The mother and two sons were visiting a friend, Mrs. Everett L. Campbell, nearby.

The flames destroyed the family's clothing, household furnishings and appliances. Firemen estimated $8,000 damage to the home and $2,000 to the contents.

Residents of the area began calling with donations of clothing and household items when they learned of the family's plight.

Harry Reckner of the LaCroft department is chairman of the firemen's committee to recieve contributions of clothing and household furnishings for the family.

Rehabilitation School For Youths Planned

CINCINNATI (AP)—A rehabilitation school for youths who want to go straight is the newest project for juvenile court.

The county commission has agreed to remodel the old civil defense building on the Drake Hospital grounds, and the General Protestant Orphans Home agreed to administer the program on a non-sectarian basis.

Judge Benjamin Schwartz of juvenile court has long advocated the program, which will allow about 40 youngsters yearly to have training, education and psychiatric counsel.

But Few Expect Boom

Most Signs Indicate Good Business Next 6 Weeks

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Both business and consumers feel better today as 1961 goes into the home stretch. The last half of this fourth quarter could see a switch from hesitation to a forward movement.

Few expect anything like a boom—in spite of all the outburst of confidence in the stock market. But most signs point to good business in the last six weeks of the year.

Auto dealers report a pickup in sales and hope for even better as production snarls disappear. Most of the auto industry has its labor problems behind it. That usually optimistic industry is back to talking in big numbers again.

Oilmen report better demand for their products than a few weeks back. The gain over a year ago is running better than 5 per cent.

Industrial output is expected to rise. The September bobble will then be charged off to auto strikes and hurricane damage.

Increased production should mean more jobs or longer work weeks or both. The latest employment figures put them at a record for the time of the year. Unemployment totals stay sticky—and in some doubt. Critics of the government's method of estimating the number of jobless think the figure is too high. Some labor leaders have replied that the figures don't take in all those that are out of work or can find only part time jobs.

But merchants in the areas where employment is high and where personal incomes have been rising are counting heavily on a reported change in consumer attitudes helping sales.

They contend that not only are retail sales themselves up, but the rate of saving appears to be dropping after a rise during the worrisome months of the recession and during the uncertain period of the recovery.

Government figures estimating that farm income this year will be a billion dollars higher than last year also hearten both the merchants serving them and the makers of farm equipment and supplies.

Many other manufacturers are looking for increased government spending to jack up their sales in the weeks and months ahead. The news from Washington continues to forecast more spending, if anything, than first projected.

Business itself has been increasing its spending. This shows in the higher inventory totals. Uusually this reflects a rise in confidence along with hard orders requiring more materials.

Strike

representative, represented Local 427, the clayminers, along with other officers in yesterday's session at the Travelers Hotel. The negotiations started at 11 a. m. and ended at 2:30 p. m.

Bauer said the union cut its demands but the company refused to consider them. He said there was absolutely no progress.

The main issue hinges on wages and some working conditions.

James Gatehouse, international representative and a clayworkers vice president, sat in on the session for the clerks and other office workers at Wellsville. He said they are making progress toward an agreement and that another meeting will be held next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Wellsville.

Both locals are new. The mineworkers joined the union after the mine was opened. The strike at the mine forced the closing of one brick plant and curtailed operations at another.

Post Left Vacant In Band Parents

His resignation is effective at the next meeting, Dec. 11, when a successor will be elected. Ferrall was elected to the Board of Education last week.

In other business, the group voted to purchase a new base clarinet and a used French horn for the band.

Tickets for the first annual awards dinner Dec. 2 are available from Miss Sue McCauley, treasurer. It will be at the First Christian Church. All reservations and money are due by Nov. 22.

Ted Koenig, band director, announced the annual Christmas concert will be Dec. 15. Twenty-five attended.

Judge's Ruling Due In Obscene Book Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Contending unconstitutionality of the law under which he was arrested, attorneys for David King, newsdealer here, have asked common pleas court to dismiss a charge of possessing an obscene book.

The attorneys told the court that the state law under which King was charged has been questioned by the Ohio Supreme Court. Judge Frank Gusweiler was to rule on the motion today.

Memorial Rites Held By K. Of C.

Fr. Richard Buchmann of St. Ann Catholic Church was guest speaker at the annual commemorative exercises for deceased members of the Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, and Carroll Council 509 of East Liverpool Tuesday evening in the East Liverpool K. of C. Home.

His topic was "The Order and Its Dead."

Eulogies were given for the late Dominic Dash by Fred Baldasare of Wellsville, and the late William J. Bamer by James McGown of East Liverpool.

Fr. Joseph Bennett, an assistant at St. Aloysius Church, and chaplain of the East Liverpool council, opened and closed the meeting with prayer.

Election Postponed By Chester Mothers

Scheduled election of officers at a meeting of the Colt Football and Basketball Mothers was postponed Tuesday night at a meeting at the Chester High School.

Mrs. Violet Strosnider, president, said election and insfallation of officers will be held at the next meeting Jan. 9. The election was postponed because of small attendance.

Mrs. Lorna McKnight reported on the annual father-son banquet held Saturday.

The Russian city of Moscow was first mentioned in literature in the year 1147.

The alarm was turned in to Glenmoor firemen at 2:45 by Mrs. Evelyn Fitzsimmons, a neighbor, who noticed the smoke arising from the home.

The mother and two sons were visiting a friend, Mrs. Everett L. Campbell, nearby.

The flames destroyed the family's clothing, household furnishings and appliances. Firemen estimated $8,000 damage to the home and $2,000 to the contents.

Residents of the area began calling with donations of clothing and household items when they learned of the family's plight.

Harry Reckner of the LaCroft department is chairman of the firemen's committee to recieve contributions of clothing and household furnishings for the family.

Rehabilitation School For Youths Planned

CINCINNATI (AP)—A rehabilitation school for youths who want to go straight is the newest project for juvenile court.

The county commission has agreed to remodel the old civil defense building on the Drake Hospital grounds, and the General Protestant Orphans Home agreed to administer the program on a non-sectarian basis.

Judge Benjamin Schwartz of juvenile court has long advocated the program, which will allow about 40 youngsters yearly to have training, education and psychiatric counsel.

Mrs. Kenneth Scott Given New Term By Lutherans

Mrs. Kenneth Scott was returned for a second term as president of United Lutheran Church Women at the annual business meeting and fifth anniversary observance Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Sixty were present.

Other officers elected are:

Mrs. Edwin Carson, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Miller, second vice president; Mrs. Richard Judge, secretary, and Mrs. Alvin Arner, treasurer. Committee chairmen are Mrs. Kenneth Baughman, Christian service; Mrs. James Yuker, education; Mrs. Alvin Stevens, membership, and Mrs. Edwin Deiderick, offerings.

Mrs. Yuker conducted devotions on "Forth In Thy Name" and the group sang the hymn of that title.

A ceremony was held in celebration of the anniversary with the president, Mrs. Scott, and past presidents, Mrs. Alfred Stoddard and Mrs. Arner, lighting the candles on a cake placed on a pedestal.

A tribute was paid Mrs. Stoddard, charter president and organizer. A life membership and gold cross pendant were presented Mrs. Arner for her work in the group.

Other life memberships were given to Mrs. E. H. Seiferth, leader of the Sara Circle, and Mrs. Herbert Hood, leader of the Katherine Von Bora Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard presented a life membership in the name of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Stoddard, of Fairfax, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Arner for their grandson, Douglas Allen Arner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Arner Jr.

Mrs. Arner dedicated the thankoffering. Mrs. Scott presided for business. Annual reports of standing committees were heard. Mrs. Edward Fahnert was presented with a certificate as a new member.

New circles were formed and they elected the following leaders, Mrs. Richard Walker, Sara; Mrs. Seiferth, Katherine Von Bora, and Mrs. Richard Forzano, Ruth.

Dessert-luncheon was served preceding the meeting by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Glenn McGaffic, Mrs. William Anthony, Mrs. Walter Wolfe, Mrs. Hervert Sell and Mrs. E. M. Fahnert.

The buffet table, covered with white cloth and pink net coverlet, featured a centerpiece of white mums highlighted with five candles and the numerals for the anniversary. Fall flowers and fruits decorated the other tables. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Edwin Carson presided at the gold tea services.

A Christmas party for all the circles will be held Dec. 4. Mrs. Bernard Reber, Mrs. C. A. Shaffer, Mrs. Harold Ginder, Mrs. William Riedel Jr., Mrs. Ross Baker and Mrs. Hans Hacker are hostesses.

and plans were discussed to attend the Tri-County Council meeting Thursday in the United Presbyterian Church in Grove City.

Mrs. Charles Adkins, president, and Mrs. Ann Castelli, treasurer, will take to the meeting stamped Christmas cards for veterans in the Deshon Hospital in Butler.

A donation was made to the fund to buy Christmas gifts for the veterans.

Mrs. John J. Dante, membership chairman, reported 63 paid-up members and also gave a brief report on the recent ward party held at Deshon Hospital.

Mrs. Rex Black, sunshine chairman reported get-well cards sent to ill members.

An invitation was received to the testimonial dinner Nov. 25 in Farrell, honoring Mrs. Adolph Matuzcak, western vice president of the Department of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Green won a prize.

Lunch was served by a committee comprised of Mrs. Hilda Jones, Mrs. Lester Barr, Mrs. Paul Stiffler and Mrs. Helen Lomond.

100 At Annual Dinner For CBCM

About 100 persons attended the annual dinner meeting of the Christian Business Men's Committee Tuesday evening in the Beaver Local High School.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Thomas Clyde of the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church and the closing prayer by Dr. Ferrin.

Road Personnel Survey Is Made

A survey of personnel and administration of Division 11 of the State Highway Department has been conducted by an Ohio State University aide as part of an overall study of leadership and organization methods of the highway department.

Dr. Ralph Stogdill, representative of the Bureau of Business Research at the university, conducted interviews and distributed questionnaires in the division, which includes Columbiana County.

The basic research is part of the study from which it is hoped to develop methods for measuring leadership and developing group organization. Analysis of the data will take about a year.

Dr. Stogdill said no recommendations would be made and that specific solutions to problems would not be pointed out. The study is designed to help persons responsible for administration to diagnose problems as they arise, prior to development of a full-grown organizational problem.

Wells High To Hold Sadie Hawkins Dance

The annual "Sadie Hawkins Day" dance of Wells High School will be held Friday night from 8 to 11 in the school gymnasium in Newell.

The event will be sponsored by the Sophomore Class under the direction of Mrs. Caroline T. Mountford and Phillip Cottrill, faculty members.

Students in Grades 9 through 12 may attend in costumes of characters from "Dogpatch," the comic strip village.

Selection of "Lil' Abner" and "Daisy Mae" will be held at intermission, Principal E. Russell Slack reported.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to five degrees above normal. Normal high 47-48, normal low 30-34. A period of almost daily showers with mostly cloudy skies and only minor day - to - day temperature changes is indicated. Rainfall will average about three-fourths of an inch.

First Baptist Missionary Group Ends Study Course

Mrs. John Chadwick conducted the final session in the study course on the book, "Edge of the Edge," at the coverdish dinner meeting of the Elizabeth Felming Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church Monday night in the social rooms. Thirty-one attended.

She was presented a gift from the group. Mrs. Merle Starr conducted devotions, reading Scripture from Luke and offering prayer. The group sang "Take My Life and Let It Be."

Mrs. Roxie Shenkel, program chairman, followed the theme, "The Living Hand." She read an article, "A Week In the Life of a Missionary Doctor" and a paper prepared by Mrs. Vera Hendricks on "The Meaning of White Cross Work."

Mrs. Hendricks, White Cross chairman, reported on the box sent recently to the mission at Beaufort, S. C. and read a card of thanks from the Mather (Ky.) School for a layette.

Mrs. Wilma Beaver received and dedicated the love gift.

Miss Ora McElroy, president, conducted business. Mrs. Jesse McCune offered prayer.

Miss Suzette Beaver and the social committee planned and served the meal. The buffet table, covered with a yellow cloth, featured an epergne of yellow mums. The tables were decorated with missles, each representing a literature publication of the Baptist Publication Society. The Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, pastor, gave the invocation.

In place of the regular meeting Dec. 11, the group will attend services of the auxiliary of the Community Rescue Mission, planned jointly with the Ann Judson Missionary Society of the church. Mrs. Arzelia Green will have the program and Miss Beaver, the social hour. Members will bring canned food for the mission.

Mrs. Kennedy And Mrs. K Agree On Efforts For Peace

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Mrs. Nikita Khrushchev agree that women should exert their influence for peace.

The letters were received Tuesday by Mrs. Dagmar Wilson, a Washington mother of three who was one of the organizers of the movement.

Mrs. Kennedy mentioned that her husband knows war first hand and that she is confident "he will do everything in his power to avoid it."

She also made a pitch for Kennedy's policy—"I know that you will agree with me that the only route to peace for us is strength, and therefore join in support of the policies of this administration which are dedicated toward that end."

Mrs. Khrushchev said that threats 'are made to destroy our homes, to kill our husbands, to take lives of our children."

Among those she said were making such threats she listed "just one American name—Margaret Smith."

The reference was to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, whose demand that U.S. defense policy should stress nuclear power has angered Khrushchev.

For Yule Mail Rush

Extra Post Office Jobs To Go To Certified List

"Forget about them," Postmaster Samuel W. Brown commented today when queried about extra postal jobs during the Christmas mail rush.

Brown explained postal regulations provide all extra help must come from those who took a Civil Service examination for the local office and received a passing grade.

The postmaster said he expects to receive a list from the Cleveland office of the Civil Service Commission within a couple of weeks, certifying the names of the men who passed the test.

Since more than 200 took the test, the list is expected to contain some 25 or 30 names of those with a passing grade, more than enough for any extra help needed during the Yule mail rush, Brown said.

Predicting this year's Christmas mail will surpass the 800,000 pieces handled in the 1960 rush, Brown pointed out the importance of planning Christmas mailings now to avoid headaches later.

The 'Mail Early" campaign will be a success if everyone takes personal responsibility in planning mailings so that Christmas cards and gift packages going to the most distant points are mailed by Dec. 10, he said.

Packages for local destinations should be mailed by Dec. 15 and Yule cards for friends and relatives in this area should be in the mail by Dec. 18, the postmaster continued.

1 — Check your Christmas card and gift lists carefully. Be sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, zone where necessary, and state. Avoid abbreviations of city and state names.

2 — For gift packages, secure heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape. Remember, if a card or letter is enclosed in the package, you must add the appropriate first class stamps to the postage for the package itself.

3 — Now's the time to stock up on postage stamps. By buying now, you will avoid standing in line later. You may also secure labels marked "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out-of-Town Delivery" so that Christmas cards can be sorted into two groups with all addresses facing the same way to expedite delivery.

4 — First class postage is best for mailing Christmas cards since first class mail may include a personal handwritten message and the cards will be forwarded or returned. However, a return address should be included on the envelopes.

If additional information is needed, Brown urged patrons to ask for Pamphlet 2, which gives full information about the proper packaging and wrapping of parcels.

Officers Cite Woman After 3-Way Crash

A 45-year-old Calcutta woman was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident after a three-way crash late Tuesday afternoon on W. 5th St. 200 feet west of Jackson St., police reported.

She is Mrs. Gladys L. Straight, accused of failing to stop after her car struck a halted 1961 four-door sedan driven by Phillip C. Corsello, 44, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and a parked car owned by Marilyn J. Wolfe of Postoffice Box 708.

Mrs. Straight's Municipal Court hearing is pending, as she was admitted to City Hospital when she became hysterical after she was taken to headquarters and members of her family advised she has a history of a heart condition, police said.

Mrs. Straight's auto hit the left rear of Corsello's auto, which was halted in a traffic lane 200 feet west of Jackson St., and bumped the right rear bumper and fender of the Wolfe auto, police said.

Lt. Clyde W. Boso reported his attention was called to Mrs. Straight prior to the accident because she drove around the square between Jackson St. and the Diamond four times, sounding her auto almost continually. He said he tried unsuccessfully to halt the auto.

Mrs. Straight was halted in the Diamond about 10 minutes after the collision by Patrolman Orin C. Smith, police said. When she became hysterical at the police station, her daughter and her husband were summoned, officers said. When they advised she previously had suffered a heart attack, Mrs. Straight was removed in an ambulance to City Hospital, where she was admitted at 9:03, police said.

A collision on Riverview St. at North St. at 11:03 p. m. Tuesday damaged a 1955 two-door sedan driven by Robert W. Sentz, 23, of 44-B, Midland Heights, and a parked 1957 four-door sedan owned by James E. Nottingham, 721 North St., police said.

Sentz told police he was driving south on Riverview when a car headed in the same direction attempted to pass, forcing him into the parked auto. There was damage to the right side of the Sentz car and the left side of Nottingham's auto, police said.

Vote Expenses Listed By 4 More Aspirants

Four more East Liverpool district aspirants who sought office at the Nov. 7 general election have filed the required sworn statements of campaign expenses with the County Election Board.

William C. Heasley, unsuccessful in a nine-way race for the city Board of Education, reported he spent nothing.

Three Wellsville candidates entered the reports. Dwight MacLean, named Second Ward councilman on the Republican ticket, said he spent $3.50. Aguin Bowling, defeated GOP candidate for a Council-at-large seat, reported expenses of $12.36. Russell Dysert, re-elected to the Wellsville Board of Education, said he spent nothing.

Dec. 22 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates—whether or not they were successful—and from committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Welfare Check Late, So Mate Faces Work

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—A welfare recipient, whose support check did not arrive when expected, sent a letter to Clinton County Welfare Commissioner Richard H. Duquette.

It said: "My check was so late that my husband had to go to work."

Lung Transplant On Dog May Aid Future Humans

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Homer, a sad-eyed hound, is a frisky dog five months after one of his lungs was replaced by a transplant and a research team thinks this may be a step closer to successful transplant of major organs.

One of Homer's lungs was replaced May 26 by a lung from another dog. For two weeks he received daily injections of methotrexate, a drug originally developed to fight cancer. He was very sick for a time, but recovered.

Doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center believe methotrexate may have properties that prevent rejection of alien tissue.

Transplant of eye corneas, blood and bone fragments are fairly common, but transferring major organs is difficult because such tissues usually are rejected by the receiving body.

Dr. Paulette Szadaly, a University of Michigan veterinarian, says the five months Homer has lived may be a medical record.

The research dog is closely watched and has the services of his own physician, veterinarian and registered nurse.

State Acquires Land As New Hunting Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A $90,000 check to the Sunny Hill Coal Co. at New Lexington has brought Ohio 4,500 acres of land for rabbit and quail hunting in Perry County.

The Division of Reclamation purchased the former strip-mining area in Clayton Twp., north of New Lexington. It will be open for hunting, managed by the Wildlife Division, this year, with future use to be determined.

$50 Fine Suspended

LISBON — Mrs. Iris F. Guthrie, 40, of East Rochester received a suspended $50 fine at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald for allowing her 14-year-old son to operate a motor bike on the highways without an operator's license. She was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Firemen Name Group To Prepare Election

A nominating committee to select a slate of new officers was chosen at a meeting of the Ohio Township volunteer fire department Monday evening in the fire hall.

The committee includes George Daniels Jr., George Daniels and Paul Rice Jr. It will report on the slate at the meeting Dec. 11.

George Gailey Jr., president, presided.

Anaheim, Calif., derives its name from the Santa Ana River and the German word for "home." It was settled by Germans in 1857.

For Yule Mail Rush

Extra Post Office Jobs To Go To Certified List

"Forget about them," Postmaster Samuel W. Brown commented today when queried about extra postal jobs during the Christmas mail rush.

Brown explained postal regulations provide all extra help must come from those who took a Civil Service examination for the local office and received a passing grade.

The postmaster said he expects to receive a list from the Cleveland office of the Civil Service Commission within a couple of weeks, certifying the names of the men who passed the test.

Since more than 200 took the test, the list is expected to contain some 25 or 30 names of those with a passing grade, more than enough for any extra help needed during the Yule mail rush, Brown said.

Predicting this year's Christmas mail will surpass the 800,000 pieces handled in the 1960 rush, Brown pointed out the importance of planning Christmas mailings now to avoid headaches later.

The "Mail Early" campaign will be a success if everyone takes personal responsibility in planning mailings so that Christmas cards and gift packages going to the most distant points are mailed by Dec. 10, he said.

Packages for local destinations should be mailed by Dec. 15 and Yule cards for friends and relatives in this area should be in the mail by Dec. 18, the postmaster continued.

1 — Check your Christmas card and gift lists carefully. Be sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, zone where necessary, and state. Avoid abbreviations of city and state names.

2 — For gift packages, secure heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and adhesive tape. Remember, if a card or letter is enclosed in the package, you must add the appropriate first class stamps to the postage for the package itself.

3 — Now's the time to stock up on postage stamps. By buying now, you will avoid standing in line later. You may also secure labels marked "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out-of-Town Delivery" so that Christmas cards can be sorted into two groups with all addresses facing the same way to expedite delivery.

4 — First class postage is best for mailing Christmas cards since first class mail may include a personal handwritten message and the cards will be forwarded or returned. However, a return address should be included on the envelopes.

If additional information is needed, Brown urged patrons to ask for Pamphlet 2, which gives full information about the proper packaging and wrapping of parcels.

2 Boys Tell Of Trip

'Delegates' To UN Report In Rotary Club Program

Two local youths who were sent to New York earlier this month by the Rotary Club found plenty of excitement in Gotham, but got their biggest thrill in zooming there and back in a new jet liner.

Jack Deshler of East Liverpool High School and Ronnie Coen of Wells High School of Newell made the trip to visit the United Nations as a project of the club's international contacts committee.

The flight from Greater Pittsburgh Airport to Newark, N. J., airport in a swift 55 minutes on a United Air Lines "Caravel" jet liner was the greatest thrill, the youths told the club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel in reporting on their experiences.

"The accomplishments of the UN might not seem like much considering the amount of money spent there and the time involved, but there are many small problems solved that could lead to big ones, which many don't know about," Deshler told the club.

Accompanied by a Swedish guide, the youths toured the building and listened to Adlai Stevenson, U. S. representative, discussing atomic warfare problems with a Russian official. "Stevenson knew what he was going after in the discussion," Deshler asserted.

The two seniors found a friendly face among New York's millions in T. Gerald Ryan of East Liverpool, who was there on a business trip.

Ryan treated them to lunch at the Statler - Hilton Hotel, and later provided two tickets for a Broadway show, "Camelot." The youths also took in the famous musical, "My Fair Lady," plus a television show, "Number Please."

The usual tourist attractions provided other entertainment on the week's visit.

The 17-year-old seniors climbed the stairs inside the Statue of Liberty, toured the Bowery and Chinatown and other sections of the city by bus, and had dinner at Jack Dempsey's restaurant.

While shopping in Chinatown, Coen discovered the souveniors were marked, "Made In Japan."

They were quartered in the Taft Hotel during the visit. Each thanked the club for the opportunity to visit New York.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Deshler, 1575 Holliday St., and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Coen, 217 Grant St., Newell.

Plans Studied For Wellsville Mail-City Hall

Preliminary plans for a combination post office and city hall in Wellsville now are in the hands of postal authorities for study.

The plans, prepared for Wellsville officials by Robert Beatty, architect, call for construction of a two-story building at the site of the present City Hall at 5th and Main Sts. at a cost of approximately $140,000 to $150,000. They still must be formally approved by Council.

The plans were reviewed by members of City Council at a caucus session last Thursday night, according to Councilman Clarence Cartwright.

The Post office would be located on the street level along with some city offices, while the police headquarters, cell block and Council Chambers would be on the second floor.

Cartwright said each of the councilmen and other officials were presented a set of plans for study. They were sent to the regional director's office at Cincinnati.

Council was informed in September that a multiple - purpose building could be utilized. Postal authorities met with Council and informed the members that combination buildings sometimes are acceptable.

They said it was up to the city to submit plans if it is interested.

The construction figures do not include furniture or air conditioning, if wanted, for the city hall. The architect's standard fee is 6 per cent. The figures also do not include the price of additional ground that would be needed or the razing of the present building. Postal authorities require air conditioning in their section.

Democrat Unit To Aid Kennedy Travel Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee will foot a small part of President Kennedy's travel bill on his four-day Western trip starting Thursday.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday that the Democratic party will pay for the use of the Air Force jet and crew during part of Kennedy's trip.

Salinger said the flight to Seattle, Wash., Thursday morning, the trip to San Diego, Calif., Friday night and the return to Washington Sunday are considered nonpolitical.

No figures were given.

15 Youngsters Leave County Welfare Rolls

LISBON — The Columbiana County Welfare Department showed a decline of 15 in the number of children on welfare rolls during October, according to Robert Bycroft, director.

As of Oct. 1 there were 152 wards, with four added during the month for a total of 156. The cases of 19 were terminated, leaving 137 as of Nov. 1.

A breakdown shows 119 in foster homes, six with relatives, seven with parents and five in institutions, Bycroft said.

AEC Will Experiment Radioactive Capsules

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— The Atomic Energy Commission plans a series of four experiments with radioactive fuel capsules on the southern Nevada test site during the next few weeks.

Some nuclear particles will be released, the AEC said Tuesday, but no harmful radiation is expected beyond the test site, 65 miles north of Las Vegas.

The test will involve the ability of radioisotopic fuel capsules to survive rocket launching accidents landing impacts and re-entry heat.

But Doesn't Rule Self Out

Rep. McCulloch Declares He's Not Judge Applicant

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William M. McCulloch of Piqua, Ohio mentioned as one of the Republicans President Kennedy may be planning to appoint to federal judgeships—says, "I have never been an applicant and am not now."

McCulloch, however, did not completely rule himself out of such speculation. "There are not many lawyers who would not take a judgeship" if offered, he said in an interview.

There have been published reports that the representative from the 4th Ohio congressional district was considered for a judgeship in the southern district of Ohio but he would not comment on whether the administration had made a direct approach to him on the matter.

But he mentioned that top Republicans had cleared him for a judgeship when a vacancy occurred during the first administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He said "that would have been the time to take it" if he were interested in the federal bench.

Actually, McCulloch said, there is no present or expected vacancy in Southern Ohio, but there could be if Congress changes a provision in the law that created 73 new federal judgeships.

The law created one new judgeship in the Southern Ohio district, for which John W. Peck has been nominated and awaits Senate confirmation. But the same law provided that the first vacancy in the district shall not be filled.

The idea was to provide a fourth judge for the district temporarily to help reduce the current backlog of cases, but one of the other three judges soon afterward expressed the wish to retire.

That would reduce the district to three judges again, nullifying the effect of the new judgeship with no way to add a fourth judge under the law.

The judge who wants to retire reportedly has been persuaded to withhold his resignation until Congress can consider legislation to change the law. The early resignation, so soon after a fourth judge was added, had been unforseen when the provision for not filling the next vacancy was written into the law.

If Congress passes legislation next year to provide for another judge after the resignation is accepted, then there would be a vacancy which McCulloch could be offered.

The administration was reportedly pleased with McCulloch's support for its anti-crime legislation passed in the last session, and also his support of attempts to increase salaries for Justice Department attorneys—which failed.

Inspection Conducted For Wellsville VFW

During business, it was reported 60 per cent of last year's members have enrolled again. The membership program is progressing and the post is seeking a 100 per cent goal by Dec. 1.

Donations were made to the VFW National Home and to the County Public Health League.

A "pig in the blanket" supper will be held Dec. 9. A social and dance will follow.

The next meeting is Nov. 28.

2 Boys Tell Of Trip

'Delegates' To UN Report In Rotary Club Program

Two local youths who were sent to New York earlier this month by the Rotary Club found plenty of excitement in Gotham, but got their biggest thrill in zooming there and back in a new jet liner.

Jack Deshler of East Liverpool High School and Ronnie Coen of Wells High School of Newell made the trip to visit the United Nations as a project of the club's international contacts committee.

The flight from Greater Pittsburgh Airport to Newark, N. J., airport in a swift 55 minutes on a United Air Lines "Caravel" jet liner was the greatest thrill, the youths told the club Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel in reporting on their experiences.

"The accomplishments of the UN might not seem like much considering the amount of money spent there and the time involved, but there are many small problems solved that could lead to big ones, which many don't know about," Deshler told the club.

Accompanied by a Swedish guide, the youths toured the building and listened to Adlai Stevenson, U. S. representative, discussing atomic warfare problems with a Russian official. "Stevenson knew what he was going after in the discussion," Deshler asserted.

The two seniors found a friendly face among New York's millions in T. Gerald Ryan of East Liverpool, who was there on a business trip.

Ryan treated them to lunch at the Statler - Hilton Hotel, and later provided two tickets for a Broadway show, "Camelot." The youths also took in the famous musical, "My Fair Lady," plus a television show, "Number Please."

The usual tourist attractions provided other entertainment on the week's visit.

The 17-year-old seniors climbed the stairs inside the Statue of Liberty, toured the Bowery and Chinatown and other sections of the city by bus, and had dinner at Jack Dempsey's restaurant.

While shopping in Chinatown, Coen discovered the souveniors were marked, "Made In Japan."

They were quartered in the Taft Hotel during the visit. Each thanked the club for the opportunity to visit New York.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Deshler, 1575 Holliday St., and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Coen, 217 Grant St., Newell.

International Students Increase At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University has more international students than ever before this year—550 from 67 nations. This is about 54 above the total a year ago.

The total includes 83 women and 476 men. India is the country with the largest representation, 139, followed by the Republic of China, 40; Korea, 39; Canada, 36, and United Arab Republic, 33.

HANOVERTON — Supt. Dale Gates along with Willard Cope, Board of Education member, and Robert Myers, clerk, were to attend the Ohio School Boards Association meeting today at Columbus.

Plans Studied For Wellsville Mail-City Hall

Preliminary plans for a combination post office and city hall in Wellsville now are in the hands of postal authorities for study.

The plans, prepared for Wellsville officials by Robert Beatty, architect, call for construction of a two-story building at the site of the present City Hall at 5th and Main Sts. at a cost of approximately $140,000 to $150,000. They still must be formally approved by Council.

The plans were reviewed by members of City Council at a caucus session last Thursday night, according to Councilman Clarence Cartwright.

Cartwright said each of the councilmen and other officials were presented a set of plans for study. They were sent to the regional director's office at Cincinnati.

Council was informed in September that a multiple - purpose building could be utilized. Postal authorities met with Council and informed the members that combination buildings sometimes are acceptable.

They said it was up to the city to submit plans if it is interested.

The construction figures do not include furniture or air conditioning, if wanted, for the city hall. The architect's standard fee is 6 per cent. The figures also do not include the price of additional ground that would be needed or the razing of the present building. Postal authorities require air conditioning in their section.

Democrat Unit To Aid Kennedy Travel Bill

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday that the Democratic party will pay for the use of the Air Force jet and crew during part of Kennedy's trip.

Salinger said the flight to Seattle, Wash., Thursday morning, the trip to San Diego, Calif., Friday night and the return to Washington Sunday are considered non-political.

No figures were given.

15 Youngsters Leave County Welfare Rolls

LISBON — The Columbiana County Welfare Department showed a decline of 15 in the number of children on welfare rolls during October, according to Robert Bycroft, director.

As of Oct. 1 there were 152 wards, with four added during the month for a total of 156. The cases of 19 were terminated, leaving 137 as of Nov. 1.

A breakdown shows 119 in foster homes, six with relatives, seven with parents and five in institutions, Bycroft said.

AEC Will Experiment Radioactive Capsules

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— The Atomic Energy Commission plans a series of four experiments with radioactive fuel capsules on the southern Nevada test site during the next few weeks.

Some nuclear particles will be released, the AEC said Tuesday, but no harmful radiation is expected beyond the test site, 65 miles north of Las Vegas.

The test will involve the ability of radioisotopic fuel capsules to survive rocket launching accidents landing impacts and re-entry heat.

But Doesn't Rule Self Out

Rep. McCulloch Declares He's Not Judge Applicant

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William M. McCulloch of Piqua, Ohio mentioned as one of the Republicans President Kennedy may be planning to appoint to federal judgeships—says, "I have never been an applicant and am not now."

McCulloch, however, did not completely rule himself out of such speculation. "There are not many lawyers who would not take a judgeship" if offered, he said in an interview.

There have been published reports that the representative from the 4th Ohio congressional district was considered for a judgeship in the southern district of Ohio but he would not comment on whether the administration had made a direct approach to him on the matter.

But he mentioned that top Republicans had cleared him for a judgeship when a vacancy occurred during the first administration of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He said "that would have been the time to take it" if he were interested in the federal bench.

Actually, McCulloch said, there is no present or expected vacancy in Southern Ohio, but there could be if Congress changes a provision in the law that created 73 new federal judgeships.

The law created one new judgeship in the Southern Ohio district, for which John W. Peck has been nominated and awaits Senate confirmation. But the same law provided that the first vacancy in the district shall not be filled.

The idea was to provide a fourth judge for the district temporarily to help reduce the current backlog of cases, but one of the other three judges soon afterward expressed the wish to retire.

That would reduce the district to three judges again, nullifying the effect of the new judgeship with no way to add a fourth judge under the law.

The judge who wants to retire reportedly has been persuaded to withhold his resignation until Congress can consider legislation to change the law. The early resignation, so soon after a fourth judge was added, had been unforseen when the provision for not filling the next vacancy was written into the law.

If Congress passes legislation next year to provide for another judge after the resignation is accepted, then there would be a vacancy which McCulloch could be offered.

The administration was reportedly pleased with McCulloch's support for its anti-crime legislation passed in the last session, and also his support of attempts to increase salaries for Justice Department attorneys—which failed.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: You helped me win the man I love and here's how you did it:

I had a habit of falling head over heels. I'd go steady, hot and heavy — no holds barred — because it seemed like the honest approach to love. After a few months. I'd find myself dropped with no explanation. I was left brokenhearted and ashamed.

I wrote and asked you why I had lost five good marriage prospects inside of 18 months. You let me have it right between the eyes.

Then I met Ted — the best of the lot. I decided to take your advice. Yes, he tried, but I said, "Look, Buster, if the frustration is too much for you, find another girl."

We are being married in January and I'm going to name our first daughter after you. He'll never know it's YOU, Ann. I'll let him think it's his Aunt Anna. — HAPPY NOW.

Dear Happy: So am I. And delighted, too.

A farmer in Edgerton, Wis., once named a horse after me but never before has a reader honored me in this way. Many thanks.

Lost Without Husband

Dear Ann: I lost my beloved husband five months ago. We had no children and my entire life revolved around him. Now that he's gone I am lost.

A close friend has offered me a fine position in a home for wayward girls. Before my marriage I did social work and enjoyed it. I have a lovely apartment and I don't need the money. This job would require me to give up my place and move to another city.

There are times when I feel I must get away from all these memories, and other times I can't bear the thought of leaving. What is your advice? — SEARCHING L.

Dear Searching: Keep your apartment intact and try the position for six months. If it doesn't work out you can always return.

New surroundings and work into which you can put your heart may be your salvation. It's worth the gamble.

Can't Stand Elderly

Dear Ann: I'm a young bride who has been married only seven months. My husband and I have a lovely two-bedroom bungalow and are awfully happy.

When I was 9 my mother died and my grandmother took me to raise. I shudder to think of what could have happened to me if Grandma hadn't been so openhearted. She lives in a city 250 miles away and last night I told my husband that I would like to invite Grandma to visit us for a week. She never has seen our home and it would give her a lot of pleasure.

He shocked me by saying, "If you invite her I'm going to take my vacation that week. I can't stand old people."

We've never had a fuss and I don't want any trouble in our marriage. What shall I do?— LAVENDER BLUE.

Dear L. B.: So he can't stand old people? And what does he plan to do with YOU when you get old? Shoot you?

Invite your grandmother to visit you for a week. If your husband isn't grown up enough to stay at home and be a cordial host, let the big baby take his vacation.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jobless Father Of 6 Charged In Slaying Of 2 Men

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Grover Gross, 49, an unemployed father of six, has been charged with murder in the street corner slaying Monday of two businessmen but authorities still don't know why the two men were killed.

Milton A. Horner, 37, of Ft. Thomas, Ky., and Irvin J. Corken, 37, of Cincinnati, were shot to death moments after they had left a cafe.

They apparently did not know each other by name although they had chatted in the cafe and police say Gross apparently did not know either of them.

The murder charges against Gross were filed Tuesday by acting Detective Chief Kenneth Collins. He said three persons had been found who identified Gross as the man they saw shoot Corken as Corken was entering his automobile and go across the street and shoot Horner.

Identity of the witnesses was not disclosed.

Asian-African Demand Due West Protest

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An Asian-African demand for use of force to drive foreign mercenaries out of the Congo's Katanga Province was expected to run into strong Western opposition today.

The Security Council meets this afternoon to take up a resolution by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic that would authorize acting Secretary-General U Thant to use force if necessary to expel foreign fighting men hired by Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist regime.

A new African outburst against Tshombe also was certain in the wake of a U.N. investigating committee's suggestion that former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was murdered last January, probably in the presence of high Katanga officials.

Britain and France were scheduled to take the floor at the outset of today's debate. They have reportedly joined the United States in opposing any council action that would direct U.N. forces to join the Congo army in an offensive against Katanga.

The West is seeking adoption of a milder resolution reaffirming support of the U.N. Congo command and urging negotiations to end the Katanga secession.

Informed sources said U Thant is also against the use of force as a matter of principle and strongly favors using conciliation to deal with the crisis.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: You helped me win the man I love and here's how you did it:

I had a habit of falling head over heels. I'd go steady, hot and heavy — no holds barred — because it seemed like the honest approach to love. After a few months. I'd find myself dropped with no explanation. I was left brokenhearted and ashamed.

I wrote and asked you why I had lost five good marriage prospects inside of 18 months. You let me have it right between the eyes.

Then I met Ted — the best of the lot. I decided to take your advice. Yes, he tried, but I said, "Look, Buster, if the frustration is too much for you, find another girl."

We are being married in January and I'm going to name our first daughter after you. He'll never know it's YOU, Ann. I'll let him think it's his Aunt Anna. — HAPPY NOW.

Dear Happy: So am I. And delighted, too.

A farmer in Edgerton, Wis., once named a horse after me but never before has a reader honored me in this way. Many thanks.

Lost Without Husband

Dear Ann: I lost my beloved husband five months ago. We had no children and my entire life revolved around him. Now that he's gone I am lost.

A close friend has offered me a fine position in a home for wayward girls. Before my marriage I did social work and enjoyed it. I have a lovely apartment and I don't need the money. This job would require me to give up my place and move to another city.

There are times when I feel I must get away from all these memories, and other times I can't bear the thought of leaving. What is your advice? — SEARCHING L.

Dear Searching: Keep your apartment intact and try the position for six months. If it doesn't work out you can always return.

New surroundings and work into which you can put your heart may be your salvation. It's worth the gamble.

Can't Stand Elderly

Dear Ann: I'm a young bride who has been married only seven months. My husband and I have a lovely two-bedroom bungalow and are awfully happy.

When I was 9 my mother died and my grandmother took me to raise. I shudder to think of what could have happened to me if Grandma hadn't been so openhearted. She lives in a city 250 miles away and last night I told my husband that I would like to invite Grandma to visit us for a week. She never has seen our home and it would give her a lot of pleasure.

He shocked me by saying, "If you invite her I'm going to take my vacation that week. I can't stand old people."

We've never had a fuss and I don't want any trouble in our marriage. What shall I do?— LAVENDER BLUE.

Dear L. B.: So he can't stand old people? And what does he plan to do with YOU when you get old? Shoot you?

Invite your grandmother to visit you for a week. If your husband isn't grown up enough to stay at home and be a cordial host, let the big baby take his vacation.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jobless Father Of 6 Charged In Slaying Of 2 Men

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Grover Gross, 49, an unemployed father of six, has been charged with murder in the street corner slaying Monday of two businessmen but authorities still don't know why the two men were killed.

Milton A. Horner, 37, of Ft. Thomas, Ky., and Irvin J. Corken, 37, of Cincinnati, were shot to death moments after they had left a cafe.

They apparently did not know each other by name although they had chatted in the cafe and police say Gross apparently did not know either of them.

The murder charges against Gross were filed Tuesday by acting Detective Chief Kenneth Collins. He said three persons had been found who identified Gross as the man they saw shoot Corken as Corken was entering his automobile and go across the street and shoot Horner.

Identity of the witnesses was not disclosed.

Asian-African Demand Due West Protest

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An Asian-African demand for use of force to drive foreign mercenaries out of the Congo's Katanga Province was expected to run into strong Western opposition today.

The Security Council meets this afternoon to take up a resolution by Ceylon, Liberia and the United Arab Republic that would authorize acting Secretary-General U Thant to use force if necessary to expel foreign fighting men hired by Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist regime.

A new African outburst against Tshombe also was certain in the wake of a U.N. investigating committee's suggestion that former Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was murdered last January, probably in the presence of high Katanga officials.

Britain and France were scheduled to take the floor at the outset of today's debate. They have reportedly joined the United States in opposing any council action that would direct U.N. forces to join the Congo army in an offensive against Katanga.

The West is seeking adoption of a milder resolution reaffirming support of the U.N. Congo command and urging negotiations to end the Katanga secession.

Informed sources said U Thant is also against the use of force as a matter of principle and strongly favors using conciliation to deal with the crisis.

Reuther, Haggerty 'Sound Off'

Rival Camps In AFL-CIO Trade Verbal Broadsides

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rival industrial and craft union camps in the AFL-CIO traded broadsides today in a fresh outburst of organized labor's civil war.

Walter Reuther, Auto Workers Union president and commander of the industrial union forces, charged that the six-year old AFL-CIO has united unions in name only because, he said, the federation has failed to solve traditional union rivalries. He blamed the craft unions for the impasse.

C. J. (Neal) Haggerty, leader of the crafts as president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades, retorted that the industrial unions are ignoring agreed-upon disputes settlement machinery "making us wonder what an agreement with them is worth."

The basis for the feuding is the same job rights controversy that split the old AFL into the rival AFL and CIO organizations in 1935. Since the AFL-CIO merger was agreed upon in 1955 there have been fruitless efforts to work out a binding arbitration arrangement for interunion disputes.

Deploring this, Reuther said in a report prepared for the annual convention of the Industrial Union Department he heads that there must be some type of nonaggression pact for the AFL-CIO to survive. The convention opens Thursday and runs through Friday.

2 Officials Sign 10-Year Pact On Street Lighting

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Robert Owen, comprising the Board of Control, Tuesday afternoon formally approved a new 10 - year contract with the Ohio Power Co. for city street lighting.

The new agreement takes effect Dec. 1. The officials acted on a sealed bid from Ohio Power received Nov. 8. The present contract also is for 10 years.

The new agreement provides for increasing the candlepower of 271 fixtures and authorizes installation of twelve 250 - candlepower units to replace eight 600-candlepower lights removed from the W. 8th St. freeway construction area.

The cost to the city will be $2,960 a month, up $157 from the $2,803 a month it pays at present.

Authorization for the new contract was given by Council Sept. 19 after it worked out the details with the utility. Although Ohio Power is the only firm that could submit a bid, state law requires the city to call for sealed offers, just as in the case of any other contract.

Dayton Crippled By Bus Strike

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Some 95,000 Dayton bus riders had to find other means of transportation today after 345 drivers and maintenance men walked off their jobs.

Members of Local 1385 of the Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes Union — drivers and maintenance men—left work at 2 a.m. today at the conclusion of the Tuesday bus service and the disruption of negotiations.

Earlier Tuesday, the union members turned down a last minute package offer by the company (City Transit Co.) of Dayton.

Noted Woman Believed Slain In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police believe Rosalind Goodrich Bates, a successful Southern California lawyer and clubwoman, was murdered.

But they ran into a puzzling web of circumstances as they sifted clues in the gunshot death of the silver - haired, bespectacled widow.

Mrs. Bates, 67, who lived alone, was found dead Tuesday in her home, shot twice—once in the temple and once in the back. The death weapon has not been found. Neighbors reported no shots nor outcries. Mrs. Bates' big watchdog was strangely silent.

Police said there was no evidence of a struggle—her purse was unopened, the house was not disorganized and even her glasses were intact. There were no powder burns around the wounds. Police estimated the killer had fired from a distance of 10 to 12 feet.

A client, Dr. Frederick S. Rheinhold, chiropractor and psychologist, told newsmen that Mrs. Bates reported she got a threatening phone call last week.

Neighbors said Mrs. Bates arrived home about 8 p.m. Monday. A friend reported talking to Mrs. Bates on the telephone at 8:45 that night. Officers said Mrs. Bates apparently had been shot shortly after the phone call.

Mrs. Bates was a past president of the Federation of International Women Lawyers. She was divorced in 1919 from Ernest Sutherland Bates, author, educator and editor, who died in 1939.

Medina Development To Cost $20 Million

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A business and industrial development costing possibly $20 million is planned here and its construction will get under way early next year, the Cleveland Plain Dealer reported Tuesday night.

The development, expected to cover 200 acres fronting a half mile on U.S. 42 a mile north of here, calls for manufacturing plants, service firms, businesses and possibly a hotel, according to Dwight Tubbs, a real estate broker.

Tubbs said the land had been sold to a syndicate of Cleveland investors for about $250,000.

The new development will be separate from the community's principal industrial part in the southwest section of the city.

Faces Feverish Political Activity

Finland Bids To Ward Off Defense Talks With Soviet

By CARL O. BOLANG

HELSINKI (AP)—Finland today headed into a period of feverish political activity with three elections scheduled within a month in an effort to ward off defense talks with the Soviet Union.

President Urho Kekkonen dissolved Parliament Tuesday and moved up the date for parliamentary elections from July 2 to Feb. 4-5 in answer to a demand by the Soviet Union for assurance that Finland would maintain their friendly relations with it.

Three hundred electors for the presidential elections are to be chosen by voters Jan. 15-16. The electors will name a new president Feb. 15 and he will take office March 1.

Had Kekkonen not advanced the parliamentary election date, the new president would have been faced with a four-month period of political instability until a new government with parliamentary support could take office. The government submits its resignation when a new president starts his term.

A government communique said the Soviet Union had informed Finland that unless assurances of continued friendly relations were given, it would persist in its Oct. 30 demand for joint defense talks. The Russians had contended that West Germany posed a threat to the safety of both Finland and the Soviet Union.

The decision by the president, made in a meeting with the Agrarian party minority Cabinet of Premier Matti Miettinen, came after Foreign Minister Ahti Kajkalainen reported on his weekend mission to Moscow to discuss the Oct. 30 Soviet note.

A Foreign Ministry communique said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told Kajkalainen the U.S.S.R. had "not the slightest intention of intervening in Finland's domestic position" but "the political situation in Finland had become uncertain."

The communique said Gromyko asked for assurances of the continuation of the present Finnish foreign policy—a delicately poised neutrality between the Soviet Union and the West—in order that "military consultations might be avoided."

Kekkonen responded with his announcement in which he said that the international situation demanded prompt arrival at decisions which could not await the summer elections.

Kekkonen seeks re-election as president and is considered the strongest candidate. His chief opponent is Olavi Honka, former chancellor of justice, who is sponsored by Social Democratic leader V. Tanner. Honka's election would be certain to arouse Soviet wrath, since Tanner was foreign minister during the 1939-40 Finnish-Russian war.

Over 80 Expected At Traffic Safety Conference Here

Between 80 and 100 young people of the area are expected to attend the seventh annual Tri-State Youth Traffic Safety Conference Thursday night at Westgate School.

All schools in Columbiana County sponsoring driver training courses have been invited to send delegates to the event held by the East Liverpool High School Driving Club and the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Glenn S. Aston - Reese, instructor at Mt. Lebanon, and Channel 13 driver teacher, will be speaker for the event, which will start with registration at 5 p. m. and dinner at 6.

"Operation Living" will be theme for the conference which will include group discussions on four major topics: personal attitudes, youth and traffic law enforcement, patterns for action and specific youth problems.

'Disaster Drill' Slated For Palestine Schools

EAST PALESTINE — A "disaster drill" will be held Friday at city schools, including a test of the time required for students to walk home.

Students will be given slips with times marked on them for the noon recess, and parents have been requested to mark on the slips the times the youngsters arrive home.

A film on Civil Defense will be screened in the forenoon, and an in-building drill will be held at 2 p. m.

Slides To Be Shown To Men's Fellowship

Dr. Howard E. Matthew, Chester dentist, will show color slides of his recent trip to Europe at a meeting of the Men's Fellowship of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church of Chester tonight at 7:30.

Delmas Sanford of the East Liverpool First Church of the Nazarene will be devotions speaker.

Business will be conducted by Robert Smith, president. Plans will be outlined for Christmas activities, including the children's party.

Congregation To Buy Tract

The Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday authorized the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church to proceed with the purchase of 5.16 acres on Lisbon St. at Florence St. for $30,000.

The property contains two houses and one will be used for a manse. The present manse will be sold. No building plans are under way as yet for utilization of the remainder of the tract.

The first step in the project was taken by the congregation Oct. 29, with James McKinnon presiding.

The plan has been under consideration for several years but no suitable piece of property was available at a price the church could afford. Fred Hopper made the property available at "the reasonable price," the church announcement said.

The present church building was enlarged and modernized about eight years ago.

Attending the Presbytery's sessions yesterday at Bloomingdale were Sam Dobson, Mrs. Elmer Eiferd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coie, James Drake, Warren Smith, Wayne Barnard, Glenn Lynn and the Rev. James Fyfe Donald, pastor.

24 Attend St. Clair CD Group's Meeting

About 24 attended a meeting of the St. Clair Township Civil Defense group Tuesday night at which Mrs. Ila Shingler of City Hospital spoke on emergency sanitation in the home, part of a home preparedness course.

It was announced the fire team will report Saturday and Sunday at 2 p. m. for practice with the pumper truck at Lake Samary.

Adlai Presses For Action On Disarm Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson was ready to press today for quick U.N. action to get the disrupted East-West disarmament negotiations started again.

This word came from authoritative sources as the General Assembly's main political committee prepared to begin a comprehensive debate on general disarmament. Stevenson was scheduled to speak immediately after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin delivered a Soviet policy speech.

There was no direct word from the Russians as to what Zorin would say, but some delegations assumed he would offer to negotiate if five nonaligned countries are added to the five Western and five Communist countries that took part in the negotiations that collapsed in Geneva 17 months ago.

The Soviets have been insisting upon this extension of the troika principle to the disarmament negotiations. The Western powers have refused to give equal representation to the nonaligned countries.

The question of how many countries should be included in the negotiations has been the main stumbling block to a resumption of negotiations. Stevenson and John J. McCloy, former U.S. disarmament representative, sought to resolve this issue last summer in a series of private meetings with Zorin but without success.

Chester Area Fracas Did Not Occur In Bar

A fracas in which an East Liverpool man is accused of felonious assault Saturday night did not occur in the Cactus Bar on Route 30 near Chester.

The disturbance was along Route 30 across the road from the tavern and not on the bar's main parking lot, the operator said.

Edward Keener of East Liverpool has been held for the January Grand Jury for assaulting Vera Guerco of Georgetown, who was struck in the face with a hammer.

Arsenal Has No Gun

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Redstone Arsenal, the Army's center of missile and rocket research, couldn't find a cannon with which to render a 19-gun salute to Belgian Ambassador Louis Scheyven. An appeal to Ft. Benning, Ga., brought a unit of the 10th Artillery Battalion.

Faces Feverish Political Activity

Finland Bids To Ward Off Defense Talks With Soviet

By CARL O. BOLANG

HELSINKI (AP)—Finland today headed into a period of feverish political activity with three elections scheduled within a month in an effort to ward off defense talks with the Soviet Union.

President Urho Kekkonen dissolved Parliament Tuesday and moved up the date for parliamentary elections from July 2 to Feb. 4-5 in answer to a demand by the Soviet Union for assurance that Finland would maintain their friendly relations with it.

Three hundred electors for the presidential elections are to be chosen by voters Jan. 15-16. The electors will name a new president Feb. 15 and he will take office March 1.

Had Kekkonen not advanced the parliamentary election date, the new president would have been faced with a four-month period of political instability until a new government with parliamentary support could take office. The government submits its resignation when a new president starts his term.

A government communique said the Soviet Union had informed Finland that unless assurances of continued friendly relations were given, it would persist in its Oct. 30 demand for joint defense talks. The Russians had contended that West Germany posed a threat to the safety of both Finland and the Soviet Union.

The decision by the president, made in a meeting with the Agrarian party minority Cabinet of Premier Matti Miettinen, came after Foreign Minister Ahti Kajkalainen reported on his weekend mission to Moscow to discuss the Oct. 30 Soviet note.

A Foreign Ministry communique said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko told Kajkalainen the U.S.S.R. had "not the slightest intention of intervening in Finland's domestic position" but "the political situation in Finland had become uncertain."

The communique said Gromyko asked for assurances of the continuation of the present Finnish foreign policy—a delicately poised neutrality between the Soviet Union and the West—in order that "military consultations might be avoided."

Kekkonen responded with his announcement in which he said that the international situation demanded prompt arrival at decisions which could not await the summer elections.

Kekkonen seeks re-election as president and is considered the strongest candidate. His chief opponent is Olavi Honka, former chancellor of justice, who is sponsored by Social Democratic leader V. Tanner. Honka's election would be certain to arouse Soviet wrath, since Tanner was foreign minister during the 1939-40 Finnish-Russian war.

Over 80 Expected At Traffic Safety Conference Here

Between 80 and 100 young people of the area are expected to attend the seventh annual Tri-State Youth Traffic Safety Conference Thursday night at Westgate School.

All schools in Columbiana County sponsoring driver training courses have been invited to send delegates to the event held by the East Liverpool High School Driving Club and the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Glenn S. Aston - Reese, instructor at Mt. Lebanon, and Channel 13 driver teacher, will be speaker for the event, which will start with registration at 5 p. m. and dinner at 6.

"Operation Living" will be theme for the conference which will include group discussions on four major topics: personal attitudes, youth and traffic law enforcement, patterns for action and specific youth problems.

Girl, 20, Steps In As Mother And Father To Eight

WARROAD, Minn. (AP)—Since September, Rita Foster, 20, has been mother and father to eight younger brothers and sisters.

Their father died from cancer in September, a year almost to the day after cancer had taken the life of their mother. Rita stepped in to keep the family together.

Several relatives live in the Warroad community. Rita says, "I suppose we could have sent the kids to live with them. But that would have meant splitting them up, and I will not have that."

Her voice had the snap of authority as she told one of the younger children to hang up her coat, another to stop teasing her sister, a third to get off the table.

"Sometimes they forget who's boss," she explained, "and I have to holler a little to remind them."

But when Denise and Deanne, the 4-year-old twins who still do not understand what happened to their parents, began to cry, she swept them into her arms to comfort them.

"I'm just trying to run this household the way mom or dad would have run it," she said.

The other children are Nancy, 17, and Michael, 15, her chief helpers, Gloria, 14, Barbara, 12, Delores, 11, and Roberta, 9.

Burned In Explosion

FORT BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Pvt. Robert F. Steiner, 18, of Medina, Ohio, is in satisfactory condition at Fort Benning Army Hospital after being burned Monday in a freak explosion of a shell in a tank. The explosion killed another soldier.

Warrants Cite Six In Violation Of Closing Law

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Violation of Ohio's Sunday closing law is charged in six warrants issued in Lorain County.

The warrants resulted from alleged purchases made Sunday, Nov. 5, by Mrs. Donald Parker of Lorain, a member of the Lorain County Committee for Sunday Observance, Inc.

Warrants were issued in Elyria Municipal Court Tuesday against Edward Wexler, manager of the Joe Norban Co. here; Morris Rapoport, manager of the Big Town Discount Store in North Ridgeville; Walter Nacey, manager of the Ontario Store in Elyria Twp., and Louis Weisberg of Cleveland, president of Giant Tiger Stores, for a sale at the Elyria store.

All but Nacey have faced similar charges before. Appeals of some of the cases are still in the courts.

Warrants were issued Monday in Lorain against Sidney Gluck, manager of the Briteway Sales Co., Inc., in Lorain, and Harold Miner, manager of the Pick-Way Shoe Mart there.

Miner pleaded innocent in Lorain Municipal Court Tuesday and his trial was set for Dec. 14.

28,000 Seal Appeals Out For $33,000

A total of 28,000 letters have been mailed in the annual Christmas Seal campaign of the Columbiana County Public Health League, Albert Hanna of Salem, president, announced.

Hanna urged county residents to support the drive, the only support of the year-round program of eliminating tuberculosis in the county, including health education, research, tuberculin testing and chest X-rays in selected area.

Last year a total of $29,562 was raised during the campaign. The county-wide goal of $33,000 represents the amount needed to carry on the case-finding and education work of the Public Health League. Twenty per cent of the funds raised are used for state and national programs.

City and township workers and chairmen give hundreds of volunteer hours to make it possible to keep campaign costs at a minimum.

"Tuberculosis still is a major cause of death among people between 15 and 35. It is topped only by accidents, cancer and heart disease. A person with tuberculosis is fortunate if his disease is found early and is brought under treatment immediately," he said.

Butler and Knox, Mrs. Roy Thornton — $1,200; Center, C. R. McKenzie — $2,400; Elkrun, Mrs. Frank Desellem — $225; Fairfield, Mark Klingensmith — $3,300; Franklin and Wayne, Mrs. Bert Davis — $200; Hanover, Mrs. John Lindesmith — $675; Liverpool and St. Clair, J. A. Reaney — $9,000.

Madison, H. W. Applegate — $200; Middleton, Mrs. Helen McCall — $450; Perry, D. L. Vincent — $7,200; Salem, Lester Fisher — $1,500; Unity, Paul E. Lange — $3,200; Washington, Mrs. Hazel Baker — $575; West, Mrs. Donald H. Stafford — $475, and Yellow Creek, Fred A. Huston — $2,400.

2 Windows Smashed In Contractor's Crane

Baker & Hickey, Inc., of Columbus, one of the contractors on the West End - California Hollow freeway project, complained to police today a vandal smashed two windows 18-x-30 inches late Tuesday or early today while the equipment was parked on the construction site.

The vandalism took place sometime between 4 p. m. yesterday and 7:30 this morning, the firm reported. The loss is covered by insurance, police were told.

Meanwhile, Eleanor Watters of Dresden Ave. told police at 12:50 p. m. Tuesday the windshield of her 1956 auto was broken by an object thrown or fired by an unknown person as she drove east on W. 8th St.

Midland Fire Unit Will Hold Yule Fete

Treats will also be distributed to the Heights children. Further plans will be made at the meeting Dec. 12. Clyde Sentz, president, presided and Capt. Nicholas Zapsic led a discussion on how firemen may help the community in the event of a nuclear attack.

Class Play Awaited

EAST PALESTINE — The annual East Palestine High School Junior Class play will be presented Friday night at 8 at the high school. The three-act comedy, "The Perfect Idiot," is directed by Mrs. Ruth Oakley and Mrs. Carol Russell of the faculty.

NEW RESUSCITATOR. Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, center, and Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne learn some of the mechanics of a new portable resuscitator from W. B. Piper of the Warren Fire Equipment Co. Purchased with funds appropriated by City Council, the combination resuscitator-inhalator replaces a 22-year-old unit. It can be used to resuscitate two people at the same time or administer oxygen to three persons at once, Piper told the city officials.

Columbus Family Among Guests At Home In Irondale

Mr. and Mrs. William Chrisos and family of Upper Arlington, Columbus, and John Bailey of East Liverpool visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Billie of Irondale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitley and daughter, Sally, of Carnegie were weekend guests of Mrs. Mary Hicks and Mrs. Annie Roberts.

Mrs. Gerald Heffner of Massillon visited Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams.

Mrs. Jean Gill and children visited Saturday with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kruise, of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kountz of Leetonia and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ferry and family of Cambridge visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ferry.

Mr. and Mrs. Quenton Henderson and Mrs. Harold Gill visited in Youngstown Saturday.

A party was held Friday night after the Stanton Local - Malvern football game at the local high school. A record-hop was held and lunch was served 100 by the Band Boosters.

Ohio Soldier Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohioan, Sp.4 Jack L. White of Cambridge, was one of seven soldiers killed Monday in the crash of a helicopter south of Seoul, Korea, the Army has announced.

Grange Gets State Report

Mrs. Robert Parkins of New Cumberland, elected West Virginia Grange lecturer at the state convention Oct. 26-28, reported on the sessions at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. Parkins, Fairview secretary, said the Fairview Grange received an award for the best publicity book. She was also named one of the three best secretaries.

Mrs. Parkins said Fairview was one of five banner Granges. Mrs. Marian Helsel received a prize for the best crochet entry in state competition, and will be in the national contest.

The Grange contributed $5 to the New Cumberland United Organizations, and purchased a $5 tuberculosis bond.

Mrs. Rose Hukill was in charge of the program which included a Thanksgiving prayer by Mrs. Hilary Johnston, readings by Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. Beulah Cupp and Mrs. Mary Watson. Mrs. Johnston won a quiz.

Lunch was served 27 by Mrs. Earl Pugh. C. C. Herron, overseer, presided. A Farmers - City Night program will be held at the next meeting Nov. 28.

2 Windows Smashed In Contractor's Crane

Baker & Hickey, Inc., of Columbus, one of the contractors on the West End - California Hollow freeway project, complained to police today a vandal smashed two windows 18-x-30 inches late Tuesday or early today while the equipment was parked on the construction site.

The vandalism took place sometime between 4 p. m. yesterday and 7:30 this morning, the firm reported. The loss is covered by insurance, police were told.

Meanwhile, Eleanor Watters of Dresden Ave. told police at 12:50 p. m. Tuesday the windshield of her 1956 auto was broken by an object thrown or fired by an unknown person as she drove east on W. 8th St.

Midland Fire Unit Will Hold Yule Fete

Treats will also be distributed to the Heights children. Further plans will be made at the meeting Dec. 12. Clyde Sentz, president, presided and Capt. Nicholas Zapsic led a discussion on how firemen may help the community in the event of a nuclear attack.

Class Play Awaited

EAST PALESTINE — The annual East Palestine High School Junior Class play will be presented Friday night at 8 at the high school. The three-act comedy, "The Perfect Idiot," is directed by Mrs. Ruth Oakley and Mrs. Carol Russell of the faculty.

NEW RESUSCITATOR. Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, center, and Asst. Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne learn some of the mechanics of a new portable resuscitator from W. B. Piper of the Warren Fire Equipment Co. Purchased with funds appropriated by City Council, the combination resuscitator-inhalator replaces a 22-year-old unit. It can be used to resuscitate two people at the same time or administer oxygen to three persons at once, Piper told the city officials.

You Can Survive Atomic Attack

What Varied Size Bombs Could Do

By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

So far, we've been talking about protection which could save many millions of lives from fallout radiation.

What about the terrific blast loosed by H-bombs? What about the super-bomb with which Premier Khrushchev has been threatening us?

Your fallout shelter provides some protection. The stronger the shelter — and the farther from the center of the bombing — the better. Fallout shelters are especially good against marginal blast effects, at the outer area of the circle blast destructiveness.

BUT LET no one deceive himself.

If you are right under or very near the center of a bomb exploding on the ground, there is no hope.

Direct ground hits will dig huge craters, perhaps collapsing all but the deepest and strongest underground shelters there. It will produce total destruction in all directions for at least two to three miles. Destructive blast waves could speed out for miles to shake or blow down houses.

Assume a one-megaton bomb. That means one equal to one million tons of TNT, or 50 times more powerful than the Hiroshima bomb.

A 10 - megaton bomb would wreck houses eight miles away, and bring down some frame houses ten miles distant. Notice it would NOT reach out 10 times farther than the one - megaton bomb.

A 100-MEGATON bomb, such as Khrushchev has mentioned would wreck houses 20 miles away — only five times as far as the one-megaton bomb.

Obviously your chances of surviving blast depend on where you are within or outside the circle of blast effects, and the size of weapon.

Shelters guaranteeing everyone against blast are impossible.

Really good closeup blast shelters are very expensive, almost to the point of impracticability for most families. Even fairly near the center, you would have good protection with a buried shelter built of concrete, but it would cost $3,000 to $5,000.

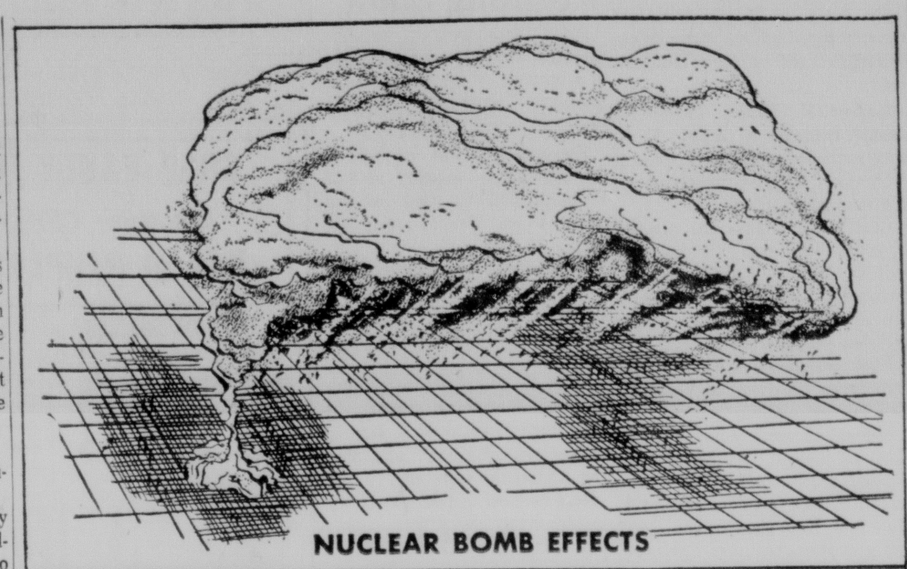
Indoors, a shelter of concrete blocks in the basement could withstand blast at reasonable distances from the center of a bomb, even if your house came tumbling down.



NUCLEAR BOMB EFFECTS

MATERIAL DAMAGE	1 MEGATON	10 MEGATONS
CRATER DUG IN DRY SOIL	Radius 650 ft., 140 deep	Radius 1,250 ft., 240 deep
FIRES SET TO CURTAINS, LIGHT KINDLING	Radius 9 miles	Radius 25 miles
PHYSICAL HUMAN EFFECTS (OUT IN OPEN WITHOUT PROTECTION)
Injury from flying debris of blast	Radius 3 mi., area 28 sq. mi.	Radius 7 mi., area 150 sq. mi.
Second degree burns, bare skin	Radius 9 mi., area 250 sq. mi.	Radius 25 mi., area 2,000 sq. mi.
Initial nuclear radiation, 700 roentgens	Radius 1.5 mi., area 7 sq. mi.	Radius 2 mi., area 12.5 sq. mi.
Fallout, 15-knot winds, 400 roentgens in 48 hours, no shielding	40 miles downwind, 5 mi. crosswind; 200 sq. miles	150 miles downwind, 25 mi. crosswind, 2,500 sq. miles

A basement fallout shelter with walls of concrete two feet thick could resist pressure of 10 pounds per square inch, which is more than enough to blow a house down. For that contingency, you need ax, pick and shovel to dig yourself out.

Plans for sturdy fallout shelters which also give some anti-blast insurance are available from your local office of Civil Defense.

ONCE MORE I want to emphasize that if you are caught outdoors in a bombing, throw yourself flat. Duck into a culvert or ditch, or behind some solid protection if it is available. You can at least gamble you will be far enough from the center not to be killed by blast.

And remember, the blast effect hurtles all kinds of objects about, like a tornado. If you remain standing, you could be hit and killed by such debris.

If you are at home or office when a bomb exploded without any warning, duck instantly away from windows.

Windows can blow in, transformed suddenly into a hail of sharp, dangerous slivers of glass. This would happen at distances beyond that at which frame houses would be knocked about or down.

Many Japense victims were badly or fatally cut by flying glass. In Civil Defense tests with A-bombs in Nevada, mannequins sitting in a living room were actually riddled with glass. Others escaped because they were in corridors, or behind protection, out of the line of flight of the cascade of glass.

If you have a fireplace, you might try to fling yourself into or very near the hearth. Chimneys can stand even when the blast is strong enough to bring down a frame house.

The least you can do is to check about and determine where your best chances lie, and hope the center of the explosion is far enough away. We can all do something with what we have.

Trustee Race Recount's Set

The County Election Board today set Monday night at 9 for a one-precinct recount of a 10-man township trustee race in Middleton Township at the Nov. 7 general election, in which Norman Wright of near Rogers, an incumbent, apparently was defeated by nine votes.

Wright filed a recount request with the board Tuesday afternoon, posting the $10 bond required by law to cover the cost. He asked a new tabulation in the Negley Precinct. Middleton Township has four precincts.

In the Negley precinct, Wright was credited with 35, while Dyke received 73 and George was given 135.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said the Middleton Township recount will be held immediately after a recount set at 8 on returns in a Council race in Columbiana village.

The Columbiana recount, covering eight precincts, was requested earlier by Willard Zellers, Democrat, seeking to upset his one-vote defeat. He was credited with 723 votes to the 724 given Harry Oesch, Republican.

College Night Dinner Set By Chester Club

A committee for the annual "College Night" dinner of the Chester Kiwanis Club was appointed at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Appointed to the committee were Eugene Seeley, chairman, Raymond Stevens, Paul Finley and Thayer Allison. The dinner, which will also be a "Ladies Night" event, will be held Dec. 19 at the Methodist Church memorial center. College students will be guests.

Plans were made for an inter-club meeting Nov. 28 at Weirton where Ken Lambert of Parsons, district governor, will be speaker. Reservations are due Monday.

Russell Davis, president, announced a training conference for officers and committee heads will be held Nov. 26 at Wellsburg.

Lisbon Banks Ready To Issue Yule Checks

LISBON — A total of $100,290 in Christmas savings for some 1,146 club accounts will be distributed by the Farmers National Bank and the Firestone Bank Friday and Monday, respectively.

The Farmers Bank reports a total of $44,948 for 595 club members, compared to $50,029.90 received by 629 members in 1960.

Firestone Bank reports $55,-342.75 due 551 club members, compared to $57,802.50 saved by 585 in 1960.

Lawrenceville Gets 15 Street Lights

Installation of 15 street lights in Lawrenceville, a community service project of the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163, was completed this week by the Monongahela Power Co.

The project was the first in the power firm's district in which one organization underwrote the cost of community lights, which are available on a single basis to individuals, neighborhoods or groups.

There are three such individual lights in the Lawrenceville area, making a total of 19 when another is installed as planned, Jordan said.

The new lights, called "Suburbanaire Luminaire," are a mercury vapor type which are equipped with photogelectric cells turning them on at dark and off in the daytime.

The Legion post will pay $720 a year for the 15 700-candlepower lights it has agreed to sponsor. Others on the Legion's light committee are Guy Micheals and Tim Mayes. Paul Gill is commander.

Arb Will Handle New Meteor Car

Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Penn Ave., has been appointed to sell the Mercury Meteor, a completely new-sized car to be introduced here on Thursday, Nov. 30.

Its introduction will climax the industry's fall showings of the 1962 models.

The Meteor is regarded by the Lincoln-Mercury Division as a balance between the industry's compacts and big cars. Compared to its companions in the Mercury line, the Meteor is nine inches longer than the Comet and nearly a foot shorter than the Monterey.

In appearance, the Meteor emphasizes clean-lines styling. The car, which is built with a unitized body, incorporates features designed to reduce maintenance costs.

The new Meteor will be offered in four body styles — two and four-door sedans in both a standard and custom series.

Ohioville GOP Club Will Fete Candidates

All recent Republican candidates in Ohioville will be guests of honor at a coverdish dinner of the Ohioville Republican Club tonight at 6:30 at the fire hall in Ohio Township.

The club will furnish rolls, butter and beverages. Members will bring a coverdish and table service. Mrs. George Gailey Jr. is dinner chairman.

Firemen Air Radio Change

Plans to begin operating on a new radio wave length by 1963 were discussed by the Hancock County Fire-Fighters Association Tuesday night in New Cumberland.

George H. Evans, Pittsburgh district manager of General Electric, spoke on procedure for county firemen to follow in setting up the new radio circuit.

County fire departments are required to begin using the new circuit by 1963. Radios in fire department vehicles presently use the same frequency band as local police departments.

Nominated were Chief Arch Coen of Newell, president; Jed Wilson, assistant chief of Chester, first vice president; Mike Macek of New Cumberland, second vice president; Jim Pittenger of Pughtown, third vice president; William Prosser, of Weirton, secretary-treasurer, and John Bright of Weirton, three-year trustee.

Prosser has been the only secretary-treasurer since the group was organized. Ed Norvell of Weirton is president.

Newell firemen were asked to aid the auxiliary at a public fish sandwich sale Friday from 5 to 7 p. m. at the station.

Boosters To Give Wrestling Show

The matches will be held at the high school starting at 8:30. Proceeds will be used for projects, Foyn Wright, president, said.

The annual football banquet will be held Saturday night at 6:30 at the high school with Robert Bronson of Ashland College as speaker.

About 25 attended the meeting. Ernest Gonter gave prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. Mildred Emmerling, treasurer, and Mrs. Ann Klembara, secretary.

Next meeting is Dec. 12.

82 Pupils TB Tested

LISBON — A total of 82 Mantoux TB tests were given to eighth graders at Fairfield School Tuesday and 31 for seniors at Crestview High School, along with 15 teachers and cafeteria workers, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner. The staff will return to the two schools Thursday to read the results.

4 To Represent Lions At Waterford Meeting

Four members of the East Liverpool Lions Club will attend a zone meeting Thursday night at 6:30 at which the New Waterford Club will be host at the Methodist Church.

William E. Hiscox, zone chairman, will preside.

George McCullough, senior district deputy governor, and Mrs. McCullough will attend a Charter Night observance of the Wintersville club the same night.

Trustee Race Recount's Set

The County Election Board today set Monday night at 9 for a one-precinct recount of a 10-man township trustee race in Middleton Township at the Nov. 7 general election, in which Norman Wright of near Rogers, an incumbent, apparently was defeated by nine votes.

Wright filed a recount request with the board Tuesday afternoon, posting the $10 bond required by law to cover the cost. He asked a new tabulation in the Negley Precinct. Middleton Township has four precincts.

In the Negley precinct, Wright was credited with 35, while Dyke received 73 and George was given 135.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said the Middleton Township recount will be held immediately after a recount set at 8 on returns in a Council race in Columbiana village.

The Columbiana recount, covering eight precincts, was requested earlier by Willard Zellers, Democrat, seeking to upset his one-vote defeat. He was credited with 723 votes to the 724 given Harry Oesch, Republican.

College Night Dinner Set By Chester Club

A committee for the annual "College Night" dinner of the Chester Kiwanis Club was appointed at a meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

Appointed to the committee were Eugene Seeley, chairman, Raymond Stevens, Paul Finley and Thayer Allison. The dinner, which will also be a "Ladies Night" event, will be held Dec. 19 at the Methodist Church memorial center. College students will be guests.

Plans were made for an inter-club meeting Nov. 28 at Weirton where Ken Lambert of Parsons, district governor, will be speaker. Reservations are due Monday.

Russell Davis, president, announced a training conference for officers and committee heads will be held Nov. 26 at Wellsburg.

Stanton, Hoppel Share Honors

DON McBRIDE
Hit Jackpot In 1st Season.

McBride Gains Laurels In First Season At Irondale School

The Irons will lose nearly the entire starting squad through graduation, including high-scoring halfback Stan Wickham, and standout quarterback Bob Mills.

Coach Don McBride, who piloted the Irons to the title with an 8-1-0 record in his first year there, will lose all but three of the top 13 performers.

Only end Larry Mills, halfback John Pearson and tackle Butch Fowler will return from this year's squad to help the Irons defend their title next season.

But the Irons can't be counted out of the title scrap among smaller schools entirely, although they will lose 10 seniors.

And McBride's flashy coaching record can't be discounted either. His overall mark has zoomed to 34-2-2, counting two unbeaten campaigns in three previous years at Hopedale.

Also missing from the district picture next year will be leading scorer Carl Hoppel of Beaver Local. The rugged, 150-pound halfback tallied 103 points on 15 touchdowns and 13 conversion points.

Hoppel's steady play (he scored in every game) paced the Beavers to the Class AA district title with a 7-1-2 record for Coach Jack O'Rourke, a stickler for fundamentals, especially tackling.

O'Rourke's conscientious attitude toward defense resulted in the Beavers blanking six foes, including a 6-0 victory over arch-rival Wellsville in the biggest game of the entire year.

All in all, it was a hectic year for most district squads, with only six able to compile winning records.

Besides Stanton and Beaver, the winning teams came from Columbiana, New Cumberland, Salem and United.

Wellsville High's Tigers finished even at 5-5, but had a highly-interesting year. Coach Ken Woods' charges bumped Warren St. Mary's from the unbeaten ranks in their finale to vindicate themselves for several unexpected defeats.

The Tigers were led in scoring by junior halfback Alvin Thompson, who tallied 42 points on six touchdowns and two conversions.

New Cumberland had two performers in the "Top Ten" list of high scorers in quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer and sophomore Allen Pettit.

Jim Brown Heading To Rush Title

The Browns' fullback, now second among the all-time NFL rushers, came up with his fourth straight game in which he's gained more than 100 yards Sunday in Cleveland's 17-6 conquest of the Washington Redskins.

The performance, his best of the campaign with 133 yards, increased his 1961 rushing total to 853 yards on 191 carries or 73 yards more than runnerup Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the NFL's weekly statistics showed today.

Brown now has collected 5,908 yards rushing during his 5-year NFL career. Only Baltimore's Joe Perry has more yards—7,748 in 12 seasons.

Bart Starr of Green Bay, the Western Conference leader, zoomed into the lead in passing with his efforts in the Packers' 31-28 squeeze by the Chicago Bears and stepped ahead of Sonny Jurgensen of the Philadelphia Eagles, who fell into a first-place Eastern Conference tie with New York by bowing to the Giants 38-21.

Starr has completed 110 of 190 passes and Jurgensen 144 of 257.

Texas Star Named Top Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Moses is a nice looking 21-year-old whose play at end for the University of Texas football team has helped the Longhorns gain No. 1 national ranking in The Associated Press weekly poll.

Today he was named the Lineman of the Week by the AP for his outstanding performance last Saturday as Texas beat Baylor 33-7.

The 195-pound senior from Richmond, Tex. lived up to his reputation as a good receiver as well as able to make the big play defensively. He made an exceptional catch of a 20-yard forward pass for Texas' second touchdown. He did it while putting on a successful balancing act in the end zone to stay within bounds.

Moses, who prepped at Deerfield Academy in Massachusetts, also was outstanding on defense. Early in the third quarter he broke through and nailed Baylor's halfback, Kelly Roberts, behind the line. He tackled him so hard Roberts lost his hold on the ball and Texas recovered. He alternated in rushing the passer and dropping back to cover receivers.

High up in the voting by sportswriters and broadcasters in the weekly AP poll were three tackles, Don Brumm of Purdue, Don Vander Velden of Wisconsin and Foster Andersen of UCLA.

Rens Meet Frisco

STEUBENVILLE — The Pittsburgh Rens, fighting for the lead in the Eastern Division of the new American Basketball League, will meet the San Francisco Saints Monday at 9 p. m. at the Diocesan Community Arena here.

The Rens and the Saints also meet Sunday at Pittsburgh in the Civic Auditorium.

Scribe Picks Texas, Alabama Over Rivals

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market averages keep going up and up. The college football forecasting averages keep going down and down. Will the twain ever meet? Last week's selections averaged .733 (44 correct, 16 wrong).

This week's picks:

Texas over Texas Christian: It is TCU's turn to stage another of the many upsets that dot this venerable series but the 1961 Longhorns are not that complacent.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Tech has vowed to defeat every team that whipped the Engineers last year and that includes Alabama. It won't be a cakewalk but Alabama's defense is too rugged.

Ohio State over Oregon: Bob Ferguson will make the West Coast team wish it had declined the invitation to visit the Midwest.

Louisiana State over Mississippi State: Jerry Stovall and Wendell Harris hit with the best and will decide the issue.

Minnesota over Purdue: Sandy Stephens never fires that ball until he sees the white in the eyes of his receivers. Purdue already had engineered two upsets this season and that's enough for one year.

Mississippi over Tennessee: That defeat by LSU taught the Rebels you must play football to win in the SEC.

Pittsburgh over Southern California: Jim Traficant's passing will startle the Trojans.

Colorado over Nebraska: The Buffaloes, with their eyes on the Orange Bowl, will make amends for their startling loss to Utah.

Michigan State over Northwestern: The Spartan offense, held to six points in the last two outings, gets back into high gear with George Saimes.

Missouri over Kansas State: With the Orange Bowl designation still open, the Missourians will turn loose all their power.

UCLA over Washington: Washington has been the Coast Conference champion for two years. This year it will be UCLA.

Maryland over Wake Forest: Norman Snead will be missed by the Deacons while Gary Collins will star for Maryland.

Rens Late Rally Tops Hawaii Five, 100-99

The Hawaii Chiefs of the new American Basketball League are halfway through a 16-game, season-starting road trip—and Honolulu must be looking farther away to them all the time.

The Chiefs, who'll be bouncing around the mainland for another five games before they finally play their home opener against Chicago on Nov. 24, dropped their fourth in five starts Tuesday night —100 to 99 when the Pittsburgh Rens made up a 9-point deficit in the last period.

The victory kept the Rens comfortably in first place in the ABL's Eastern Division while in the West, the Los Angeles Jets pulled into a virtual tie with Kansas City by beating Cleveland 106-90.

Los Angeles, now 5-3 to 4-2 for idle Kansas City, were led by Bill Spivey with 23 points.

PITTSBURGH—100
Mangham 5-1-11; Cincebox 3-5-11; Hawkins 6-8-20; Bolyard 7-10-24; Rollins 6-4-18; Patterson 5-1-11; Doyle 1-0-2; Patrone 0-2-2. Totals 33-31-100.
HAWAII—99
Mills 7-6-20; Kirk 6-2-15; Cohen 4-2-10; Perry 4-1-9; Burgess 10-9-29; Sawyer 2-4-8; Denton 4-0-8. Totals 37-24-99

Kansas City's Star Leads ABL Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Bridges of Kansas City boosted his lead to remain in front of the scoring leaders in the American Basketball League.

Through games of Sunday night, Bridges carried a 26.0 average for six games. Hal Lear and Dan Swartz of Los Angeles were tied for second with 143 points in six games for 23.8 average.

Houston is represented on the roster of the Baltimore Colts by defensive tackle Jim Colvin and guard Wiley Feagin.

OU Or W. Michigan To Get Bowl Bid

Bobcat's Hess Blasts Poor Officiating

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference settled one issue Tuesday and immediately was faced with another.

MAC Commissioner Dr. Dave Reese of Dayton confirmed that the winner of Saturday's Ohio University - Western Michigan game at Athens will represent the conference in the Aviation Bowl game in Dayton Dec. 9.

Meanwhile, Coach Bill Hess of Ohio U. let loose with a blast at the conference's officiating. "I'm just sick and tired of it," Hess told newsmen. "Officials are going to have to start officiating if we're going to cut down on injuries."

If Ohio U. (3-2) wins Saturday, it will tie Western Michigan (4-1) for second place in the league, but the Bobcats would get the nod for the new bowl. A Western Michigan triumph would give the Broncos a share of the title with Bowling Green (5-1) and the bowl bid.

The decision was made by a poll of MAC member schools.

Bowling Green will be sole champion should Western Michigan lose or tie. But the Falcons are committed to another postseason game, the Mercy Bowl in California Nov. 23. It is a benefit for survivors of the California Poly football squad members killed in a plane crash last year after playing Bowling Green.

Fighting for a berth in the Aviation Bowl, against a visiting team to be selected from six unnamed schools being watched by a committee for the sponsoring Greater Dayton Jaycees, Hess made it clear his rap at officiating was no alibi for last week's tough 7-6 loss to Bowling Green.

"We have no alibi. Officiating did not lose for us," Hess said.

But he complained that penalties are not being called enough on illegal use of hands.

"If they are worried about injuries to the head, then they better start calling illegal use of the hands," Hess said. "Our officials spend too much time warning the boys. The heck with the warning—call 'em.

"I'm for anything that would help officiating. I'm interested in a fifth man or anything that will correct these problems."

$15,000 'Cajun Golf Classic To Begin Thursday

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Each fall golf's Hebert brothers—Lionel and Jay—return home to Louisiana to fill their pockets with winnings in the $15,000 'Cajun Classic golf tourney.

But this year, 28-year-old Doug Sanders, a Georgia cracker transplated to Ojai, Calif., may have something to say about the Heberts' dominance of the event when 130 pros tee off Thursday on the 6,534-yard par-71 Oakbourne Country Club course.

The jittery-swinging Sanders is the third-leading money winner on the 1961 PGA tour (Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, 1-2 in earnings are sidelined at present) with purses of more than $53,000.

Other top golfers entered in the 72-hole tourney include Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn.; Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.; Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N.C.; Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y.; and Al Balding of Toronto, Canada.

Al Zarilla and Lloyd Christopher, both former outfielders, have been added to the scouting staff of the Cincinnati Reds.

Stanton, Hoppel Share Honors

DON McBRIDE
Hit Jackpot In 1st Season.

McBride Gains Laurels In First Season At Irondale School

The Irons will lose nearly the entire starting squad through graduation, including high-scoring halfback Stan Wickham, and standout quarterback Bob Mills.

Coach Don McBride, who piloted the Irons to the title with an 8-1-0 record in his first year there, will lose all but three of the top 13 performers.

Only end Larry Mills, halfback John Pearson and tackle Butch Fowler will return from this year's squad to help the Irons defend their title next season.

But the Irons can't be counted out of the title scrap among smaller schools entirely, although they will lose 10 seniors.

And McBride's flashy coaching record can't be discounted either. His overall mark has zoomed to 34-2-2, counting two unbeaten campaigns in three previous years at Hopedale.

Also missing from the district picture next year will be leading scorer Carl Hoppel of Beaver Local. The rugged, 150-pound halfback tallied 103 points on 15 touchdowns and 13 conversion points.

Hoppel's steady play (he scored in every game) paced the Beavers to the Class AA district title with a 7-1-2 record for Coach Jack O'Rourke, a stickler for fundamentals, especially tackling.

O'Rourke's conscientious attitude toward defense resulted in the Beavers blanking six foes, including a 6-0 victory over arch-rival Wellsville in the biggest game of the entire year.

All in all, it was a hectic year for most district squads, with only six able to compile winning records.

Besides Stanton and Beaver, the winning teams came from Columbiana, New Cumberland, Salem and United.

Wellsville High's Tigers finished even at 5-5, but had a highly-interesting year. Coach Ken Woods' charges bumped Warren St. Mary's from the unbeaten ranks in their finale to vindicate themselves for several unexpected defeats.

The Tigers were led in scoring by junior halfback Alvin Thompson, who tallied 42 points on six touchdowns and two conversions.

Jim Brown Heading To Rush Title

The Browns' fullback, now second among the all-time NFL rushers, came up with his fourth straight game in which he's gained more than 100 yards Sunday in Cleveland's 17-6 conquest of the Washington Redskins.

The performance, his best of the campaign with 133 yards, increased his 1961 rushing total to 853 yards on 191 carries or 73 yards more than runnerup Jim Taylor of Green Bay, the NFL's weekly statistics showed today.

Brown now has collected 5,908 yards rushing during his 5-year NFL career. Only Baltimore's Joe Perry has more yards—7,748 in 12 seasons.

Bart Starr of Green Bay, the Western Conference leader, zoomed into the lead in passing with his efforts in the Packers' 31-28 squeeze by the Chicago Bears and stepped ahead of Sonny Jurgensen of the Philadelphia Eagles, who fell into a first-place Eastern Conference tie with New York by bowing to the Giants 38-21.

Starr has completed 110 of 190 passes and Jurgensen 144 of 257.

Texas Star Named Top Lineman

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Moses is a nice looking 21-year-old whose play at end for the University of Texas football team has helped the Longhorns gain No. 1 national ranking in The Associated Press weekly poll.

Today he was named the Lineman of the Week by the AP for his outstanding performance last Saturday as Texas beat Baylor 33-7.

The 195-pound senior from Richmond, Tex. lived up to his reputation as a good receiver as well as able to make the big play defensively. He made an exceptional catch of a 20-yard forward pass for Texas' second touchdown. He did it while putting on a successful balancing act in the end zone to stay within bounds.

Moses, who prepped at Deerfield Academy in Massachusetts, also was outstanding on defense. Early in the third quarter he broke through and nailed Baylor's halfback, Kelly Roberts, behind the line. He tackled him so hard Roberts lost his hold on the ball and Texas recovered. He alternated in rushing the passer and dropping back to cover receivers.

High up in the voting by sportswriters and broadcasters in the weekly AP poll were three tackles, Don Brumm of Purdue, Don Vander Velden of Wisconsin and Foster Andersen of UCLA.

Scribe Picks Texas, Alabama Over Rivals

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market averages keep going up and up. The college football forecasting averages keep going down and down. Will the twain ever meet? Last week's selections averaged .733 (44 correct, 16 wrong).

This week's picks:

Texas over Texas Christian: It is TCU's turn to stage another of the many upsets that dot this venerable series but the 1961 Longhorns are not that complacent.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Tech has vowed to defeat every team that whipped the Engineers last year and that includes Alabama. It won't be a cakewalk but Alabama's defense is too rugged.

Ohio State over Oregon: Bob Ferguson will make the West Coast team wish it had declined the invitation to visit the Midwest.

Louisiana State over Mississippi State: Jerry Stovall and Wendell Harris hit with the best and will decide the issue.

Minnesota over Purdue: Sandy Stephens never fires that ball until he sees the white in the eyes of his receivers. Purdue already had engineered two upsets this season and that's enough for one year.

Mississippi over Tennessee: That defeat by LSU taught the Rebels you must play football to win in the SEC.

Pittsburgh over Southern California: Jim Traficant's passing will startle the Trojans.

Colorado over Nebraska: The Buffaloes, with their eyes on the Orange Bowl, will make amends for their startling loss to Utah.

Michigan State over Northwestern: The Spartan offense, held to six points in the last two outings, gets back into high gear with George Saimes.

Missouri over Kansas State: With the Orange Bowl designation still open, the Missourians will turn loose all their power.

UCLA over Washington: Washington has been the Coast Conference champion for two years. This year it will be UCLA.

Maryland over Wake Forest: Norman Snead will be missed by the Deacons while Gary Collins will star for Maryland.

Rens Late Rally Tops Hawaii Five, 100-99

The Hawaii Chiefs of the new American Basketball League are halfway through a 16-game, season-starting road trip—and Honolulu must be looking farther away to them all the time.

The Chiefs, who'll be bouncing around the mainland for another five games before they finally play their home opener against Chicago on Nov. 24, dropped their fourth in five starts Tuesday night—100 to 99 when the Pittsburgh Rens made up a 9-point deficit in the last period.

The victory kept the Rens comfortably in first place in the ABL's Eastern Division while in the West, the Los Angeles Jets pulled into a virtual tie with Kansas City by beating Cleveland 106-90.

Los Angeles, now 5-3 to 4-2 for idle Kansas City, were led by Bill Spivey with 23 points.

PITTSBURGH—100
Mangham 5-1-11; Cincebox 3-5-11; Hawkins 6-8-20; Bolyard 7-10-24; Rollins 6-4-18; Patterson 5-1-11; Doyle 1-0-2; Patrone 0-2-2. Totals 33-51-100.

Alliance Shows Speed, Potters Have Injuries

East Liverpool Coach Bob Hedmond labeled Alliance High's Aviators as "a team with exceptional speed" in reporting on Friday night's opponent for the Potters at a meeting of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club Tuesday in the YMCA.

"They have speed galore and we expect them to play a scientific ball game," Hedmond told the club.

The Potters (3-5) are "pretty low physically" for their annual battle with the highly - rated Aviators, Hedmond said.

Led by fleet back Charlie Hill, Alliance has won eight games and lost only to Niles, 30-6, and Massillon, 26-0.

Hedmond compared Alliance's speed with that displayed last week by Cleveland Glenville, which dumped the Potters, 32-14.

A wave of injuries that started with the Niles opener has continued, and manpower has dwindled to 33, Hedmond added. He screened movies of last week's game.

Twenty - five attended, and Russell E. Hall, president, conducted business. Ed Sisley was named chairman of a special project, with full details to be announced later.

Merrill Hall of ELHS distributed tickets for the Alliance game, and reported on a meeting of a state athletic board in Columbus. Next meeting will be Tuesday night.

Auto Caravan, Sendoff Slated For Potters

An "auto caravan" is also planned by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club for the Alliance trip. Fans are to assemble at the Westgate parking lot, and the cars will leave no later than 5:30. Blue and White crepe paper will be available for decorating the cars.

A send-off for the Potters is scheduled on the Diamond at 5 with the players' bus to be escorted to the city limits by fans. The kickoff at Alliance is set for 8 p. m.

Midland Hot Stove Gridders Honored

About 80 boys of the Midland Hot Stove Football League, A. L. Sonnhalter Chapter, attended a banquet in their honor Tuesday evening in the Steelworkers Hall.

Trophies were donated by Emil Onuska of the Midland Distributing Co. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, 109 Hillcrest, and Tavares is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tavares, 24 Midcrest.

Danny Tepovich and Chris Tozana are captains of the Blue and Gold. Other teams include Green and White (Notre Dame) second place; Red and White (Penn State) third, and Blue and White (Pitt) fourth.

The Rev. W. L. Harris of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Fr. Francis E. Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction.

OSU President Favors Playoffs In Football

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association might do well to hold championship football playoffs the same as it does to decide national titlists in basketball and baseball, suggests President Novice G Fawcett of Ohio State University.

Fawcett, remarking that football and all sports are very much a part of university life, said the playoffs could come on two Saturdays immediately following the regular season. In an interview with a Columbus Dispatch newsman, he indicated that such a plan, under NCAA direction, would be better than the present system of bowl games several weeks after the regular season.

The fact that bowl games extend the season so long for schools involved and coincide closely with change of terms, especially at schools such as OSU on the quarter system, is one reason Ohio State's faculty council is on record as opposing a renewal of the Big Ten contract to send a conference team to the Rose Bowl each year.

U.S. Aims Legal Guns At Fraud On Shelters

Bridesmaid, Yes, But Never The Bride For Y. A. Tittle

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After 13 years of frustration, Y. A. Tittle views with caution any talk about "big money" and a possible pro football championship for the New York Giants.

"It's a long way off yet," said the 35-year-old quarterback today. "We'd be foolish to get too excited and look ahead to that instead of looking ahead to next Sunday's game. That Pittsburgh club can be just as tough as Philadelphia."

Tittle long has been one of the greatest passers in the National Football League. In 13 years as a pro—most with the San Francisco 49ers—he came close but never hit the jackpot with a championship team. He was traded to the Gianst last August when Red Hickey, 49ers coach, decided to go all the way with his "shotgun" offense and had no use for a quarterback who couldn't run.

"We came close in '57," said Tittle whose teammates call him "Yat," an abbreviation of his given name of Yelverton Abraham Tittle. "We wound up in a tie with Detroit in the Western Conference. We led 24-7 at the half but they beat us. Then they went on to win the league championship.

"Last year we were close again, but Green Bay beat us. In '59 we were two games ahead at the mid point, but we finally lost it to Baltimore."

The road ahead for the Giants is rugged. Pittsburgh this week. Then Cleveland, Green Bay, Philadelphia and Cleveland again with three of the last four on the road.

The Steelers come to Yankee Stadium Sunday on a three-game winning streak. They have won four of their last five under Rudy Bukich, stand-in for Bobby Layne who now is ready to return to action.

Actress Mary Scott Divorces Hardwicke

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Mary Scott, 39, won a divorce from actor Sir Cedric Hardwicke, 69, Tuesday, after testifying that he "didn't value the institution of marriage very highly."

Lady Hardwicke contended that her husband insisted she and their son, Michael live economically when his career was at a low ebb. But, she added, while the family stayed home, Sir Cedric patronized expensive Hollywood restaurants.

2 Escapees Captured

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Two youths, age 14 and 17, were captured Tuesday at Lexington, Ky., after escaping from jail here Sunday. Sheriff Clyde Dericks said the two reportedly stole a pickup truck and two automobiles in the escape try.

Tryouts For Little Potter Teams To Open Next Week

The Little Potters League will sponsor three basketball loops this season for youngsters of grade school age. They will be divided up into a sixth, seventh and eighth grade leagues.

All boys who played last year in the Little Potters League and any new youngsters who wish to tryout are welcomed.

The seventh grade tryouts for boys 13-14 years of age will be held Monday from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Broadway gym. Players in all leagues will be notified at school or by their coaches as to what they should report.

The sixth grade league for 11-13 year olds will practice on Tuesday at the Broadway gym and the eighth grade league on Wednesday. Ages in the eighth grade league are 14-15.

There will be eight teams in the sixth and seventh grade leagues and four squads in the eighth grade loop. The eighth grade league will be made up of one team from each of the four wards in the city.

You've never seen anything like it, because there's never been anything like it . . . until today. On the outside the new Ford Fairlane 500 measures a quick 197 inches from stem to stern. A foot shorter than the cars from which it borrowed its name, it calls the snuggest parking places home. At the same time, on the inside the new Fairlane 500 is as big as some of the biggest Fords ever built. You get big-car leg and head room.

The new Fairlane 500 is priced way under previous Fairlanes, well under many compacts. But Fairlane economy doesn't stop with a pretty price tag. It runs to amazing gas savings—with either the world's first economy V-8 or the nickel-nursing Fairlane Six. Routine service is reduced to a minimum—30,000 miles on many items, only twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. See and drive America's newest cars—the Fairlane and Fairlane 500.

Alliance Shows Speed, Potters Have Injuries

Led by fleet back Charlie Hill, Alliance has won eight games and lost only to Niles, 30-6, and Massillon, 26-0.

Hedmond compared Alliance's speed with that displayed last week by Cleveland Glenville, which dumped the Potters, 32-14.

A wave of injuries that started with the Niles opener has continued, and manpower has dwindled to 33, Hedmond added. He screened movies of last week's game.

Twenty - five attended, and Russell E. Hall, president, conducted business. Ed Sisley was named chairman of a special project, with full details to be announced later.

Merrill Hall of ELHS distributed tickets for the Alliance game, and reported on a meeting of a state athletic board in Columbus. Next meeting will be Tuesday night.

Auto Caravan, Sendoff Slated For Potters

An "auto caravan" is also planned by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club for the Alliance trip. Fans are to assemble at the Westgate parking lot, and the cars will leave no later than 5:30. Blue and White crepe paper will be available for decorating the cars.

A send-off for the Potters is scheduled on the Diamond at 5 with the players' bus to be escorted to the city limits by fans. The kickoff at Alliance is set for 8 p. m.

Midland Hot Stove Gridders Honored

About 80 boys of the Midland Hot Stove Football League, A. L. Sonnhalter Chapter, attended a banquet in their honor Tuesday evening in the Steelworkers Hall.

Trophies were donated by Emil Onuska of the Midland Distributing Co. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, 109 Hillcrest, and Tavares is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tavares, 24 Midcrest.

Danny Tepovich and Chris Tozana are captains of the Blue and Gold. Other teams include Green and White (Notre Dame) second place; Red and White (Penn State) third, and Blue and White (Pitt) fourth.

The Rev. W. L. Harris of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Fr. Francis E. Paul of the Presentation Catholic Church gave the invocation and benediction.

OSU President Favors Playoffs In Football

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association might do well to hold championship football playoffs the same as it does to decide national titlists in basketball and baseball, suggests President Novice G Fawcett of Ohio State University.

Fawcett, remarking that football and all sports are very much a part of university life, said the playoffs could come on two Saturdays immediately following the regular season. In an interview with a Columbus Dispatch newsman, he indicated that such a plan, under NCAA direction, would be better than the present system of bowl games several weeks after the regular season.

The fact that bowl games extend the season so long for schools involved and coincide closely wiht change of terms, especially at schools such as OSU on the quarter system, is one reason Ohio State's faculty council is on record as opposing a renewal of the Big Ten contract to send a conference team to the Rose Bowl each year.

U.S. Aims Legal Guns At Fraud On Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has asked state attorneys general to help keep fraudulent operators out of the business of selling and building fallout shelters.

Nathaniel E. Kossack, chief of the department's fraud section, said Tuesday U.S. attorneys have been alerted to vigorously push all legal actions against fraudulent contractors in the business.

Singer's Aide Bares Theft Of Clothing

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Singer Johnny Mathis' agent reported that clothing, including band uniforms, was stolen from a tour bus Tuesday night while Mathis was appearing at the Utica Municipal Auditorium.

Bridesmaid, Yes, But Never The Bride For Y. A. Tittle

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — After 13 years of frustration, Y. A. Tittle views with caution any talk about "big money" and a possible pro football championship for the New York Giants.

Since the mating season for deer has begun, the animals might show up most any place.

As a result of this stimulated activity more are being killed on main and secondary roads, with Mahoning County leading the highway kill with 39 deer this year.

Only one deer has been killed in Columbiana County in recent weeks. It was taken to the County Jail, where the "boarders" are "eating high on the hog".

This deer, a large buck, was killed south of Lisbon on Route 164 when truck blasted it into oblivion after it leaped directly into its path.

HUNTING SEASON will be in full swing before this appears in print. So many people say to me, "Your busy season has begun."

Actually, I wish there was such a thing as a lax period. Law enforcement is only part of the job. Our work is cut out for weeks ahead, with a deadline, in most instances, for things to be accomplished.

This year, as in the past, field men will be gathering rabbit eyeballs. I will have my little bottle of fluid at hand and remove one eyeball from each rabbit. The reason — game technician's can tell the age of a rabbit by the weight of the eyeball.

After the eyeballs are weighed and aged, the technicians know if the rabbit harvest consists of more young than old, or whatever the results might be. For instance, if more adult rabbits were taken than juveniles, it would indicate that the year's reproduction was down and the brood stock was being taken mainly. Watching the trends of wildlife has a lot to do with extending or shortening the number of hunting days, plus bag limits.

If the hunting days can be extended, like grouse for instance, the Wildlife Council knows that the longer season on grouse makes no difference on the annual take by hunters. So why not extend the season? When game populations go down, the season must be shortened or eliminated to prevent overshooting.

Tennessee Back Honored For Play In Tech Game

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mallon Faircloth, Tennessee's talented tailback, used his head as well as his hands and feet in leading the Vols to a 10-6 upset victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

The triumph spoiled Tech Coach Bobby Dodd's 53rd birthday, knocked the Yellow Jackets out of The Associated Press' top 10 rankings, tarnished Tech's hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, and earned for Faircloth selection as AP Back of the Week.

"I noticed that Tech's deep defensive men were favoring the outside on pass plays," Faircloth said. "I told Coach (Bowden) Wyatt about it on the bench and said I thought Stratton, who's good at faking, could fake the Tech sideback and grab a pass if we got the ball in scoring position.

"When we got down on Tech's 22, I called time out. Coach Wyatt sent in Mike and the play worked beautifully."

Packers Working Deal For Kicker

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung, most prolific scorer in National Football League history, is back in the Army and his recall may not only weaken the Green Bay Packers but force them into an unofficial deal with the rival American League.

That stormy development became a possibility Tuesday when reports from widely separated sections of the country revealed:

1. Hornung, the Packers' triple-threat halfback who holds the NFL's scoring record and is the leading point-maker this season, will not be issued weekend passes from Fort Riley, Kan., and will be unavailable for Green Bay's stretch drive toward a second straight Western Conference title.

2. The Packers, decimated by Army call-ups and a key injury to their lone remaining kicker are trying to swing what amounts to a deal for bootin' Ben Agajanian, now the property of the Dallas Texans of the AFL.

3. Agajanian, 41, a veteran of the NFL, AFL and long-defunct All-America Conference, admitted he had worked out with the Packers in Green Bay last week and planned to do so again Thursday, with the full consent of the Texans.

4. It was learned that only the refusal of rookie quarterback Val Keckin, a member of the Packers' taxi squad, to join the Texans has held up the transaction.

(Actually, deals between the rival leagues are not permitted. However, one league may sign a player after he has been waived out of the other league.

Star Takes Over For Auerbach

Cousy Coaches Celtics Win

By The Associated Press

They've been saying for years it's just like having a second coach the way Bob Cousy plays for the Boston Celtics. Cooz showed why again Tuesday night.

With Boston Coach Red Auerbach sitting out the first of a three-game suspension for tussles with National Basketball Association referees, the veteran backcourt star took over and led the once-beaten Celts to their seventh victory—119-117 over the stumbling St. Louis Hawks.

Cousy made two key moves.

The first was to play Bill Russell all the way without a rest. Russell responded with 35 points, his usual bundle of rebounds, and a defensive show that limited Clyde Lovellette, a 23-point a game scorer, to just two points.

The second was to give Cousy a rest for the entire second period. Cooz came back freshened after the intermission and tossed in two timely baskets in the fourth period.

The Celts stretched their Eastern Division lead to 2½ games over Philadelphia, which lost to New York's hustling Knicks 124-122 in the windup of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden—the only other action in the league. In the Garden opener, Cincinnati rushed to its sixth straight victory and eighth in 12 games — 119-115 over Syracuse. The Royals trail Western Division leader Los Angeles by two games but hold second place now by 3½ games over St. Louis.

IT'S A FACT

By R. L. LIDE

Since the mating season for deer has begun, the animals might show up most any place.

As a result of this stimulated activity more are being killed on main and secondary roads, with Mahoning County leading the highway kill with 39 deer this year.

Only one deer has been killed in Columbiana County in recent weeks. It was taken to the County Jail, where the "boarders" are "eating high on the hog".

This deer, a large buck, was killed south of Lisbon on Route 164 when truck blasted it into oblivion after it leaped directly into its path.

It provided 75 pounds of deerburger alone, not including some choice steaks and good pot stewing meat.

HUNTING SEASON will be in full swing before this appears in print. So many people say to me, "Your busy season has begun."

Actually, I wish there was such a thing as a lax period. Law enforcement is only part of the job. Our work is cut out for weeks ahead, with a deadline, in most instances, for things to be accomplished.

This year, as in the past, field men will be gathering rabbit eyeballs. I will have my little bottle of fluid at hand and remove one eyeball from each rabbit. The reason — game technician's can tell the age of a rabbit by the weight of the eyeball.

After the eyeballs are weighed and aged, the technicians know if the rabbit harvest consists of more young than old, or whatever the results might be. For instance, if more adult rabbits were taken than juveniles, it would indicate that the year's reproduction was down and the brood stock was being taken mainly. Watching the trends of wildlife has a lot to do with extending or shortening the number of hunting days, plus bag limits.

If the hunting days can be extended, like grouse for instance, the Wildlife Council knows that the longer season on grouse makes no difference on the annual take by hunters. So why not extend the season? When game populations go down, the season must be shortened or eliminated to prevent overshooting.

Tennessee Back Honored For Play In Tech Game

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mallon Faircloth, Tennessee's talented tailback, used his head as well as his hands and feet in leading the Vols to a 10-6 upset victory over Georgia Tech last Saturday.

The triumph spoiled Tech Coach Bobby Dodd's 53rd birthday, knocked the Yellow Jackets out of The Associated Press' top 10 rankings, tarnished Tech's hopes for an Orange Bowl bid, and earned for Faircloth selection as AP Back of the Week.

The payoff play in a fine defensive battle was Faircloth's 22-yard touchdown pass to end Mike Stratton in the fourth period.

"I noticed that Tech's deep defensive men were favoring the outside on pass plays," Faircloth said. "I told Coach (Bowden) Wyatt about it on the bench and said I thought Stratton, who's good at faking, could fake the Tech sideback and grab a pass if we got the ball in scoring position.

"When we got down on Tech's 22, I called time out. Coach Wyatt sent in Mike and the play worked beautifully."

Packers Working Deal For Kicker

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Paul Hornung, most prolific scorer in National Football League history, is back in the Army and his recall may not only weaken the Green Bay Packers but force them into an unofficial deal with the rival American League.

That stormy development became a possibility Tuesday when reports from widely separated sections of the country revealed:

1. Hornung, the Packers' triple-threat halfback who holds the NFL's scoring record and is the leading point-maker this season, will not be issued weekend passes from Fort Riley, Kan., and will be unavailable for Green Bay's stretch drive toward a second straight Western Conference title.

2. The Packers, decimated by Army call-ups and a key injury to their lone remaining kicker are trying to swing what amounts to a deal for bootin' Ben Agajanian, now the property of the Dallas Texans of the AFL.

3. Agajanian, 41, a veteran of the NFL, AFL and long-defunct All-America Conference, admitted he had worked out with the Packers in Green Bay last week and planned to do so again Thursday, with the full consent of the Texans.

4. It was learned that only the refusal of rookie quarterback Val Keckin, a member of the Packers' taxi squad, to join the Texans has held up the transaction.

(Actually, deals between the rival leagues are not permitted. However, one league may sign a player after he has been waived out of the other league.

Star Takes Over For Auerbach

Cousy Coaches Celtics Win

By The Associated Press

They've been saying for years it's just like having a second coach the way Bob Cousy plays for the Boston Celtics. Cooz showed why again Tuesday night.

With Boston Coach Red Auerbach sitting out the first of a three-game suspension for tussles with National Basketball Association referees, the veteran backcourt star took over and led the once-beaten Celts to their seventh victory—119-117 over the stumbling St. Louis Hawks.

Cousy made two key moves.

The first was to play Bill Russell all the way without a rest. Russell responded with 35 points, his usual bundle of rebounds, and a defensive show that limited Clyde Lovellette, a 23-point a game scorer, to just two points.

The second was to give Cousy a rest for the entire second period. Cooz came back freshened after the intermission and tossed in two timely baskets in the fourth period.

The Celts stretched their Eastern Division lead to 2½ games over Philadelphia, which lost to New York's hustling Knicks 124-122 in the windup of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden—the only other action in the league. In the Garden opener, Cincinnati rushed to its sixth straight victory and eighth in 12 games — 119-115 over Syracuse. The Royals trail Western Division leader Los Angeles by two games but hold second place now by 3½ games over St. Louis.

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

Nina's In The Right Place At Wrong Time

TV fans think they have it tough when two good shows are spotted against each other by the networks, but how do you think the actors feel?

Hal Humphrey

"I'm beginning to believe that Julie Harris is out to get me," says Nina Foch. "It seems every time I'm on TV they've got Julie opposite me in some glorious special."

Last month Nina played a wealthy seductress out to capture Rod Taylor in a "Bus Stop" segment. Only her stanchest friends and fans saw this performance, however, because in most time zones that night Julie Harris and Sir Laurence Olivier were acting up a storm in "The Power and the Glory" while Nina was making eyes at Rod.

"JULIE'S PART didn't even come on the air until my segment of 'Bus Stop' came up, if you can imagine it. And last season I was playing a Southern belle in 'The Americans,' and who do you suppose was starring in 'The Heiress' at the same time on another network? Julie Harris, that's who.

"Now I hear that Julie is going to do 'Victoria Regina' on TV. Well, if I happen to be on at the same time, there's going to be an open vendetta. A hostile woman will be knocking on Julie's door—me! And that's a warning," Nina announces, with feigned grimness.

Nina is to be guest star Friday in a "Route 66" drama on CBS-TV (8:30 p.m., Channel 8). As far as she can determine, her only competition is "The Flintstones" and Robert Taylor's "Detectives."

"I'M TOLD that NBC is doing a special about Vincent Van Gogh," says Nina, "and it may conflict in some Midwest cities, but the kind of people who enjoy me probably already have seen Van Gogh's paintings and know about the man, so I'm not worried.

"That sounds immodest, doesn't it? Well, I don't believe in modesty. That's for children."

Nina agrees with me that the creative people in TV — the actors, directors, producers — should gang up on the networks through their guilds to eliminate the even more silly business of putting two and sometimes three "special" shows on at the same hour.

As any TV viewer knows, the special occasions on TV are too rare to waste by letting the networks use them to bomb each other out of the rating race on a given night.

UNLESS you have a bet on to watch "The Flintstones" every week, try Nina's "Route 66" story Friday. I haven't seen it, but Nina usually brings something special to any role she plans.

"This time I'm a catatonic schizophrenic who has just been released from a mental institution," says Nina. "The plot revolves around whether or not I'm going to be able to make the transition back to so-called normal living. I won't tell you if I make it. That would spoil it," says Nina.

Don't bet that Nina won't make it. The last unhappy ending I recall seeing on TV was Jack Paar's bidding us all goodby because NBC wouldn't let him tell a joke about a watercloset, and even that one didn't hold up.

NINA LONG AGO gave up expecting she ever would get to play a wholesome woman on TV. Since her days as the first contract player to go on TV in 1947, she has been every kind of bad woman the TV Code will allow in nearly 600 TV parts.

"Women get rough parts in TV because of male writers working off their hostility toward us," says Nina, as if she were surprised that everyone hadn't realized this obvious fact.

Although Nina has worked more consistently and made more money than most actors, she strives for and dreams of hitting still - unscaled heights as an actress.

"I've always had to work harder than others. It's as if I were born to be tried. I can't believe I'm going through all of this just for nothing."

"Going through all of what?" I ask.

"Playing opposite Julie Harris on TV all my life — what else?"

Deficit Spending Seen In Contrast To Farmer Plight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Congress' deficit spending is in sharp contrast to the way farmers must manage their businesses, Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, told the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday.

In listing the "bad habits" of the Congress, Mosher said omnibus bills are "a catch-all and you have to vote yes or no on a great mixture, determining whether the good outweighs the bad." He also said that many extremely important decisions are voted on without a roll call.

Man Killed By Car

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John F. Fischer, about 75, stepped into a street on the near eastside Tuesday night and was struck and killed by a car, police said.

FBI Charges Youth, 17, In Bank Holdup

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Fast-working FBI agents have arrested a 17 - year - old Troy youth and charged him with the $34,656 holdup of a branch bank in Springfield.

The youth, Paul Joseph Ingels, was arraigned here late Tuesday night before federal commissioner Robert Snell and is being held in the Montgomery County jail under $10,000 bond.

Agents said they recovered a shopping bag filled with money. However, they did not disclose the amount.

Ingels was apprehended about 9 p.m. Tuesday night at a Troy grocery where he worked. It was about nine hours after a smooth working gunman cleaned out four tellers' cash drawers at the Park Shopping Center branch of the Lagonda National Bank in Springfield.

Although the FBI did not say what led them to Ingels, it was reported that the youth admitted the robbery when agents went to question him after Troy police said he had a lengthy juvenile delinquency record and somewhat fit the description of the robber.

Troy police said the high school student was to have appeared in Troy Municipal Court today to face a traffic violation charge. They also said he had been arrested for breaking and entering earlier in the year but was released on probation.

Agents said they believe the theft was a one-man operation.

Shortly before noon Tuesday a man, who at that time was guessed to be between 18 and 25 years old, entered the branch and quietly ordered a teller to fill a shopping bag with the cash at her window.

He calmly herded the manager, four tellers and four customers into the vault after ordering a teller to move down the row of windows, cleaning out all the cash at each.

Witnesses said the robber continually waved a black revolver but never seemed excited or nervous.

After the shopping bag was filled the gunman fled.

Extradition Hearing Continued For Man

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An extradition hearing for a man indicted in a $41,000 Ohio holdup has been continued in Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

Raucci is accused of taking part in a holdup on July 17, 1959, at the McKinley Federal Savings & Loan Association in Niles (Trumbull County). The defense contends he was in Pennsylvania on the date of the robbery and that it is a case of mistaken identity.

Raucci was arrested early last month by FBI agents in suburban Wilkinsburg where he had been living for a few months. He has pleaded innocent to the robbery charge.

Car Mishap Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Willie O. Armstrong, 72, of Beachwood was injured fatally when his car hit a tree on South Green Road in Beachwood late Tuesday.

All Problems To Be Studied

Transportation Industry Looks To Kennedy Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The entire transportation industry is "looking forward hopefully to President Kennedy's promised national transportation policy," says Interstate Commerce Commissioner John W. Bush.

Bush, an Ohioan from Portsmouth who joined the Kennedy administration last April, said the President's program will consider the problems of all modes of transportation — rail, air, water and highway.

The over-all policy, which Kennedy is expected to present to Congress next year, will aim at solving some of the current conflicts and meet the varying needs of the different carriers.

Bush, who served 10 years in the Ohio cabinets of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, said he is "just beginning to adjust" to his new job after seven months.

The major differences between it and his last post as Ohio director of commerce is the quasi-judicial nature of the ICC, whereas "all my previous experience was on the administrative side."

Bush, who describes himself as basically an accountant, is one of two non-lawyers on the commission, but has a staff of attorneys to help him prepare such decisions as the recent order implementing desegregation in interstate motor carrier facilities.

Bush, who has business interests in Portsmouth and still considers it his home, was on the verge of quitting government work altogether when the ICC post was offered to him last January.

"They phoned me at home and asked me if I was interested," he said. His nomination to fill a four-year unexpired term was confirmed by the Senate, and he was sworn in April 3.

Moving to Washington posed few personal problems for the 52-year - old widower, who has two grown daughters. He lives with a sister in Portsmouth whenever he returns there.

Transportation, he said, "accounts for one dollar out of every five in the total economy—more than food or clothing—and is vital to the national economy and defense."

Quota Club Hears Senior Girl Discuss Youth Center Plans

Miss Barbara Sneddon, a senior in East Liverpool High School, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday afternoon at Travelers Hotel. Twenty attended.

Miss Phyllis Crook, president, conducted business. Mrs. Ila Shingler read the minutes and Mrs. Irma Garey, the financial report.

Mrs. Jeanette Carpenter, ways and means chairman, announced the group is selling fruit cake and pecans. Miss Gladys DeBolt, chairman of the travelogue series the club sponsored recently, said the report is incomplete.

Mrs. May Hartt suggested a teen-age project, which the group might be interested in but the idea was shelved for the present.

A letter was read from Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs. Named to the federation's standing committees were:

Mrs. Laura Reinacher and Mrs. Margaret Duffy, social; Miss Florence Bishop and Miss Justine Miller, project; Miss Mary White and Mrs. Ellen McLain, shut - ins, and Mrs. Rebecca Turk and Mrs. Marie Hays, town improvement.

An invitation was read from the Regional Planning Commission of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce and the Public Affairs Committee of the Columbiana County Agricultural Council to attend a public meeting Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. at Beaver Local High School. A panel will be moderated by Walter Myers, executive manager of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, concerning problems of the county, city, rural and suburban level.

Next meeting is Nov. 28 at the Ohio office of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Miss Miller, home economist, will present a program on "Sweets And Treats for Christmas." Mrs. Mildred McKim is associate hostess.

Torrential Rains Hit Italy 5th Day In Row

ROME (AP)— Torrential rains lashed Italy again today for the fifth day in a row, and wide areas around Rome were flooded. Since Saturday at least six persons have died in the winter rain, wind and snow.

Both the Tiber River flowing through Rome and the mighty Po in northern Italy were close to overflowing their banks.

Construction Strike Ends After 37 Days

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg met with Ironworkers Local 17 and representatives of the building contracting industry Tuesday and an agreement was reached that ended a 37-day strike lockout affecting 2,000 craftsmen in a 10-county area.

The dispute had halted more than 100 building and bridge projects in Northeastern Ohio.

Goldberg is here in connection with the two - day White House Regional Conference.

The Ironworkers negotiators agreed to drop their demand for a full day's pay for stewards if bad weather intervenes and instead take:

—Five dollars a day extra for all 600 Ironworkers if they showed up on the job and were sent home because of bad weather.

—Pay in cash and on pay day as before. The contractors groups had wanted to pay by checks, in which case the Ironworkers wanted paid time off to cash checks.

The contractors, however, will not have to pay the $5 if they notify the Ironworkers the day before at quitting time that the U.S. Weather Bureau says rain will fall. The Ironworkers would be told not to report.

Involved in the settlement were the Ironworkers and members of the Building Trades Employers Association, the Associated General Contractors and the Steel and Iron Contractors Association.

The dispute began Oct. 9 as a strike against four steel fabricating concerns, and then spread to other projects when the building groups said a strike against one was a strike against all and closed their jobs.

Willowick Mayor Asks Protection At Rail Crossing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Willowick Mayor Carl T. Hall has asked the Public Utilities Commission to require that a flagman or other temporary protection be posted at what he considers a hazardous unprotected railroad crossing.

The city, in Lake County, has blocked the road at the crossing. It is near the end of an access strip to connect U.S. 20 and U.S. Truck Rt. 2 and to provide an interchange with the Lakeland Expressway opening Dec. 1.

The highway department says the barricade must come down Dec. 1 but Hall has shown no inclination toward removing it unless at least a temporary safety measure is provided.

Two sets of New York Central tracks and one set belonging to the Nickel Plate Road cross the highway. The railroads say it is not their fault the new road was built there, and they therefore shouldn't have to pay any of the costs for a safety device, temporary or permanent.

It is the first case the utilities commission has had to decide under the new state law requiring that it determine how the costs should be apportioned between the community and railroads.

Asks To Drop Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trans World Airlines has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to drop one of its two daily round-trip flights between Baltimore and Columbus, Ohio and between Baltimore and Dayton, Ohio. TWA said the services have averaged less than four passengers a flight for the past nine months.

In 2 Accidents, She Lost, Regained Voice

Out Of The Air

HAL HUMPHREY

Nina's In The Right Place At Wrong Time

TV fans think they have it tough when two good shows are spotted against each other by the networks, but how do you think the actors feel?

Hal Humphrey

"I'm beginning to believe that Julie Harris is out to get me," says Nina Foch. "It seems every time I'm on TV they've got Julie opposite me in some glorious special."

Last month Nina played a wealthy seductress out to capture Rod Taylor in a "Bus Stop" segment. Only her stanchest friends and fans saw this performance, however, because in most time zones that night Julie Harris and Sir Laurence Olivier were acting up a storm in "The Power and the Glory" while Nina was making eyes at Rod.

"JULIE'S PART didn't even come on the air until my segment of 'Bus Stop' came up, if you can imagine it. And last season I was playing a Southern belle in 'The Americans,' and who do you suppose was starring in 'The Heiress' at the same time on another network? Julie Harris, that's who.

"Now I hear that Julie is going to do 'Victoria Regina' on TV. Well, if I happen to be on at the same time, there's going to be an open vendetta. A hostile woman will be knocking on Julie's door—me! And that's a warning," Nina announces, with feigned grimness.

Nina is to be guest star Friday in a "Route 66" drama on CBS-TV (8:30 p.m., Channel 8). As far as she can determine, her only competition is "The Flintstones" and Robert Taylor's "Detectives."

"I'M TOLD that NBC is doing a special about Vincent Van Gogh," says Nina, "and it may conflict in some Midwest cities, but the kind of people who enjoy me probably already have seen Van Gogh's paintings and know about the man, so I'm not worried.

"That sounds immodest, doesn't it? Well, I don't believe in modesty. That's for children."

Nina agrees with me that the creative people in TV — the actors, directors, producers — should gang up on the networks through their guilds to eliminate the even more silly business of putting two and sometimes three "special" shows on at the same hour.

As any TV viewer knows, the special occasions on TV are too rare to waste by letting the networks use them to bomb each other out of the rating race on a given night.

UNLESS you have a bet on to watch "The Flintstones" every week, try Nina's "Route 66" story Friday. I haven't seen it, but Nina usually brings something special to any role she plans.

"This time I'm a catatonic schizophrenic who has just been released from a mental institution," says Nina. "The plot revolves around whether or not I'm going to be able to make the transition back to so-called normal living. I won't tell you if I make it. That would spoil it," says Nina.

Don't bet that Nina won't make it. The last unhappy ending I recall seeing on TV was Jack Paar's bidding us all goodby because NBC wouldn't let him tell a joke about a watercloset, and even that one didn't hold up.

NINA LONG AGO gave up expecting she ever would get to play a wholesome woman on TV. Since her days as the first contract player to go on TV in 1947, she has been every kind of bad woman the TV Code will allow in nearly 600 TV parts.

"Women get rough parts in TV because of male writers working off their hostility toward us," says Nina, as if she were surprised that everyone hadn't realized this obvious fact.

Although Nina has worked more consistently and made more money than most actors, she strives for and dreams of hitting still - unscaled heights as an actress.

"I've always had to work harder than others. It's as if I were born to be tried. I can't believe I'm going through all of this just for nothing."

"Going through all of what?" I ask.

Deficit Spending Seen In Contrast To Farmer Plight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Congress' deficit spending is in sharp contrast to the way farmers must manage their businesses, Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, told the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Tuesday.

In listing the "bad habits" of the Congress, Mosher said omnibus bills are "a catch-all and you have to vote yes or no on a great mixture, determining whether the good outweighs the bad." He also said that many extremely important decisions are voted on without a roll call.

Man Killed By Car

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John F. Fischer, about 75, stepped into a street on the near eastside Tuesday night and was struck and killed by a car, police said.

FBI Charges Youth, 17, In Bank Holdup

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Fast-working FBI agents have arrested a 17 - year - old Troy youth and charged him with the $34,656 holdup of a branch bank in Springfield.

The youth, Paul Joseph Ingels, was arraigned here late Tuesday night before federal commissioner Robert Snell and is being held in the Montgomery County jail under $10,000 bond.

Agents said they recovered a shopping bag filled with money. However, they did not disclose the amount.

Ingels was apprehended about 9 p.m. Tuesday night at a Troy grocery where he worked. It was about nine hours after a smooth working gunman cleaned out four tellers' cash drawers at the Park Shopping Center branch of the Lagonda National Bank in Springfield.

Although the FBI did not say what led them to Ingels, it was reported that the youth admitted the robbery when agents went to question him after Troy police said he had a lengthy juvenile delinquency record and somewhat fit the description of the robber.

Troy police said the high school student was to have appeared in Troy Municipal Court today to face a traffic violation charge. They also said he had been arrested for breaking and entering earlier in the year but was released on probation.

Agents said they believe the theft was a one-man operation.

Shortly before noon Tuesday a man, who at that time was guessed to be between 18 and 25 years old, entered the branch and quietly ordered a teller to fill a shopping bag with the cash at her window.

He calmly herded the manager, four tellers and four customers into the vault after ordering a teller to move down the row of windows, cleaning out all the cash at each.

Witnesses said the robber continually waved a black revolver but never seemed excited or nervous.

After the shopping bag was filled the gunman fled.

Extradition Hearing Continued For Man

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An extradition hearing for a man indicted in a $41,000 Ohio holdup has been continued in Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

Raucci is accused of taking part in a holdup on July 17, 1959, at the McKinley Federal Savings & Loan Association in Niles (Trumbull County). The defense contends he was in Pennsylvania on the date of the robbery and that it is a case of mistaken identity.

Raucci was arrested early last month by FBI agents in suburban Wilkinsburg where he had been living for a few months. He has pleaded innocent to the robbery charge.

All Problems To Be Studied

Transportation Industry Looks To Kennedy Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The entire transportation industry is "looking forward hopefully to President Kennedy's promised national transportation policy," says Interstate Commerce Commissioner John W. Bush.

Bush, an Ohioan from Portsmouth who joined the Kennedy administration last April, said the President's program will consider the problems of all modes of transportation — rail, air, water and highway.

The over-all policy, which Kennedy is expected to present to Congress next year, will aim at solving some of the current conflicts and meet the varying needs of the different carriers.

"What's good for one is not necessarily good for another," Bush said.

Bush, who served 10 years in the Ohio cabinets of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, said he is "just beginning to adjust" to his new job after seven months.

The major differences between it and his last post as Ohio director of commerce is the quasi-judicial nature of the ICC, whereas "all my previous experience was on the administrative side."

Bush, who describes himself as basically an accountant, is one of two non-lawyers on the commission, but has a staff of attorneys to help him prepare such decisions as the recent order implementing desegregation in interstate motor carrier facilities.

Bush, who has business interests in Portsmouth and still considers it his home, was on the verge of quitting government work altogether when the ICC post was offered to him last January.

"They phoned me at home and asked me if I was interested," he said. His nomination to fill a four-year unexpired term was confirmed by the Senate, and he was sworn in April 3.

Moving to Washington posed few personal problems for the 52-year - old widower, who has two grown daughters. He lives with a sister in Portsmouth whenever he returns there.

Transportation, he said, "accounts for one dollar out of every five in the total economy—more than food or clothing—and is vital to the national economy and defense."

Quota Club Hears Senior Girl Discuss Youth Center Plans

Miss Barbara Sneddon, a senior in East Liverpool High School, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday afternoon at Travelers Hotel. Twenty attended.

A member of the Speech - Arts Class, she spoke on civic projects and the proposed youth center.

Miss Phyllis Crook, president, conducted business. Mrs. Ila Shingler read the minutes and Mrs. Irma Garey, the financial report.

Mrs. Jeanette Carpenter, ways and means chairman, announced the group is selling fruit cake and pecans. Miss Gladys DeBolt, chairman of the travelogue series the club sponsored recently, said the report is incomplete.

Mrs. May Hartt suggested a teen-age project, which the group might be interested in but the idea was shelved for the present.

A letter was read from Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs. Named to the federation's standing committees were:

Mrs. Laura Reinacher and Mrs. Margaret Duffy, social; Miss Florence Bishop and Miss Justine Miller, project; Miss Mary White and Mrs. Ellen McLain, shut - ins, and Mrs. Rebecca Turk and Mrs. Marie Hays, town improvement.

An invitation was read from the Regional Planning Commission of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce and the Public Affairs Committee of the Columbiana County Agricultural Council to attend a public meeting Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. at Beaver Local High School. A panel will be moderated by Walter Myers, executive manager of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council, concerning problems of the county, city, rural and suburban level.

Next meeting is Nov. 28 at the Ohio office of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. Miss Miller, home economist, will present a program on "Sweets And Treats for Christmas." Mrs. Mildred McKim is associate hostess.

Torrential Rains Hit Italy 5th Day In Row

ROME (AP)— Torrential rains lashed Italy again today for the fifth day in a row, and wide areas around Rome were flooded. Since Saturday at least six persons have died in the winter rain, wind and snow.

Both the Tiber River flowing through Rome and the mighty Po in northern Italy were close to overflowing their banks.

Construction Strike Ends After 37 Days

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg met with Ironworkers Local 17 and representatives of the building contracting industry Tuesday and an agreement was reached that ended a 37-day strike lockout affecting 2,600 craftsmen in a 10-county area.

The dispute had halted more than 100 building and bridge projects in Northeastern Ohio.

Goldberg is here in connection with the two - day White House Regional Conference.

The Ironworkers negotiators agreed to drop their demand for a full day's pay for stewards if bad weather intervenes and instead take:

—Five dollars a day extra for all 600 Ironworkers if they showed up on the job and were sent home because of bad weather.

—Pay in cash and on pay day as before. The contractors groups had wanted to pay by checks, in which case the Ironworkers wanted paid time off to cash checks.

The contractors, however, will not have to pay the $5 if they notify the Ironworkers the day before at quitting time that the U.S. Weather Bureau says rain will fall. The Ironworkers would be told not to report.

Involved in the settlement were the Ironworkers and members of the Building Trades Employers Association, the Associated General Contractors and the Steel and Iron Contractors Association.

The dispute began Oct. 9 as a strike against four steel fabricating concerns, and then spread to other projects when the building groups said a strike against one was a strike against all and closed their jobs.

Willowick Mayor Asks Protection At Rail Crossing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Willowick Mayor Carl T. Hall has asked the Public Utilities Commission to require that a flagman or other temporary protection be posted at what he considers a hazardous unprotected railroad crossing.

The city, in Lake County, has blocked the road at the crossing. It is near the end of an access strip to connect U.S. 20 and U.S. Truck Rt. 2 and to provide an interchange with the Lakeland Expressway opening Dec. 1.

The highway department says the barricade must come down Dec. 1 but Hall has shown no inclination toward removing it unless at least a temporary safety measure is provided.

Two sets of New York Central tracks and one set belonging to the Nickel Plate Road cross the highway. The railroads say it is not their fault the new road was built there, and they therefore shouldn't have to pay any of the costs for a safety device, temporary or permanent.

It is the first case the utilities commission has had to decide under the new state law requiring that it determine how the costs should be apportioned between the community and railroads.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Neal H. McCall who passed away 1 year ago Nov. 14, 1960.
Friends may think I have forgotten when they hear me laugh and see me smile. Little do they know the heartache I'm hiding all the while. God gave me strength to face it, and courage to face the blow, and what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know. Sadly missed by wife and family.

IN loving memory of R. DEAN BRYAN, who passed away 1 year ago today, Nov. 15, 1960: Our kind and loving father, We think of you today, And recall the happy hours Ere the day you passed away. Never shall your memory fade, And although we miss you so, We are waiting till we, also, Leave this world of strife and woe. WHAT COULD I GIVE TO CLASP HIS HAND, HIS HAPPY VOICE TO SEE, TO HEAR HIS VOICE AND SEE HIS SMILE, THAT MEANT SO MUCH TO ME. Gone, dear father, gone forever; How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember, None on earth can take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness, The world can never fill. The rolling stream of life rolls on But still the vacant chair, Recalls the love, the voice, the smile, Of the one who once sat there. FROM HIS LOVING WIFE, DAUGHTERS, AND GRANDCHILDREN.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Rose Brown, who passed away one year ago today.
How lonely is the old home place Without the smile of Grandmother's face. Her rocking chair cannot be filled But her passing on was God's chosen will. We miss her more as days go by, Our hearts are heavy, our tears we cannot hide. We know her suffering on earth is done. A home on high and a crown she's won. She was a good servant always helping in need. So here on earth she fulfilled her deed. In all her life she tried to do her best, Now within the grave her body rests. But oh, how our hearts ache, our tears we cannot hide, Cause one year ago today our dear Grandmother died. — Sadly missed by Arthur, Zella, Freda and Family.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of our Mother and Grandmother, Rose Brown, who passed away one year ago today.
How lonely is the old home place
Without the smile of Grandmother's face. Her rocking chair cannot be filled But her passing on was God's chosen will. We miss her more as days go by, Our hearts are heavy, our tears we cannot hide. We know her suffering on earth is done. A home on high and a crown she's won. She was a good servant always helping in need, So here on earth she fulfilled her deed. In all her life she tried to do her best, Now within the grave her body rests. But oh, how our hearts ache, our tears we cannot hide, Cause one year ago today our dear Grandmother died. — Sadly missed by Arthur, Zella, Freda and Family.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of Neal H. McCall who passed away 1 year ago Nov. 14, 1960.
Friends may think I have forgotten when they hear me laugh and see me smile. Little do they know the heartache I'm hiding all the while. God gave me strength to face it, and courage to face the blow, and what it meant to lose him, no one will ever know. Sadly missed by wife and family.

IN loving memory of R. DEAN BRYAN, who passed away 1 year ago today, Nov. 15, 1960: Our kind and loving father, We think of you today, And recall the happy hours Ere the day you passed away. Never shall your memory fade, And although we miss you so, We are waiting till we, also, Leave this world of strife and woe. WHAT COULD I GIVE TO CLASP HIS HAND, HIS HAPPY VOICE TO SEE, TO HEAR HIS VOICE AND SEE HIS SMILE, THAT MEANT SO MUCH TO ME. Gone, dear father, gone forever; How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember, None on earth can take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness, The world can never fill. The rolling stream of life rolls on But still the vacant chair, Recalls the love, the voice, the smile, Of the one who once sat there. FROM HIS LOVING WIFE, DAUGHTERS, AND GRANDCHILDREN.

"Mac" has the best Rx for Room-A-Tism

THE BEST REMEDY is the 1500 sq. ft. of living space in this new 3 bedroom home on Croft St. off Westfield Road. The expansive kitchen-dining area with tiled floor provides plenty of elbow room for a family, the large living room has a lovely view from the picture window, and there are excellent hardwood floors throughout. A basement double garage, an attached garage, and a gas furnace make this a truly exceptional home. $15,000.00

JUST WE THREE—wife, husband and baby sitting in a furnished apartment. Does this describe you? If so we have a neat 2 bedroom home on Dewey Ave. Ext. near Dixonville, that is COMPLETELY furnished, including appliances, and TV., with oil furnace, hardwood floors, and modern bath. Five lots included. Widow moving into town. $4,500.00

FOR RENT—heavens no! This 2 bedroom home on Maple Ave., Calcutta, has good plaster, hardwood floors, tiled bath, modern kitchen, basement garage, oil furnace, and a 200x154 lot. A truly delightful home. $12,500.00

Healthy Older People Don't Appear To Lose Intelligence

By The Associated Press

Intelligence, a new technique to avoid scars from burns, and healthy executives figure in the medical news:

Intelligence Endures

When older people stay healthy and vigorous, there does not appear to be any decline in their intelligence with the advancing years, says Dr. Robert W. Kleemeier, Washington University psychologist.

He gave intelligence tests at intervals over a 12-year period to persons aged 65 to 90. He found no evidence for the idea there is a normal and steady intellectual decline with the years. But in those who were soon to die, regardless of age, the tests revealed a sharp drop in performance.

For severe burns, a Belgian plastic surgeon uses a bold new technique which he reports avoids scars and deformities.

Under anesthesia, Dr. Jean Lorthior of Brussels "sandpapers" the burned areas immediately with a high-speed abrasive drill to remove the dead tissue. A month after the scraping, the skin has been restored, and in nearly all cases it eliminates any scarring, says Medical World News.

Popularly, the business executive is thought of as a "harried and hurried man driven inexorably toward an early death."

But this concept is not supported by findings by Robert H. Thorner, M.P.H., and E. L. Crumpacker, M.D., of Washington, D.C.

Stewardship and promotion, the Rev. John Taylor of Steubenville, Joseph Irwin, an elder of the Wellsville Riverside church, and Leslie Rhinehart, an elder of the Carrollton church.

National missions, the Rev. Thomas Clyde of the Calcutta church, and Mrs. John Warren, an elder of the Knoxville church near Toronto.

Ecclesiastical responsibility the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, pastor of the Trinity church of East Liverpool, and Robert Nelson, an elder of the Island Creek church at Toronto.

Christian education, the Rev. Ransom Rice of the Amsterdam church, the Rev. Russell Mase of the Emmanuel church of East Liverpool, the Rev. Gene Phlegar of the Trinity church of Bergholz, the Rev. Robert Achor of the New Harrisburg church, near Carrollton, John Harstine, an elder of the Uhrichsville church, and Dnoald Walters of the Trinity church of East Liverpool.

Investigative and judicial, the Rev. Charles Fulton of the Westminster church in Steubenville, and Raymond Buzzard, an elder of the Grace church of East Liverpool.

Corporation, the Rev. Lyman Lemmon, assistant pastor of the Westminster church of Steubenville, and James Reaney, an elder of the First church in East Liverpool.

Budget and finance, the Rev. James Fyfe Donald of the Glenmoor church and Ray Wick, an elder of the First church of Carrollton.

Elected as trustees to the Beaver Creek Camp were the Rev. Boyd Burd of the Bethesda church of Kensington and Rev. Phlegar.

Elected to the General Council were Dr. A. K. Davison of the First church of East Liverpool, Jack Barrett an elder of the Grace church of East Liverpool and A. L. Purviance an elder of the Jewitt church.

The Presbytery also accepted the resignation of the Rev. E. E. Bacon as pastor of the Oak Ridge church, effective Jan. 1. Rev. Bacon plans to make his home in Salineville after retirement.

Carnegie Library Launches Children's Book Week Events

Children's Book Week is being observed at the Carnegie Public Library with several special events. The annual promotion of the Children's Book Council of New York City focuses on the wealth of new books being published for boys and girls. Its timing is to encourage books as gifts, Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said.

In the lobby of the library and in the Children's Room the exhibits show the attention given to language and science materials.

For the precocious second- and third-grade youngsters, the True Book Library of Science is noteworthy. In the language areas the library has secured the Gateway to Language series records in Spanish, French, German and Russia. For younger children, there are songs in these languages. These may be borrowed for home or classroom use.

Displays throughout the building have a Spanish flavor since a Latin-American teacher will be visiting in the library Saturday. A Bolivian, Senora Chipani de Lopez will be honored guest at a "Pinata Party" in the Boys and Girls Room. Students from the high school Spanish classes will present a skit. Youngsters from any school in the district are invited.

Technical assistance and display items are being provided by Mrs. Ruth Earl, Mrs. Wilbur Ruthem and Hazel McShane.

Teachers are encouraged to bring classes to the library next week since the displays will continue through the end of the month.

Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian, is visiting in classrooms. Some 593 certificates are being awarded to youngsters who completed 10 or more books during the summer reading season.

Schools will be receiving the following numbers of awards: Calcutta, 9; Beaver Local, 10; Glenmoor, 13; East Junior, 21; Horace Mann, 20; McKinley, 49; St. Aloysius, 62; Garfield, 18; Klondyke, 6; Lincoln, 39; Taft, 31; LaCroft, 15; Pleasant Heights, 15; Neville, 8; Westgate Elementary, 92, and Westgate Junior High, 55. Boys and girls who do not attend any of these listed schools should pick up their awards at the library.

Dear friends,

The art of embalming has reached its highest point in history—far surpassing the famed Egyptian science of preservation. It includes the restoration of life-like appearance and compliance with sanitary and public health requirements.
